XXII.—REPORT OF THE FORTY-SIXTH ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

The forty-sixth Annual General Meeting of Fellows was held at the Whitehall Rooms, Hotel Metropole, on Tuesday, March 17, 1914. Sir Godfrey Lagden, K.C.M.G. (Deputy-Chairman of the Council), presided. Amongst those present were the following:—

The Secretary read the notice convening the meeting.

The Minutes of the last Annual Meeting were read and confirmed.

The Chairman (Sir Godfrey Lagden, K.C.M.G.): The Council propose to send a cablegram to Lord Grey as follows: "The Fellows assembled at the Annual Meeting desire to express best wishes for your recovery and safe return." We should like to feel, as I am sure his Lordship would like to know, that this cablegram is sent at the unanimous desire of the Fellows assembled to-day.

The Meeting signified its assent.

The Annual Report and Statement of Accounts were taken as read:

ANNUAL REPORT.

1. The Council, in presenting their Forty-fifth Annual Report, are glad to acquaint the Fellows that the progress and expansion which characterised the record of last year have been well maintained.

Fellows and Associates.

2. During the year 264 Resident Fellows, 1,510 Non-Resident Fellows, and 546 Associates have been elected, making a total of 2,350, compared with 297 Resident, 1,451 Non-Resident Fellows, and 103 Associates, or a total of 1,851 in 1912. On December 31, 1913, there were 2,138 Resident Fellows, 6,206 Non-Resident Fellows, 730 Associates, and 11 Honorary Fellows, or 9,088 in all, of whom 1,720 have compounded for the annual subscription and qualified as Life Fellows.

For the purpose of making the Institute and its work better known and understood, and of increasing the membership, the Council have, as a tentative measure, appointed Mr. W. H. Garrison, the Official Lecturer, to be a Special Commissioner, to act under direction of a sub-committee.

Honorary Membership.

3. Twenty-seven Rhodes Scholars have been made Honorary Fellows during their residence at Oxford in place of a similar number, whose privileges have expired on completion of their studies at the University.

Honorary Membership of the Institute, during their stay in the United Kingdom, was extended to the members of the Lawn Tennis Teams from Canada and Australia, and the Canadian and Australian Rifle Teams.

Accounts.

4. The annexed Statement of Receipts and Payments, duly certified by the auditors, Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., shows that the finances are in a sound and improving condition. The total receipts for the year amounted to £13,268 12s. 4d., of which £11,723 15s. 6d. consisted of Entrance Fees and Subscriptions of Fellows and Associates, showing an increase under this heading for the year of £1,767 2s. 6d.

The net expenditure for the year, after deducting £28 1s. 8d. cost of new furniture and also £349 15s. receipts from the Annual Dinner and Conversazione, was £12,979 11s. 2d., as compared with £9,981 17s. 8d. for the previous year.

In the last Annual Report the Council announced that the sum of £250 had been set aside during the year 1911 for the purpose of re-establishing a Reserve Fund, and they now have the satisfaction of reporting that at 31st December last that fund amounted to £1,250, the basis of allocation being a proportion of the compounded subscriptions of Life Fellows.
Comparative Statement of Elections and Revenue.

5. The following Table shows the number of Fellows and Associates and the Annual Income in each year since the foundation of the Institute:

Obituary.

6. The Council have to record with great regret the death of 146 Fellows and 4 Associates during the year 1913, including Sir Frederick Young, K.C.M.G.; Lord Strathcona, G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O., a Vice-President; the Right Hon. Sir Walter Hely-
Hutchinson, G.C.M.G., a Member of the Council; Mr. S. Vaughan Morgan, one of the few remaining Founders of the Institute and a Member of the Council from 1895 to 1907; the Right Hon. Alfred Lyttelton, K.C., M.P., a Vice-President; and Hon. Sir Richard Solomon, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., K.C.V.O., High Commissioner for the Union of South Africa. They also deplore the loss of the following Honorary Corresponding Secretaries:—Mr. John Ferguson, C.M.G., Colombo, Ceylon; Mr. Alexander Baynes, Pietermaritzburg, Natal; and Mr. C. P. Beck, Bloemfontein, Orange Free State.

Assessors.—Agnes Lady Brocklebank, E. B. Colhurst, Lady Knightly of Farnley, Her Grace the Duchess of Northumberland.

It is fitting to record, in regard to the loss of Sir Frederick Young, the Council's sense of his unique services to the Institute. As an original Fellow and Founder, he was conspicuous for his intense desire to build up an Institute worthy of the aims which characterise it. Always closely identified with its career, he acted for many years as Honorary Secretary, and up to the end of a great life gave of his best to the Imperial cause which stirred him as one of its earliest votaries.
Election of Vice-Presidents and Councillors.

7. A vacancy on the Council occasioned by the death of the Right Hon. Sir Walter Hely-Hutchinson, G.C.M.G., has been filled, under the provisions of Rule 6, by the ad interim appointment, subject to the confirmation of the Fellows, of Sir Ernest Birch, K.C.M.G.

The following Vice-Presidents have been appointed during the year, under the provisions of Rule 6, and are subject to confirmation by the Fellows:—Sir David Hunter, K.C.M.G., the Right Hon the Earl of Meath, K.P., the Right Hon. Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., G.C.M.G., C.B., Lord de Villiers, K.C.M.G., and Sir Gilbert Parker, M.P.

In the absence of any nominations by the Fellows the Council, in accordance with Rule 65, submit a list of Fellows nominated to fill the vacancies in the offices of Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Councillors.

The following retire, pursuant to Rule 7, and are eligible to be nominated for re-election:—

Honorary Treasurer.—Mr. Robert Littlejohn.

The following Councillors retire, pursuant to Rule 7, and are not eligible for re-election this year:—Mr. J. G. Colmer, C.M.G.; Viscount Hythe; Sir E. Montague Nelson, K.C.M.G.

The following are nominated by the Council to fill the above vacancies:—Mr. Harry Brittain, Lord Chelmsford, G.C.M.G., and Colonel H. E. Rawson, C.B.

Entertainments.

8. The Annual Conversazione was held in the Natural History Museum, by the permission of the Trustees of the British Museum, on June 24, and was attended by a large number of guests from all parts of the British Empire.

The Annual Dinner was held at the Whitehall Rooms, Hôtel Métropole, on Friday, May 23, and was attended by a large and representative company. Cables conveying greetings were read from similar gatherings, arranged alphabetically, held in Bahamas, Barbados, Brisbane, Buenos Ayres, Canterbury (New Zealand), Carnarvon (Cape Province), Ceylon, Durban, Falkland Islands, Guatemala, Melbourne, Pretoria, Seychelles, Sydney, Toronto, and Trinidad. The Council view with much satisfaction the great increase in the number of such gatherings of Fellows on Empire Day, and trusts they may be the means of strengthening the sense of Fellowship amongst British subjects throughout the world. Among the toasts at the dinner in London, that of "The British Dominions and British Communities Overseas" was submitted for the first time, thus showing that it is not only with British subjects within the Empire, but wherever they may be found, that the Royal Colonial Institute is concerned.

A party, mainly composed of Canadian school teachers, known as members of the "Hands across the Seas" Association, were invited to be the guests of the Institute during their visit to London in August last. They inspected the Institute building and the work being carried on there was fully explained.
MEETINGS.

9. The Evening and Afternoon Meetings of the Institute have been largely attended and the following Papers read and discussed and circulated in the monthly journal, United Empire:

"Northern Nigeria as I Saw it." By J. Astley Cooper.
"Some Less-known Islands in the Pacific." By Sir Everard im Thurn, K.C.M.G., C.B.
"Imperial Defence and Closer Union." By Viscount Hythe.
"Land and the Woman in Canada." By Miss Binnie-Clark.
"Agriculture and Land Settlement in South Africa." By Dr. William Macdonald.
"Australia and the Empire." By Hon. W. A. Watt (Premier of Victoria).
"Gold Coast Colony (the Northern Territories)." By Captain C. H. Armitage, C.M.G., D.S.O.
"Northern Rhodesia: Past, Present and Future." By Lt.-Colonel A. St. Hill Gibbons.
"The Awakening of Vancouver Island." By Mrs. Charles Henshaw, F.R.G.S.
"Citizenship in Canada." By C. F. Roland.
"German Colonial Policy." By Professor M. Bonn (of Munich University).
"Zanzibar and its Possibilities." By A. R. Galbraith.

Christmas Lectures for Young People.

"Beautiful British Columbia." By Mrs. Charles Henshaw, F.R.G.S.
"The Romance of India." By W. H. Garrison, F.R.G.S.
"How British Boys and Girls are Helped to Find Canadian Homes." By W. W. Hind-Smith, F.R.G.S.

LIBRARY.

10. The additions to the Library during the year numbered 3,794 books, 2,133 pamphlets, 382 maps, and 257 photographs, making a total of 6,566. These figures do not include the large number of special Parliamentary Reports that are subsequently received in bound form, separate parts of monthly periodicals, or proceedings of societies. It will be seen that they represent an increase of 1,842 items, compared with the number added in 1912. Of these additions 4,714 were presented by their authors, by publishers, by learned societies, by the Imperial, Dominion, Colonial, and Indian Governments, and by private individuals; while 1,852 were added by purchase. On December 31, 1913, the Library contained 95,934 books and pamphlets. The newspapers and magazines received at the Library, the majority of which are presented by their publishers, now number 848, an increase of 141, and during the year 82,360 separate parts were filed. The practice of subsequently sending Colonial newspapers to the British Museum, where they are kept for permanent reference, has been continued. The work of cataloguing the additions to the Library has been specially arduous, and for some time it has been apparent that the rapid increase of books has rendered the task of keeping the catalogue up to date extremely difficult. Steps are now being taken to ensure the cataloguing of all additions to the Library. About 15,000 cards have been written during the year, the number since the commencement of the card-catalogue in April, 1910, being about 59,000. The value of the card-catalogue has now been fully established. It forms an indispensable aid to the staff, as well as being of the greatest service to those who make use of the Library.

The number of Fellows and others using the Library shows a steady increase—a fact gratifying to the Council and to those who have charge of the collections of books. Students of law, economics, ethnology, and administration have found the Library of great service, and its resources have been placed at the disposal of all bona fide inquirers desiring information about the various parts of the British Empire. The special Law Library has been strengthened by the addition of many valuable treatises and law reports, and now forms a most important feature of the Institute. The papers in connection with the cases determined before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council are now regularly received in the Library, through the courtesy of the Clerk of the Council, and form a complete record of appeals during the year. Another section of the Library which is becoming increasingly useful is that which contains the reports issued by the different Overseas municipalities. The special section of the Library dealing with the Colonial period of American history, which was first started during the year 1911, has received some notable donations from the various American historical societies, including sets of proceedings from the Ohio State Historical Society, the Michigan Historical Commission, the New Haven Colony Historical Society, the Wisconsin Historical Society, and the South Dakota Historical Society. These are in addition to the Transactions of the American Historical Association, the New York Historical Society, and Proceedings of other societies which were already being received. There can be no doubt that this section of the Library will prove of the greatest benefit to historical students, who find it difficult to obtain access in London to such publications. The Council are grateful for the support accorded to the Library by the different Overseas Governments, by the American and other foreign Governments, and by various Government departments in this country.

In particular they desire to call attention to the action of the War Office in presenting a series of valuable maps, and to the courtesy of the Admiralty in continuing to supply the official charts. The collection of maps in the Institute is now a large one, and it is hoped that at a not distant date some better provision may be made for their display than at present exists. The Council are also indebted to publishers who have sent books for review in United Empire; to learned societies; to the authorities of museums, to libraries, and similar institutions who have sent their Transactions; to the proprietors of newspapers; and to a large number of private donors.

In August the Council were gratified by the reception of a letter from Mr. C. Delaval Cobham, C.M.G., announcing that he intended to make an immediate donation of his unique collection of books relating to Cyprus to the Library of the Institute. This valuable collection has been placed in a special section of the Library, and is now available for the use of Fellows and others who may be interested in Cyprus. It consists of over 700 books and pamphlets, and includes practically everything of historical interest relating to Cyprus that has been printed. The Council wish to express their thanks to Mr. Cobham for so generously placing his collection in the Library of the Institute, and they trust that his action will encourage others who may possess special collections of books to emulate his example.

BRISTOL BRANCH.

11. Owing to the activity and influence of Mr. T. J. Lennard, ex-Sheriff of Bristol, a Branch of the Institute has been formed in that City. Mr. Lennard presented the freehold of a site in the City, and has also undertaken to bear the expense of erecting a suitable building. In the absence through illness of Earl Grey and Lieut.-General Sir J. Bevan Edwards, Sir Godfrey Lagden represented the Institute at a Banquet given by Mr. Lennard in Bristol, when the gift was dedicated to the Institute, and at the same time the Charter of Constitution was conferred in the form of a framed resolution of the Council. Mr. Lennard's gift was made in support of Earl Grey's hope for a large extension of the membership of the Institute in the United Kingdom, and with the desire that Bristol should be the chief centre of the Institute in the West of England. The Council deeply appreciate the generosity and public spirit of Mr. Lennard, and the services that he and those associated with him have rendered in establishing the pioneer Branch of the Institute in the United Kingdom.

LOCAL COMMITTEES IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

12. A Local Committee of Fellows and Associates has been formed in Bournemouth and neighbourhood. Sir Daniel Morris, K.C.M.G., has accepted the position of Chairman, and the Rev. Dr. Tristram Carlyon that of Honorary Secretary. The Council are hopeful that local activity may be developed by the formation of similar Committees in other parts of the United Kingdom.

BRANCHES AND COMMITTEES OVERSEAS.

13. In October last a Branch of the Institute was established in Christchurch, New Zealand, and was styled "The Canterbury Branch of the Royal Colonial Institute." Its members consist of all the Fellows resident in Canterbury, and the headquarters are in Christchurch. An Executive Committee has been appointed, and a supplementary subscription of 5s. per Fellow was decided upon to defray local expenses.

At a meeting held in Hobart in November last it was resolved that the Fellows of the Institute resident in Tasmania organise themselves into a Tasmanian Branch of the Institute, and that the honorary corresponding secretaries in the other capitals of the Commonwealth be urged to effect similar organisations in their respective States, with a view to the creation of a united Commonwealth section of the Institute.

An influential Committee has also been formed in Buenos Aires (Argentine Republic), where there are already between 200 and 300 Fellows.

A successful Branch with a strong Committee has also been established in Guatemala, Central America, where it is intended by the local Fellows to purchase a small house; to have a quarterly Dinner, with speakers upon Imperial matters; to have weekly "City Luncheons"; and to form a Trade Committee. It has also been decided to establish a voluntary monthly assessment for the purpose of creating a fund for local expenses.

The Council view with deep satisfaction the spirit of such spontaneous movements, which are invaluable as a means of bringing Fellows in distant climes into friendly association and inspiring activities calculated to make known and propagate the work and aims of the Institute.
Relations with other Societies.

14. Practical steps have been taken to effect co-operation between the Royal Colonial Institute and the Victoria League. A joint Standing Committee, composed of an equal number of representatives of each body, has accordingly been formed, and meets periodically to exchange information, and confer with regard to the work of the Institute and of the League respectively. Notices of lectures given by each Society are circulated to members of the other, and the corresponding Secretaries of the Royal Colonial Institute and the Secretaries of the Victoria League in all parts of the Empire have been invited to co-operate in this and in any other way that may seem desirable.

The Executive of the National Council of Women of Canada have co-operated with the Institute in diffusing a wider knowledge of the aims and objects of the Institute among its members, and urging them to further the Institute’s work in each district.

Official Lectures.

15. The Official Lecturer, Mr. Herbert Garrison, has delivered nearly 300 illustrated lectures under the auspices of the Institute, not only in the London area but throughout the country. The audiences have ranged in number from 200 to 3,000, and have varied in character from those composed of coal miners to those provided by the highest-class colleges and schools, and by learned societies. The lectures have been everywhere most cordially received. Many letters from prominent men have been received expressing approval of this work. The Council wish to convey their thanks to the Fellows, Associates, and others who have helped to promote these lectures, and trust that the work may be extended still further, and that all who can render assistance in this direction—either by organising or by contributions to the Empire Lectures Fund—will do so.

“United Empire.”

16. The Journal, United Empire, which has been issued since January 1, 1910, continues, under the editorship of Mr. Archibald R. Colquhoun, to maintain its growing reputation as a review of the field of Imperial activities. Besides other changes made from time to time, a great improvement has been effected since January 1, 1913, by the use of thicker paper, the adoption of clearer type, and the printing of illustrations on half-tone art paper. The contents comprise the Papers read at the meetings of the Institute; articles by well-known writers on Imperial questions; Editorial Notes and Comments; Round the Empire Notes (supplementary to the Editorial Notes); Reviews and Book Notices; Empire Trade and Industry. Great importance continues to be attached to the Editorial Notes, which aim at giving, in brief, a monthly Empire survey. Many Fellows have expressed a hope that this feature may be further developed. The Journal is sent to every Fellow and Associate of the Institute, as well as to the leading societies, institutions, and clubs throughout the Empire, and even beyond it, where British communities exist. The yearly volume averages about a thousand pages, and an index is supplied to all Fellows who apply for it, and also to some six hundred societies and institutions. The thanks of the Council are again due to those who have given their assistance by gratuitous contributions, many of them by men whose names are distinguished throughout the Empire.
The Work of the Trade and Industry Committee.

17. The Empire Trade and Industry Committee has continued its useful work during the past year, and amongst other matters attention has been given to the following:

Empire Development Board and Fund.—The evidence given orally before the Dominions Royal Commission by representatives of the Committee will be found at pp. 93—108 of "Royal Commission on the Natural Resources, Trade and Legislation of certain portions of His Majesty's Dominions—Minutes of Evidence taken in London during October and November, 1912" (Cd. 6517), which was published in the course of last year. At the request of the Royal Commission, the Committee prepared a supplementary memorandum dealing particularly with the existing deficiencies in the Empire's maritime communications, with special reference to freight accommodation, charges on emigrants, and speed of steamship services, and the cost of accelerating them. A note was also submitted on existing deficiencies on telegraphic communications. In the Second Interim Report of the Royal Commission, issued in January last, reference is made to the proposals of this Committee, and it is stated that "The subject in all its bearings is receiving . . . most earnest consideration." The continued interest in the Committee's proposal is shown by another request which has lately been received from the Commission for a further memorandum, on the subject of Canadian freight conditions.

Uniformity in Empire Statistics.—The Committee has been urging the necessity of taking steps to bring about closer uniformity in the methods in use throughout the Empire of collecting, collating, publishing, and printing certain statistics so as to give them common values and to make the figures of one part comparable with another. The Committee has represented that this end would be best achieved by referring the subject to a Conference of Statisticians of the Empire, and it is satisfactory to note that the Second Interim Report of the Dominions Royal Commission already referred to contains a definite recommendation to that effect. The Committee is now considering the best means of convening such a Conference.

Hong-Kong University.—Reference was made in the last Annual Report to the request received from the Dean of Faculty of Engineering for co-operation in procuring equipment and subscriptions for this University. The Committee agreed to assist, and its efforts met with substantial success. On a request being made that a representative of the Institute should be nominated on the London Committee of the University, Mr. Ben H. Morgan, Chairman of the Trade and Industry Committee, was asked by the Council and consented to act.

State-owned Atlantic Cable.—The Committee has continued to urge the establishment of an all-British Atlantic cable, for which proposal the Committee has received expressions of the cordial approval of the Governments of Australia and New Zealand, as well as Canada.

British Trade with India and the Crown Colonies.—The Committee has continued to press on the attention of the Board of Trade the necessity of appointing permanent Trade Commissioners in those territories to report to British manufacturers and traders on the state of, and openings for, British trade there. The Committee consider that the present anomalous position of British trade with these territories would be improved if the markets and trading conditions were properly investigated and reported upon.
The following gentlemen have been appointed to the Committee as additional members: W. M. Botsford, Esq., The Hon. J. G. Jenkins, and Joseph Rippon, Esq.

CITY LUNCHEONS.

18. In connection with the work of the Empire Trade and Industry Committee, the mid-day luncheons in the City, when leading authorities from Overseas contribute interesting addresses on trade and other subjects, have proved most successful. They have been largely attended, and the subjects dealt with have proved of considerable interest. The following is a list of guests and the subjects dealt with:

- Jan. 16.—J. S. Dennis (Assistant to the President of the Canadian Pacific Railway) on "Land Settlement within the Empire."
- Feb. 13.—Colonel Hon. James Allen (Minister of Finance and Defence, New Zealand) on "New Zealand and its Mission in the Pacific."
- Mar. 4.—Hon. John Scaddan (Premier of Western Australia) on "The State of Western Australia."
- Mar. 13.—C. Sandbach Parker on "The Development of British Guiana."
- April 2.—Hon. W. A. Watt (Premier of Victoria) on "The State of Victoria."
- April 10.—Hon. A. H. Peake (Premier of South Australia) on "The State of South Australia."
- April 17.—Hon. Sir Lomer Gouin (Premier of Quebec) on "The Province of Quebec."
- June 9.—Sir B. Edmund Walker, C.V.O., LL.D., D.C.L. (President of the Canadian Bank of Commerce), on "Canadian Affairs."
- Dec. 18.—W. E. Scott (Deputy-Minister of Agriculture, British Columbia) on "British Columbia: its Resources and Opportunities."
- Dec. 22.—Arthur M. Myers (Ex-Minister of Finance and Defence, New Zealand) on "New Zealand."

INFORMATION BUREAU.

19. An Information Bureau has been organised as a department of the Institute with two distinct purposes in view: namely, to deal with inquiries made personally or by letter to the Institute, and to distribute information concerning the resources and opportunities for trade and enterprise that exist in the Overseas Dominions of the Empire.

Reviewing shortly the first purpose of the Bureau, inquiries will be answered from the information at the disposal of the Institute concerning: (a) The resources and opportunities for trade, enterprise and employment in the Overseas Dominions of the Empire. For this work there will be a distribution to applicants of official pamphlets of the self-governing Dominions, and the publications of Crown Colony Governments, Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade Overseas, and such official and semi-official literature. (b) Empire transportation and inter-communication. For this work, circulars, time-tables, and pamphlets will be available for distribution. (c) The facilities and amenities of life in the Mother Country. This branch of the work is for the convenience of Non-Resident Fellows and Associates of the Institute visiting the Mother Country, and will include the giving of practical information (not advice) concerning educational facilities, medical treatment, hotels and such like accommodation, amusements, places of interest to visit, &c. Another part of the work of the Bureau is of a more active and enterprising character. As a result of preliminary steps taken some months ago the Municipalities of the principal cities in the Overseas Dominions have agreed to furnish, from time to time, to the Information Bureau early notification of sanctioned expenditure upon Municipal work, involving contracts within and purchase of material, &c., outside their respective Dominions. The Bureau will undertake to forward such information to those British firms who have previously notified that they are desirous of receiving it.

Title of the Institute.

20. For some time past the opinion has been urged by a considerable number of the Fellows that, however fit the title of "Royal Colonial Institute" was at the foundation in 1868, that title is no longer thoroughly appropriate either to the self-governing Dominions or to India. The word "Colonial," it is urged, as applied to the Institute does not adequately express its aims and functions under existing conditions, and does not embrace the various British communities in foreign countries, where large numbers of Fellows now reside. Several titles have been suggested from time to time as being more likely to meet the new conditions and to express more comprehensively the objects of the Institute. The Council have therefore resolved to propose to the Fellows that the title be changed from "Royal Colonial Institute" to "Royal Britannic Institute." The word "Britannic" is adopted from the title of His Britannic Majesty, and is, in the opinion of the Council, the most appropriate term hitherto suggested for a Society which is concerned with the interests of His Majesty's subjects, not only in all parts of the Empire, but in foreign countries as well.

Emigration.

21. The Standing Committee on Emigration has devoted its attention primarily to obtaining closer co-operation between the Home and Dominion Governments, and to securing the interest of Boards of Guardians in the emigration of children under their control, to the mutual benefit of the children themselves, the ratepayer, and the Empire at large. A large number of Boards appear from the returns of the Local Government Board not to adopt this method of assuring a future for the children, and the Committee ascertained and communicated to them the views of those Boards which had done so. The latter were unanimously in its favour, and now that the Committee has succeeded in obtaining from the Local Government Board a pronouncement regarding the statutory limitations controlling the expenditure per head on the emigration of children, it is hoped that Guardians will make more use of the powers they possess. A deputation from the Standing Committee appeared before the Committee of Poor Law Conferences at the Guildhall in February 1913 to press this matter upon their attention, and was favourably received. A decision was reached to bring the subject of emigration of children before each of their centres during the year.

In July the Committee was enabled to meet Mr. C. L. Anderson, recently Under-Secretary for Agriculture, New South Wales, to discuss suggestions in reference to the Dreadnought Fund, now in the hands of Trustees at Sydney, for the purpose of encouraging British immigrants. The Trustees of the Dreadnought Fund offered to contribute towards the passage money of approved lads, and also to pay the school fee of £5 for the first year. Lads between the ages of 16 and 20 may obtain passages to New South Wales for £8, with free training in agriculture for twelve months, with remunerative employment to follow. The interchange of views that took place should conduce to a wise use being made of this munificent gift to Imperial migration, and a Sub-Committee drew up a report for Mr. Anderson embodying the suggestions to be laid before the Trustees.

The Committee was also consulted by Mr. W. H. Hayward, Member of the British Columbia Parliament, who was in England during October, on the subject of child-immigration to that Province, and the grounds were laid for closer co-operation between the Mother Country and that very desirable home for children.

The Council in its Report for 1912 alluded with satisfaction to the appointment of the Dominions Royal Commission, and to the inclusion among its points of reference of the subject of migration within the Empire. A deputation from the Standing Committee which appeared before it tendered evidence on the migration of single men and families, of single women, and of children, and amplified the views which the Committee holds upon the subject generally and upon its control by some regular authority. A definite scheme for closer co-operation between the Mother Country and the Australian States was handed in, and it is gratifying to find that the Royal Commission in its interim Report expresses views which accord with those put forward by the Standing Committee. Australia and New Zealand are regarded as likely to afford a satisfactory solution at no great cost of the important problem of finding suitable work for youths whose environment in the Mother Country does not readily lend itself to a profitable career. It should not be difficult to devise a scheme of co-operation, and if the problem is attacked broadly and Imperially it should not be beyond the resources of statesmanship to establish a system of equal benefit to both. It is upon these lines that the work of the Standing Committee during the past year has proceeded not only with regard to Australia but to other parts of the Empire as well.

GOLD MEDAL FOR SCIENTIFIC ENQUIRY.

22. In order to encourage scientific enquiry into Imperial problems, the Council have offered a Gold Medal for the best Research Monograph on some subject bearing directly upon the practical problem of the closer and permanent union of the Empire. A grant of One Hundred Guineas goes with the Medal, together with Honorary Life Fellowship of the Institute. The opportunity is open to British subjects in all parts of the world. The subject for the first Monograph was "The interaction, if any, between the economic interests of a State and its foreign relations, with special reference to the question whether, or how far, the self-governing States of the British Empire (with or without a more centralised system of governing than it now has) could cooperate permanently for the purpose of defence without cooperating for the purpose also of trade." Eleven Monographs have been received. The thanks of the Council are due to Viscount Milner, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., Sir Charles Lucas, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., and Sir Harry Wilson, K.C.M.G., for having consented to act as judges. The result will be announced as soon as possible.

ESSAY COMPETITION.

23. With a view to stimulating amongst the rising generation an interest in the history, institutions, and resources of the various countries which constitute the Empire, the Council have offered prizes to young men and women undergoing education in the universities and schools of the United Kingdom for essays on subjects of Imperial concern. The subject selected for the Competition for 1913 was "The Meaning of British Imperialism." Thirteen essays were received from universities and twenty-six from various schools. The prize winners in the University Section are Mr. T. G
Lockhart, of Oxford University, and Mr. Howard Booth, of Sheffield University, who are bracketed together for the first prize of £20. The prizes for schools have been won by R. S. T. Chorley, Kendal Grammar School, £20; A. L. Selles, King Edward VII. School, Sheffield, £10; and certificates have been awarded to A. S. Grigson, Bradford Grammar School; W. T. Davies, Liverpool Institute School; G. W. Lowe, Grammar School, Newport, Salop; and F. E. Wilson, Cooper’s Company’s School, Bow. In order to widen the area of competition, it has been decided that the next one shall be open to students of universities and schools in all parts of the Empire.

Naturalisation Reform.

24. A political question which has engaged the attention of the Council is that of the reform of the laws of naturalisation, governing the admission of aliens to the status of British subjects. After a negotiation of nearly ten years’ duration between the British and Dominion Governments, an agreement was reached at the Imperial Conference in 1911. In accordance therewith a Bill was prepared for the British Parliament, with the twofold object of reforming the naturalisation law of the United Kingdom and of enabling the Dominion Parliaments to pass naturalisation laws which, if they embodied similar conditions, would have an extra-territorial effect, so that aliens naturalised thereunder would be British subjects throughout the world, instead of within the particular Dominion or Colony only; other existing anomalies would also be rectified. The details of this Bill were not finally settled until last summer. The Council then resolved to endeavour to promote the speedy passage of the agreed legislation at Westminster, and afterwards the passage of the complementary legislation which would be required in each Dominion, Colony, and India to complete this important reform. It is the earnest hope of the Council that this long-delayed reform may be completed before the Imperial Conference meets again this year.

Official Visits Overseas.

25. Official visits have been made on behalf of the Institute during the past year by Mr. Archibald R. Colquhoun, the Editor of United Empire, to South America; by Lieut. R. B. Ward, R.N., to Germany, Holland, and Belgium; and by the Secretary to South Africa. Mr. Colquhoun made a tour from Panama, down the Pacific Coast, visiting Peru and Chile, and crossing by the Trans-Andes Railway to Buenos Aires (where he addressed meetings on behalf of the Institute); and thence home, via Santos and Rio Janeiro. The thanks of the Council were conveyed to Mr. Colquhoun for his work, which has borne fruit.

Lieut. Ward visited the Continent of Europe for the purpose of bringing to the notice of British subjects resident there the aims and objects of the Institute and its work. The Council much appreciate the work so ably carried out by him.

The Secretary’s tour extended from Cape Town to Livingstone, during which he visited the Cape, Natal, Orange Free State, and Transvaal Provinces, Bechuanaland, and Northern and Southern Rhodesia. Mr. Boosè acquitted himself well of the task. Besides securing a large number of Fellows, he addressed twenty meetings in the principal cities, and formed Committees of Fellows for promoting local activity. The results of these personal visits to various parts of the world have proved of great advantage. The Council are hopeful of promoting in the near future an official visit to Australasia.
HALIFAX MEMORIAL TOWER.

26. In the last Annual Report it was stated that the Fellows of the Institute were presenting a pair of bronze lions to the City of Halifax to be placed at the base of the Tower, which has been erected there to commemorate the grant of representative government to the Overseas Dominions. These have now been completed and forwarded to the Mayor of Halifax as a gift from the Fellows of the Institute to that city, where it is intended to publicly unveil them on May 22 next. The names of the subscribers to this gift have been inscribed in an album, to be permanently preserved in the Memorial Tower itself.

BADGES FOR FELLOWS AND ASSOCIATES.

27. A Badge of Fellowship and also of Associateship of the Institute has been adopted by the Council, representing the crest of the Institute in gold and enamel for Fellows, and silver and enamel for Associates. Information as to terms on which these badges can be obtained will be found in UNITED EMPIRE.

DOMINIONS HOUSE.

28. Being in sympathy with the spirit of the scheme, the Council subscribed a sum of £250 as a contribution to the fund raised by Earl Grey for securing an option on the Aldwych site.

HONORARY CORRESPONDING SECRETARIES.

29. The Council are much indebted to the Honorary Corresponding Secretaries for their continued efforts on behalf of the Institute in their respective centres. The work performed by these gentlemen has led to a considerable increase in the number of Fellows in all parts of the world, and the Council deeply appreciate their valuable help.

FREEMASONRY.

30. The Royal Colonial Institute Lodge has now a membership of 100. The Hon. Sir Newton J. Moore, K.C.M.G., was appointed Deputy-Master for the year 1913. A chapter of Royal Arch Masons has been formed, and was consecrated by Sir Edward Letchworth on December 18. The first Principals are the Hon. Sir John A Cockburn, M.D., K.C.M.G., Major G. S. Beeching, V.D., and the Hon. Sir. Newton J. Moore, K.C.M.G.

MEETINGS OF SOCIETIES.

31. The Institute has afforded facilities for the meetings in the building of the Australian Section of the Institute, British Women’s Emigration Association, Child Emigration Society, Colonial Nursing Association, and the Overseas Club.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY.

32. In view of the increase in the Administrative Work of the Institute, the Council have approved the appointment of an Assistant Secretary, and elected Mr. J. H. Robertson, M.A., F.F.A., for the office.
Chairman of the Council.

33. Lieut.-General Sir J. Bevan Edwards, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., was again elected Chairman of the Council for the year 1913-14, and Sir Godfrey Lagden, K.C.M.G., Deputy Chairman. Their colleagues desire to express their appreciation of the services they have rendered.

Conclusion.

34. In conclusion, the Council desire to express their appreciation of the help and encouragement received from members of every degree and to record their opinion that the Institute is in a sound and progressive condition.

By order of the Council,

J. Bevan Edwards,
Chairman.

James R. Boose,
Secretary.

26th February, 1914.

ROBERT LITTLEJOHN, Hon. Treasurer.

3, Frederick's Place, B.C., February 25th, 1914.
The Chairman: I am extremely sorry to say that the honoured Chairman of the Council has been taken ill and is unable to attend, and so I am suddenly called upon to take the Chair. My first duty is to move the adoption of the Report and Statement of Accounts, omitting for the time being par. 20 which will form the subject of a special resolution. In performing this duty last year under similar circumstances, I gave an address, but on this occasion I have received from Sir J. Bevan Edwards the notes of the speech which he had intended to make, and with your leave I will read them to you.

"The Report gives very fully the work of the Institute last year, so I do not propose to take up your time in going through the different subjects; but will confine my remarks rather to the work that is before us in the immediate future than to that which has been accomplished last year.

"A perusal of the Report shows that it has been, both as regards the increase of members and of income, the most successful year in the life of the Institute. 2,350 Fellows and Associates have been elected, against 1,851 in 1912; and the income has been £12,918 as compared with £11,217 for 1912.

"Turning to the Statement of Receipts and Payments, the net expenditure for the year was £12,979 11s. 2d., as compared with £9,981 17s. 8d. for 1912; and, notwithstanding this large increase in expenditure, the Institute commenced the present year with a balance of £1,812 6s. 8d.—including £1,000 added to the Reserve Fund which now amounts to £1,250.

"With reference to the question of expenditure, there has been an increase in nearly every item, chiefly due to the expansion of our work and the large increase of Fellows.

"The Accounts show that, under the headings of Salaries, Pensions, Wages, Entertainments, and Auditing, the payments were nearly the same as in 1912. On the other hand, postages have increased by £390 12s. 5d.; the Journal by £798 11s. 6d.; Year Book by £273 10s. 4d.; Furniture and Building Renewals and Repairs by £18 16s. 1d.; and Lecturing Department by £292.

"Then under the heading of 'Recruiting' should be placed five items which are now given separately, viz., £304 15s. 9d., being payments to Mr. Garrison on account of recruiting Fellows and Associates, £292 10s. for the Secretary’s visit to South Africa, £131 10s. 2d. for Mr. Colquhoun’s visit to South America, £50 to Lieutenant R. B. Ward’s expenses of his tour in parts of Europe, and £30 0s. 4d. for the expenses connected with the formation of Local Committees. The total of these five is £808 14s. 3d.; but to compare the expenditure under this item in 1912, we must deduct the cost of the Secretary’s tour to Canada in that year, viz., £218 10s., making the actual increase under this heading for 1913 £590 4s. 3d.

"Then we have extraordinary and unforeseen expenditure in this year’s accounts, amounting to £429 8s. 6d.

"If we turn to the Balance Sheet, you will see the soundness of our financial position. Our only liabilities are £1,187 14s. 5d., due to outstanding accounts; and, on the other side, our Assets amounting to £72,107 4s. 8d., showing a Balance in favour of Assets of £70,919 10s. 3d.

"Now I should like to say a few words on the subject of the expenditure of £808 14s. 3d., which I have already mentioned above under the head of ‘Recruiting.’ This sum represents the amount expended during the year in obtaining new members over and above those proposed by our Corresponding Secretaries or by other Fellows of the Institute. It is not possible to state the exact number obtained from this source; but Mr. Garrison proposed 361, Mr. Colquhoun 36, and the Secretary, who is always recruiting, was responsible for 240 as a result of his visit to South Africa. Both the Secretary and Mr. Colquhoun sowed seed which must bear fruit in the future, and have good result. However, taking the actual number of those already stated, amounting to 637, the expenditure under this head will be well repaid; because there is not only the immediate receipt of the first year's subscription and entrance fees—amounting to at least £1,600—but there is the addition to the annual income of the Institute in future years.

"To show the effect of the Secretary's visit to South Africa last year, the total number of Fellows there in 1911 was 929. In 1912 it increased to 1,059; and in 1913 it amounted to 1,689, a substantial gain of 760 members.

"In 1912 the Secretary visited Canada, and the number of Fellows resident there has increased from 342 in 1911 to 1,200 at the end of 1913. We do not claim that the whole of this increase of 858 members in Canada was due to the Secretary's visit, because our Corresponding Secretaries in the Dominion were working hard for the Institute. But undoubtedly a very large portion of this increase was due to it. It certainly is desirable that this system of visiting the Overseas Dominions by the Secretary or someone appointed especially for the purpose should be continued, when our finances will admit of the additional expense which it would entail.

"I think we are fully justified in congratulating ourselves on the progress of the Institute, especially during the last two years, and that it should greatly encourage us to continue our efforts as we must not lose sight of the fact that we are only at the beginning of the work that is before us, and that we have hardly laid the foundation of the structure we wish to build up.

"The Institute is an educational organisation, and its object is to spread throughout the British people—and more especially in the United Kingdom—knowledge of the Empire and its great resources, and make the Unity of the Empire—which is now little more than a sentiment—a matter of practical politics. To achieve this end we must get the co-operation and active assistance of every Imperial minded citizen of the Empire, whether resident in the Empire or in foreign countries.

"To-day we muster over 9,000 members. These may be considered the officers of the army which we wish to create. But where are the rank and file to complete the army?

"I have often wondered why it is that little or no progress has been made by the different leagues and societies which have been formed at different times during the last thirty years in the interests of Imperial Unity. Is it not because these different organisations failed in obtaining the co-operation of the large body of Imperially minded men who exist in all classes throughout the Empire?

"For some years past the Council has foreseen the absolute necessity of widening and extending the basis of the membership of the Institute; and with this object in view it created—with the approval of the Fellows—a new order called "Associates," and it also drew up rules and regulations for the formation of local Committees and local branches. It is by the help of this new order of Associates that these local Committees and local branches can be formed in the United Kingdom; and the Council intend, during the present year, to carry on this work energetically.

"During the past year branches have been established in Christchurch, New Zealand; at Hobart, Tasmania; in Buenos Ayres, and in Guatemala.

"The first branch in Great Britain is at present being formed at Bristol by Mr. T. J. Lennard, who has not only presented the freehold of a site in the city, but undertaken to bear the expense of erecting the building."
A local Committee has been formed at Bournemouth. The Council have formed a Sub-Committee to carry out the formation of other local Committees, and this Committee is now in communication with a large number of Fellows resident in different parts of the country, asking their assistance in the formation of these local Committees. Many satisfactory replies have been received; and it is hoped that this year a number of local Committees will be formed; and that they will in course of time be brought together and formed into County or District Branches.

The principle before us for the coming year is the gradual expansion of the efforts of the Institute in the formation of these local Committees; and I feel sure the Council can rely upon the assistance of all Fellows resident in those parts of the country where a nucleus can be found for a local Committee.

"We are much indebted to our Honorary Corresponding Secretaries in all parts of the world for the valuable assistance they continue to render in promoting the welfare of the Institute."

For myself I have little to add; but I wish to say how very much we of the Council and I think you also feel indebted to the whole permanent staff of the Institute for their good and loyal work. I desire to state further that the work and activities of the Institute have been greater than ever before, and the wish of the Council has been, as it will always be, to maintain satisfactory progress in carrying out the great purposes of the Institute.

Sir John McCall: I beg to second the motion. The report is a full statement covering the whole work of the Institute. It is a story of success after success in every branch of the work, and all we need do is to congratulate heartily the Council and permanent officers of the Institute on the results achieved. It is a pleasure to note a substantial increase in the Library which is looked upon as one of the institutions of London. It is great thing we should have this great and useful library at the disposal of Fellows and of visitors from the Colonies. Well, I do not know how to describe them except as Colonies—a name of which I have never ceased to be proud. The Institute is the great Colonial centre in London, and though we are fortunate in having a large number of members who are not Colonials, in the true sense of the word, yet these members have always shown a keen interest in the different Colonies and in Colonial people. I am not sure I approve every word of the Report. I would like for instance to discuss the idea of sending out officers to recruit on ground outside the Empire itself. I am extremely pleased of course, that any Britisher, wherever he may be, should have the privilege of the Fellowship of the Institute when he visits London, and also the advantage of enjoying the privilege of obtaining the Journal, the publication of which has been such a success. That, I think, is a great advantage, and I am glad that everybody should be interested in the Institute, but I am hoping when you come to consider the question of the alteration of the name of the Institute, you will not agree to the proposal without at any rate very weighty reasons being given for it. There is this to be said—that the word Colonial under which we have grown to our present strength and position has not at any rate interfered with the growth of the Institute, because we have been more successful in recent years than in the past. If we are to make any sort of change, let it be "Dominions and Colonial Institute," but in some way let us keep Colonial Institute. Let us ask the Council not to press this matter at all, but to keep the title "Colonial Institute" under which we have grown and of which we are exceedingly proud.
The Chairman asked the Meeting to reserve discussion of the proposed change of name until a resolution had been proposed.

Mr. J. Hughes reminded the Meeting that on March 17th last a resolution was passed that Associates should be admitted on paying £1 per year. He wanted to direct attention to the effect of the resolution. He then foreshadowed what he thought would happen, namely, that there would be a decrease in the election of Fellows whose subscriptions amounted first of all to an admittance fee of £3, and an annual contribution of £2 as opposed to which these new Associates would only pay £1. He had pointed out that the progress of the admission of Resident Fellows had been regular and increasing for the previous three years, namely, 158 in 1910, 223 in 1911, and 297 in 1912. Now this year only 266 Resident Fellows had been admitted, and no fewer than 546 Associates. He had also pointed out, considering the accommodation the Institute could offer, and as resident Fellows were drawn largely from the neighbourhood of London, that to admit Associates paying only £1 a year was just the way to reduce the Fellowship and increase the expenses of the Association. At present the total number of Associates was something over 700. If this progress continued, they would not have sufficient accommodation. He thought the Council would do well seriously to reconsider this question. It seemed a shame that gentlemen who paid £3 on admission and £2 annually should have others coming in to share almost the same advantages.

Captain C. Slack said that he strongly opposed the election of male Associates last year, contending that there was no business in it. On other points, Captain Slack suggested that considerable economy might be effected by securing a reduction of the postal rates for magazines. With regard to the Year Book, he noticed that last year there was a loss of £560. The Royal Geographical Society charged 5s. to outsiders, and 2s. 6d. to members for its Year Book, and he thought the Council of the Institute would do well to consider the advisability of making a small charge for this publication, say 1s. to members, and 2s. to outsiders. At present its indiscriminate distribution imposed a serious charge on the funds of the Institute.

Mr. E. L. Martin stated that he made out that the income increase last year was only £1,700, and the additional expenditure about £3,000. He suggested that a certain portion of the reserve fund might be invested to better advantage than at present. He further suggested for the purposes of comparison that the figures for the past year should be given alongside those for the previous year.

Mr. E. P. Cotton referred to the emoluments granted to Mr. Herbert Garrison in connection with his lectures. With regard to the subscriptions to the Aldwych Site Fund as shown in the accounts, he would like to know what benefit the Council thought the Institute would derive from it. He would also like to know whether the intention was to renew the subscription. He also noted a grant of £50 towards Lieutenant Ward’s continental tour. He would like to see the detailed accounts of that tour. Of course they were all aware that the Secretary had visited Canada and South Africa, and they all recognised the good work he had done. Mr. Cotton also referred to the subject of the salaries of certain members of the staff.

Mr. Gordon Inglis said that the remarks made by previous speakers had not been any more remarkable for a display of logic than those of a similar type last year. With regard to Mr. Garrison's lectures, Mr. Inglis said that he himself, at any rate, was glad that Australia should sometimes be spoken of in terms of enthusiasm on public platforms, for latterly one had noted a tendency in partisan quarters to misrepresent Australia in every way, more particularly so far as regarded her enthusiasm for the military training idea. No abuse was too great, and no misrepresentation too absurd to use in criticising one of the finest pieces of Dominion legislation. Then again there has been the usual complaint that the new order of Associates was given too much attention. Somebody had worked out on a mathematical basis that the returns for the annual subscription were out of all proportion to its amounts. Indeed, from some of the comments that had been made on the balance sheet, one might imagine that one had strayed into the purlieus of the Cannon Street Hotel while many company meetings were in progress. Of course it was essential that the balance sheet should work out properly, but he would remind the meeting, as he reminded them last year, that propaganda work needed a great deal of expenditure in some years, the full benefit of which might not be reaped until years afterwards. He further maintained that the Institute existed to do something in furtherance of its ideas for a "United Empire," and its sole purpose was not in the providing of the facilities of a West End club on a fifth of the club subscription. He congratulated the Institute on a most successful year's work, and also congratulated the workers on the permanent staff, to whom the Fellows could not be too grateful. His only hope was that the Institute would in the future justify the hopes of its founders to even a greater extent than in the past.

Mr. A. Moor-Radford considered that the value of the building was much underestimated in the accounts. It would be quite impossible to put up such a building for less than £15,000 more than was set down. In his opinion there never was a time when the finances of the Institute were so good as they were at the present time. In a few years' time the good seed that had been sown of late would develop itself in all directions. He hoped himself that the units whether in Argentina or in Brazil, would all put themselves under the Institute.

Mr. J. Munford renewed the request he made at the last meeting for the formation of a Committee dealing with education, and he also urged the Council to take up the question of Empire Scholarships.

Mr. J. Newman Thomas was glad to notice that an information bureau had been organised as a department of the Institute, and he suggested the insertion in the Magazine of some information with regard to forthcoming events for the guidance of visitors to London.

Mr. G. A. Gordon suggested that the names of the members of the various Committees should be published.

Mr. D. Hope Johnston agreed that something should be done by way of increasing the salaries of certain members of the staff. He noticed the Council had given £250 towards obtaining an option of the Aldwych site, a proposal with which he agreed, but he had some doubt regarding the donation towards the Halifax Memorial. As regards the recruiting tours, he agreed with the purpose, but thought that three such tours in one year came rather heavily on the funds of the Institute. As regarded some remarks that had been made, in his opinion one of the great purposes of the Institute was to promote social intercourse, particularly among people from overseas, and he did not think they did as much in that direction as they might.

The Chairman: With regard to Mr. Hughes's remarks on the subject of Associates over-crowding the building, I think he seemed unaware of the fact that Associates are not entitled to the privilege of using the building. As regards our meetings to which they have access, I think we may rejoice that men from all parts of the country should come and attend them and hear the excellent papers; and the more the better. They take very good stuff away with them. Captain Slack spoke of the cost of the Year Book, but forgot to tell you there was something on the other side in the way of advertisements. In regard to postal rates, we have already moved, and Major Archer-Shee, M.P., in the House of Commons lately urged the Postmaster-General to move in the matter, but the latter refused for the present to have anything to do with it. Mr. Martin has asked whether we could not do better than we do by investing our reserve at 3½ per cent. As a matter of fact, we get 4 per cent. He also asked that the figures for the previous year should appear in our annual statement of accounts. That is a point which will receive consideration, but I cannot pledge myself, as there may not be space enough. Mr. Cotton referred to Mr. Garrison's pay as lecturer. Well, we came to a working arrangement as to what he should receive for his labours, which we much appreciate. It is entirely to his satisfaction. With regard to the Aldwych site, we plead guilty to having voted a contribution of £250, which was part of a guarantee towards the option, but we are liable for no further payment. As regards the staff, I think you would not expect me, on this occasion, to speak about the merits or salaries of individuals, and also I do not think you would wish to fetter our discretion in the matter. I think you may be sure that we give very careful consideration to all these things, and as to servants like the porters in the Hall, I need not tell you that something goes into the pocket sometimes that is not on the salary list. As regards the Education Committee, the matter came before the Council with numbers of other things, and I cannot remember at the moment what was done, but if Mr. Munford will call upon me, I shall be glad to discuss the matter with him. It is suggested that notices of forthcoming public events should be given in the Journal. It is hard to say yes, because our pages are full, and if we add to them there is a risk of having to pay another ½d. as postage, which means another £250 a year. If, however, it is possible to adopt the suggestion, I am sure the Editor will be glad. As regards Committees, it is open for any Fellow to call at the Institute and ask for their names.

The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Richard Jebb: I have now, on behalf of the Council, to move a resolution which, from certain sounds, you appear to be anticipating with a good deal of interest. It is that the title of this Society shall be changed if and when practicable to that of Royal Britannic Institute. Of course, any change of this kind would involve trouble and delay; we should have to get the charter altered, and that of course, would be subject to the assent of the King. This is a proposal which originated, not with the Council, but with the Fellows. It is a sound principle of policy, I think, that when any important proposal comes from outside before the Council they should give it their best attention, and we are always glad if any such proposal can be put into a shape in which we can commend it to the Fellows. The main object of the Council is to test your feeling, because they think that this question has now come to such a state of development that some decision ought to be come to one way or another. But whether you accept or reject the proposal the Council will receive your verdict with equanimity. The discussion must at any rate have an educative influence. Some two or three years ago we were anxious to increase our membership in Canada. We got into correspondence with sympathisers, and from that quarter we received representations that the name of the Institute is an obstacle to its progress and extension. That could not surprise any of us acquainted with Canada. It is undeniable that young Canadians, speaking generally, do not nowadays call themselves Colonials, and they do not think of Canada as a Colony, and that change in sentiment, due to the growth of the country, is true also in a considerable degree of the rising generation in Australia. (No.) I have been there myself, and I record my impression. It is even true I should say of New Zealand, though perhaps, in a less degree. But perhaps the most signal proof of the obsolescence of the term is that in 1907 the Colonial Conference resolved to call itself in future the Imperial Conference, and since that time the self-governing Colonies have become Dominions officially. Thus, at the present time, the title of this Institute is strictly applicable only to the Crown Colonies and Dependencies, which represent only one section—though an important section—of our membership and interests. When we got these representations from Canada, we took all these considerations into account, and prima facie there was considerable argument for changing the name. On the other hand, we were fully conscious of the objection. All the old Fellows of the Institute must retain a considerable affection for the old name, just as when the name of the Colonial Conference was changed many men of repute said that they sincerely regretted the change. There is this further objection, that although the name may be out of date, it does not follow it is a hindrance to the work of the Society. It is not difficult to find examples of other societies which have quite modernised their aims and methods but still retain a name which is not only out of date, but which, perhaps, has acquired some unfavourable stigma. Take for example, the Hudson's Bay Co. The official title is the Honourable Company of Adventurers in the Hudson Bay. But "adventurers" nowadays has quite a different sense, and some of the shareholders might not like to have themselves so described. Then, of course, you cannot make any change of this kind without causing an upset which, for the time being, will be a drawback to the progress of the Society. Finally, there is the objection that after all we are not standing still, that we are making progress. These were considerations we had before us two years ago. We thought then the proper thing to do was to try and test the feeling of the Fellows, and that we might do so by a referendum. In the Journal for 1912, therefore, we enclosed a voting paper for each Fellow, asking: (1) whether he favoured any change, and (2) whether he would indicate what change he desired. We put forward fifteen alternative different names suggested from various quarters. The result was somewhat disappointing. Of only 592 answers received, the majority 344, were in favour of change, 160 were against, and 88 were apparently neutral. Among those who favoured a change many were in favour of other names than those put forward, so that now we have a list of twenty-six names. We took that as a mandate to go a little further, and so we tried to select a new name, but we found it so difficult that presently we decided to put the matter in a pigeon-hole. However, last year a new development occurred. We received a large accession of new members from South America. It is, I submit, very sound policy to try and enrol British subjects wherever they may happen to live, for there is one interest common to British subjects, the preservation of the union of the Empire. We thought South America a very fertile field for recruiting new Fellows, but as soon as we had recruited them, this question came up again. It was represented to us that the name was an obstacle to our potential progress, and that South America would be glad if it could be changed. Having got that additional representation, we felt obliged to go into the question again. In order to guide us into selecting a name, we tried to lay down certain test conditions. It should be a name which should avoid confusion with any existing society; which should express the scope of the Institute; which should include the word Royal; and which should be short and handy. These conditions excluded several of the names which had appeared most popular in the referendum. There are the following Societies with which you have to avoid confusion: Imperial Institute, British Empire League, British Empire Club, United Empire Club, League of the Empire, and Royal Institution of Great Britain. Finally we came down to Royal Britannic Institute as being least objectionable. There is no confusion in the name, it is short and handy, and expresses the scope of the Institute both in regard to membership and aims. The word Britannic is taken from the title of the King. It is a good old English word. It was used by no less a person than John Milton, who wrote of "this Britannic Empire." It avoids that party political association with which the word Imperial is sometimes involved, although it ought not to be. The objection on the other hand was that the word was strange and unfamiliar, having gone out of fashion as a word. That no doubt is true, but I think in the last two or three years one can say that the word Britannic is again acquiring a certain vogue. The argument for the change is that the old name is out of date, and rather perhaps prejudicial to our expansion. Against the change, the argument in a nut-shell is "let well alone."

Dr. Vrooman seconded the motion. He claimed to know something about the feeling of the peoples of the Dominions regarding the whole question involved in the Colonial habit of mind and said the belief was crystallising everywhere throughout Canada, and long before the other Dominions were as old as Canada the belief would be crystallising there also, that we had definitely done with the whole Colonial idea. For himself, he was heartily sick and tired of the Colonial idea as applied to the four great Dominions of the Empire, because they were not Colonies and the citizens of the Dominions were not Colonials. Therefore to have a name which had technically nothing whatever to do with them was insufficient. They wanted something which would not only cover the case of Great Britain and the Colonies, but which was broad enough to connote everything that the whole Empire stood for, including its four self-governing States. It was important to remember that the Dominion of Canada was only a year old when the Institute came into being, while the Commonwealth of Australia was founded thirty-three years after the Institute, and the Union of South Africa forty-one years after. The establishing of these four great self-governing Dominions had set a new mark in the Imperial imagination, and given a new meaning to the whole Imperial idea, and never more in the history of this Empire should we find any patience on the part of those who lived in the self-governing Dominions with the Colonial habit of mind. In their choice that day, they had to ally themselves with one thing or another, and he held that they should not adhere to a name which, if not utterly empty and meaningless, bore a reproach to every citizen of the self-governing States, because the States were not colonies and the people not Colonials. He seconded the motion on the broad distinction between the two great ideas held by the two schools of thought—the idea of British ascendancy with Colonial dependency as opposed to the great principle of Britannic unity.

Mr. T. Hatton Richards asked whether the motion was consonant with Article I of the Charter which definitely laid down that the name of the Institute for all time should be the Royal Colonial Institute.

The Chairman: The terms of the resolution will be made to cover the point. It is only by the King's permission we can change our name. It cannot be done to-day of course.

Mr. Alexander Finn: Considering that a very large number of persons do not regard with favour the proposed alteration in the title of this Institute I beg to move as an amendment:

"That this meeting considers any change to be unnecessary and that we regret that the time chosen for the suggestion should have synchronised with the appearance of a review under a somewhat similar name edited by a member of our Council."

Mr. R. G. Webster, seconding the amendment, said they had heard a great deal about the feeling of Canada. He was not a Canadian, but had travelled there on four occasions, and had never known a Canadian who entertained the feeling Dr. Vrooman had about the word Colonial. Did any Canadian describe himself as a Britisher? Was not that a somewhat sarcastic term used by the Americans? To him the word Britannic had a rather Brummagem ring in it. The word Colonial seemed to him very well to describe the Institute. If they were to change their name, why not take the second name on the Journal and call the Institute the Royal United Empire Institute?

Captain Slack, supporting the amendment, pointed out that the 500 answers given in the referendum represented only about one-tenth of the then membership of the Institute. This proposal had all been brought about apparently by the members residing in Buenos Ayres. In his opinion there was no better way of making the Institute known and influential than by promoting in every possible way the circulation of the Journal.

Mr. H. S. Gullett also supported the amendment.

Mr. A. Hudson, K.C., reminded the meeting that one of the oldest clubs in London was known as the Cocoa Tree Club. How would the members of that club like it if the Committee suddenly proposed to change the name to Malt House Club, on the ground that the majority of the members nowadays drank whisky and soda? Again, nobody had ever heard that the Colonial Office was setting about changing its name. A long and glorious reputation lay behind the name of the Colonial Institute. It had a pleasant and silvery sound to the ear, whereas the new name had rather the sound of the tapping of a pewter jug. He listened to Dr. Vrooman's speech, a speech of great eloquence, but he thought Dr. Vrooman attached too much importance to the idea that the designation of an institution was supposed exactly to indicate all its objects. The fittest name of all, perhaps, would be the Imperial Institute, but that title was already annexed. Much trouble had been taken of late years to increase the knowledge of the Institute. If it were suddenly to blossom out as the Royal Britannic Institute he prophesied a great falling off in the membership.

In answer to a question the Chairman ruled that the amendment was a direct negative, and that the only question before the meeting was the resolution.
Dr. Lyster Jameson thereupon proposed as an amendment: "That the title of the Institute be not changed without the consent of the majority of the Fellows resident and non-resident and that any proposal which the Council of the Institute may desire with a view to such a change, be submitted to the Fellows by means of a postal referendum." He said this was quite a different kind of referendum to that taken through the magazine. It was impossible a meeting like that could be really representative of the whole Institute, and he held that the only really democratic way of proceeding was by referendum, asking not for suggestions, but whether the change should be made.

The Hon. J. G. Jenkins, J.P., seconded the amendment, which he said was a democratic proposal that would give an opportunity of obtaining the views of every Fellow in the countries overseas as well as here. He entirely disagreed with Dr. Vrooman's definition of the word Colonial. For himself he was proud to be called a Colonial. He had spent nearly as many years in Canada as his friend Dr. Vrooman and was nearly thirty years in the Southern Hemisphere where the Colonies were known as Colonies. What was a Colony? It was not a mere territorial division of dull dead soil, but an aggregation of human individuals. The Colonies which existed in Canada 50 years ago existed to-day. He yielded to no one in Imperialistic ideas, but was not ashamed to call himself a Colonial. When in Australia they became States, they did not ask to become Statists, certainly not. He had every respect for the opinion and wisdom of the Council, and for the last nine years had been a pretty regular frequenter of the meetings of the Institute, but for all that he held that a change of name known in every part of the Empire would be a vital mistake, a name under which they had grown to be strong and powerful. He would like to know how many of the 150 corresponding secretaries throughout the Empire had asked for the adoption of the word Britannic. He questioned whether there were half a dozen. Women change their names of course with very good reason, but men very often changed theirs out of snobbishness after the acquisition of wealth. Companies and Societies also changed their names when they were on a waning scale and wanted to get new capital out of an unsuspecting public. But the Institute had arrived at no such condition. They were strong and progressive. They had grown up and they were known throughout the world as the Royal Colonial Institute.

Dr. Parkin: It is time I think that some member of the Council should say a few words. There had been rather a suggestion from time to time that the Council were responsible for bringing this matter forward. They were, of course, but only as representatives of those who had approached them. Everybody knows that at different meetings members have spoken in the strongest way about the necessity for the change; we took the best steps we could, and I assure the members that when the Council passed the motion and resolved to bring the matter before the meeting, they did so perfectly understanding that there were two sides to the question. It was a question they said which ought to be decided by the feelings of the members, and we merely brought it forward as the result of the best inquiries we could make, and in order that we might ascertain the feelings of members. No gathering in London can decide a question like that. I am one of those who, while bringing this question forward—I do not shirk my responsibility as a member of the Council—feel intensely the great advantage of holding on to an old name. I was for many years connected with the Upper Canada College. Upper Canada does not exist to-day, but you can never get an old boy to give up the name, and now they are going to build a College at an entirely different place while retaining the name. I think I represent the feelings of the Council in saying that they brought the question forward with a view to eliciting the opinions of those who meet here. As a member of the Council I would recommend my colleague (Mr. Jebb) to accept either the amendment or some corresponding amendment which will put in a direct form to members in every part of the world the question whether they wish a change or not.

The Chairman: The Council has briefly taken into consideration the point Dr. Parkin has alluded to. I will call upon Mr. Jebb to explain the matter.

Mr. Richard Jebb: As the member of the Council who brought the question forward at this meeting, and after the expression of opinion we have heard, I think we may be able to bring the discussion to an early close. As I said this is not a proposal we desire to force upon you at all, though I am a little disappointed to find here in the capital of the Empire a body of men representing this Institute are so much more plainly inclined to cling to the skirts of the past than hold out a hand to the future. (No.) Whether you like it or not, that Colonial idea is done. In view of the expressions of opinion we have heard, I shall be satisfied, if it is in order, to accept the amendment proposed.

Mr. H. S. Gullett asked for an assurance that the word Britannic would be dropped, especially in view of the consideration mentioned in Mr. Finn's amendment.

Mr. H. Inge (Guatemala) repudiated the suggestion that branches of the Institute should be confined to the Empire. On the question of the title, however, he confessed, he had been converted. At first he was inclined to favour the change of name, but obviously no name could be made absolutely to fit a progressive Society like the Colonial Institute. One should of course give due consideration to the feelings of those who considered the name was to some extent an objection—he would not say a slur—one could hardly say that—but taking the name in its historic significance, he did not think that consideration ought to be an absolute bar or was not sufficient at all events for the change of a name that was associated with so much honourable work and tradition.

In answer to a question the Chairman said—if we take any further measure it would of course be in the form of a referendum, and any change would come before the Fellows at the Annual Meeting.

Mr. Robert Duncan: Informed the meeting, as one who had given some little help to forming a new Branch in Glasgow, that there the word Colonial was considered as either out of date or was rapidly getting out of date.

The amendment was then put to the meeting and carried by a large majority.

Mr. Ralph S. Bond moved an alteration to Rule 29, namely, after the word "ensuing" add "or may compound for such subscription by the payment of £10." He explained that the rule provided that every Associate should pay an annual subscription of £1, but no provision was made for compounding. A resident fellow could compound by paying £20 and a non-resident by paying £10, and the Council recommended that an Associate should also have the right of compounding for his or her subscription at a fixed sum of £10. The motion was carried.
The meeting confirmed the appointments made by the Council during the past year in accordance with Rule 6, and re-elected the Vice-Presidents, Treasurer and Councillors as recommended by the Council. The nominations by the Council to fill the places of retiring Councillors were agreed to.

The Chairman moved that the best thanks of the meeting be given to the Honorary Treasurer and to the Honorary Corresponding Secretaries. He said they were deeply indebted to them for all they had done.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Bond and agreed to. A vote of thanks was given to the Chairman for presiding.

A FEW PRESS OPINIONS OF THE
20 h.p. Extra Strong Colonial Napier

"In putting this car upon the market no attempt is made to compete with low-priced cars, as the vehicle is intended for those who, under the circumstances, will have nothing but the best, and desire a car which will stand years of hard work."

"It is a very fine car, and runs quite smoothly and almost noiselessly."

"Is a wonderful bit of work, greatly strengthened and designed in every detail for the rough-and-ready conditions abroad."

Tatler, 15/4/14.

"It has not been made to compete with cheaply made cars, but is intended for those who require a car which will run as perfectly after many years of hard use as when first turned out of the works."

Court Journal, 8/5/14.

"But the new Napier de Luxe rollicked up everything as became a stable-mate of the Alpine adventurer."

Bystander, 15/4/14.

ROYAL COLONIAL INSTITUTE.

OBJECTS AND CONSTITUTION.

The Royal Colonial Institute is established to provide a place of meeting for all gentlemen connected with the Colonies and British India, and others taking an interest in Colonial and Indian affairs; to establish a Reading-room and a Library, in which recent and authentic intelligence upon Colonial and Indian subjects may be constantly available, and a Museum for the collection and exhibition of Colonial and Indian productions; to facilitate interchange of experiences amongst persons representing all the Dependencies of Great Britain; to afford opportunities for the reading of Papers, and for holding discussions upon Colonial and Indian subjects generally; to undertake scientific, literary, and statistical investigations in connection with the British Empire; and to promote permanent union between the Mother Country and the various parts of the British Empire. But no Paper shall be read, nor any discussion be permitted to take place, tending to give to the Institute a party character.

MEMBERSHIP.

The membership comprises Resident Fellows (i.e. resident in the United Kingdom); Non-resident Fellows (i.e. resident outside the United Kingdom). To these have lately been added Associates, a connection which is open to either sex, but which is restricted for the present, as regards Men Associates, to the United Kingdom. Resident Fellows pay Entrance Fee £3 and Subscription £2. Non-resident Fellows pay Entrance Fee £1 1s. (which is increased to £3 when taking up permanent residence in the United Kingdom, except for those Fellows of more than fifteen years standing or upwards), and Subscription £1 1s. (which is increased to £2 when in the United Kingdom for twelve months). Associates pay no Entrance Fee; Subscription £1. Resident Fellows may compound for life at £20, or after five years' Annual Subscriptions of £2 on payment of £15. Non-Resident Fellows may compound for life at £10, or after the payment of twenty or more Annual Subscriptions on payment of £5.

LIBRARY.

The Library, already containing 100,000 volumes, is the finest of its kind in the world, and now includes a separate Law Library and a Parliamentary Library which are extensively utilised by visitors from all parts of the Empire. Fellows may borrow books from the Library.

NEWSPAPERS.

Hon. Secretary of Standing Emigration Committee.

The formation of this Committee was the result of a Conference organised by the Royal Colonial Institute, and held at the Whitehall Rooms on May 30 and 31, 1910. Delegates from 49 Emigration Societies in the United Kingdom attended the Conference. The Committee meets on the first Thursday in every month, and is consultative and not executive. It aims at co-ordinating the work of all Emigration Societies, and is prepared to act in an advisory capacity when matters are referred to it. It looks to some form of co-operation being secured between the Home Government and the Dominions, and it is in a position to approach the different departments of the former in all matters relating to emigration.

The following is a list of some of the subjects recently discussed by the Committee:

(a) The statutory limitations as to the expenditure per head on the emigration of children.
(b) The emigration of ex-Service men to Australia.
(c) Emigration of children to Australia.
(d) The action of Boards of Guardians as to the success attending the emigration of Poor Law Children.
(e) The charges on Emigrants, and steamship accommodation.

Further information and literature fully explaining the aims and objects of the Institute will gladly be sent on application to the Secretary, Royal Colonial Institute, Northumberland Avenue, London, W.C.
THE CIVIL SERVICE SUPPLY ASSOCIATION LIMITED. ESTABLISHED 1866.

The leading principle of this Association is to study the interests of the consumer by supplying

THE BEST GOODS AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES.

The Association was the pioneer of "Stores Prices," and in quality, measure and price its goods cannot be surpassed. Although the "tied price" system compels the Association to sell certain proprietary articles at fixed prices, there are many articles of the Association's own brands which can only be obtained at its Stores, and which fully equal rival proprietary articles in quality, whilst the "C.S.S.A." brands are incomparably lower in price. During the season FREE COMPLIMENTARY TICKETS may be obtained by all Colonial or Foreign Visitors, on application to the Secretary at the Stores of the Association.

EMPIRE TRADE AND INDUSTRY COMMITTEE of THE ROYAL COLONIAL INSTITUTE.

Chairman: BEN H. MORGAN, Esq.

The principal objects of the Committee are:

1. To facilitate, encourage and arrange industrial conferences or meetings to be attended by men of affairs from any or all parts of the Empire in order to discuss questions of common interest with a view to regulating and co-ordinating the conditions of Empire trade and industry.

2. To encourage and facilitate Empire trade and industry by (inter alia) arranging for the reading of papers and delivery of addresses on financial, industrial and trade subjects by authorities before the Institute itself and before Chambers of Commerce, Trade bodies and like institutions in the leading industrial centres, collecting and distributing information, etc.

SPECIAL SERVICES.

The following special services are at the disposal of British men of business, and are used by a large and increasing number of such persons:

(1) To bring before the notice of persons in the United Kingdom likely to be interested, any British product which is characteristic of or peculiar to any one of the British Possessions.

(2) To introduce the Raw Materials of the Empire to Manufacturers.

(3) To find for buyers Overseas, British manufacturers to make goods formerly obtained from Germany and Austria. In some cases the Committee has induced British firms to take up the manufacture of goods formerly not made at all within the Empire.

(4) To bring the names of persons abroad desiring agencies before British manufacturers.

For firms and persons in Great Britain:

(5) To supply information in respect to any of the markets of the Empire from the special reports and other sources of information in the records of the Committee. To obtain special information as to the particular requirements of manufacturers in the countries of the Empire.

(6) To advise manufacturers and others as to peculiarities of packing, language, climate, etc., affecting the sale of particular classes of goods in any of the said countries, and as to the rates, duties, freights, etc., obtaining.

(7) To put manufacturers in touch with agents and buyers oversea;

(8) Generally to take an active part in any movement which has for its object the improvement of commercial relations between the constituent parts of the British Empire.

A full account of the Committee's recent activities will be found upon pp. 51-53 of this Year-book, and booklet explaining its work and objects will gladly be sent on application to HAROLD T. POOLEY, Esq., Royal Colonial Institute, Northumberland Avenue, London, W.C.

STEPPING STONES

Halifax.—Capital of Nova Scotia, the apple province and land of Evangeline.

St. John, New Brunswick.—The "new city" that rose from the ashes of the great fire of 1877. Here is the wonderful reversible cataract due to the tremendous tides, and here also is one of the busiest ports on the Atlantic.

Quebec.—Queen city of North America, throned on a lofty crag commanding the St. Lawrence. Owing to its picturesque situation, its old-world streets, and its historic memories, Quebec has many visitors. Here is the Chateau Frontenac, the most picturesque hotel in Canada.

Montreal.—Commercial capital of Canada and headquarters of the Canadian Pacific—on the site of the ancient Indian village of Hochelaga. Now half-French, half-English in population, with magnificent wharves and imposing public buildings, banks, churches, &c. Stay at the Place Viger Hotel.

Ottawa.—Political capital of Canada, and picturesquely situated at the junction of the Ottawa and Rideau Rivers. The centre of a great lumber industry.

Toronto.—Capital of Ontario, centre of busy industries and fragrant orchards. Situated on Lake Ontario, Toronto is a convenient starting-place for Niagara, Muskoka, or the Canadian Pacific Steamship services on the Great Lakes.

Niagara.—With its famous falls, the wonder of the world.

Muskoka.—A picturesque cluster of lakes clothed with innumerable islands. This is one of the chief summer resorts in America.

Sault Ste. Marie.—On the "Soo," with its famous locks and rapids, the junction for the Soo Line and centre of a great sporting district. The "Soo" is also reached by rail via Sudbury, along a branch of the Canadian Pacific, which passes through one of the best fishing and hunting districts in Canada.

Missanabie, Jackfish and Nipigon.—North of Lake Superior, and on the main line to Fort William, are also starting-points for fishing expeditions.

Fort William and Port Arthur.—The twin cities at the head of Lake Superior are the outlet for the gigantic harvests of the great Canadian West.

Winnipeg.—Is the capital of Manitoba, and commands the trade of the fertile prairies—a city of imposing appearance and great wealth, with the finest hotel in the world—the Royal Alexandra.

ACROSS CANADA.

Portage la Prairie, Brandon, Indian Head, Regina, Moose Jaw, Swift Current, and Medicine Hat.—Are typical prairie towns, bustling, ambitious, and already well on the road to abundant prosperity. Wheat is king from Winnipeg to Calgary.

Calgary.—The most prosperous town in Southern Alberta; is called the city of the foot-hills, owing to its proximity to the Rockies. Here is the great 3,000,000-acre irrigation scheme of the Canadian Pacific. Land on this irrigation block is sold to settlers on the instalment system. Calgary is directly connected by rail with Edmonton, the capital of the North-West, which is also directly connected with Winnipeg via Saskatoon and Wetaskiwin. A branch line connects with Lethbridge and Macleod.

Banff.—The tourist capital of the Canadian Rockies, with its splendid Banff Hot Springs Hotel. Here is the Canadian National Park, with its herds of buffaloes.

Lake Louise.—Is the station for Lake Louise, considered by many to be the loveliest spot in Canada. The Château Hotel is the most convenient point from which to visit the Lakes in the Clouds.

Field.—In the Kicking Horse Pass, has another favourite hotel, and is the best point from which to reach Emerald Lake and the magnificent Yoho Valley and the Takkakaw Falls 1,200 feet in height.

Golden.—For the Columbia Valley and Lake Windermere, the new tourist playground.

Glacier.—Is reached after passing through the tremendous scenery of the Rogers Pass, and is in the Selkirk Mountains. It lies under Mount Sir Donald, and is in full view of the snowy Hermit Ranges.

Revelstoke.—Is the junction for the Arrowhead Lakes, down which one may take steamer for the mining and fruit-growing districts of Southern British Columbia and the Kootenays. These can also be reached by the Crow's Nest Pass.

Sicamous.—Is the junction for the fertile Okanagan Valley, the centre of a fruit-growing district.

Kamloops.—Is also rich in orchards.

Vancouver.—Is the Pacific terminus of the Railway, and is rapidly becoming the chief port on the Pacific coast. Here, again, is a fine hotel belonging to the railway company. Steamers connect with Vancouver Island and especially Victoria.—The political capital of British Columbia, and one of the most delightful tourist centres in America. The Empress Hotel here spells the last word in luxury. Through Vancouver Island runs the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway from Victoria to Alberni.

PREFACE.

In presenting to the Fellows of the Institute the fourth issue of the Year Book, it is hoped that it may assist in spreading abroad a better knowledge of the aims and objects of the Institute and the work which is being done in promoting the closer and permanent unity of the Empire. The current issue has been extended in various ways, as, in addition to the information embodied in the edition for 1914, it contains the latest statistical information regarding all parts of the Empire, as well as a classified list of the newspapers and magazines which are to be seen in the Institute Building. The list of Fellows has grown considerably during the past year, and the geographical lists both of Resident and Non-Resident Fellows cannot fail to prove of service to the Fellows generally. Particulars are also given regarding the competition for the Gold Medal of the Institute, and also of the Prizes for Essays which are offered by the Council to Universities and Secondary Schools. For the current year the Council has decided to suspend all these competitions except the last-named.

Fellows are particularly requested to notify all changes in their addresses, so that the monthly Journal and other communications may be forwarded without delay.

FAÇADE
ROYAL COLONIAL INSTITUTE, NORTHUMBERLAND AVENUE
II.—INTRODUCTION.

More than a generation has now passed since, in 1868, the Colonial Society was started. The Dominion of Canada had just come into being; and, though not many openly agreed with John Bright that the continuance of the British connection was burdensome to Great Britain and humiliating to Canada, still there was a widely spread undercurrent of feeling that Canadian Confederation was a half-way house to peaceful separation. It was this kind of temper, more dangerous than open hostility, that the Colonial Institute sought to counteract. Most wisely its founders recognised that the best way of going to work was not to set on foot an actively militant political organisation. What was wanted was knowledge: knowledge in England of the boundless resources and true temper of the Overseas Dominions; knowledge in the Colonies of their English kinsfolk, when once one has penetrated the outer crust. The Royal Colonial Institute (as it was named in 1870) became at once a club-house where persons from all parts of the Empire might exchange experiences, and an information bureau, whence the latest and most authoritative facts with regard to the Empire might be brought to the light of day. Starting with the modest number of one hundred and seventy-four members, the Institution so fully justified its existence that by 1880 it had over eleven hundred members. The great danger of such an organisation was that it should be run by men who disapproved of the action of their Colonial Governments, and were out of touch with Colonial public opinion; the Royal Colonial Institute has been careful to draw new blood into its veins, and has never in any way identified itself with any one school of thought regarding Colonial questions. The Papers read in its winter sessions have been a perfect quarry of first-hand knowledge, freely placed at the disposal of the inquirer, whether his purpose be historic, statistical or practical.

But it may be asked, now that the Royal Colonial Institute has achieved such success in promoting fuller knowledge, and, on both sides, a very different temper—especially now that its example has been followed by so many Leagues and Societies, has not the time come when, so far as its original purpose was concerned, it might pronounce its amic dimitis and leave to younger bodies the burden of the fray? But it must be remembered that, especially in new countries, the condition of things is always rapidly changing, so that the truth of last year is the falsehood of to-day and any record of facts and opinions requires constant modification and revision. But what institution could so efficiently carry on this work as the Institute, which in the past has done it so successfully? Moreover, while the general tone of thought regarding Imperial questions is, on both sides, most satisfactory, and there is everywhere the desire to promote friendly social intercourse, there are still problems connected with the Empire, in the solution of which the Royal Colonial Institute can give a helping hand. It is a melancholy fact that, in spite of mutual goodwill and Colonial preferences, British trade within the Empire does not grow by leaps and bounds. The Royal Colonial Institute has set on foot an Empire Trade and Industry Committee. Its objects are to encourage such trade and industry by arranging for the delivery of addresses on financial, industrial and trade subjects, by authorities before the Institute itself and before Chambers of Commerce, trade bodies, and like institutions in the leading industrial centres. There is the further object of facilitating, encouraging, and arranging industrial conferences or meetings to be attended by men of affairs from any or all parts of the Empire, in order to discuss questions of common interest with a view to regulating and co-ordinating the conditions of Empire trade and industry.

It is manifest what a sphere of usefulness is here opened out, and how well adapted the Royal Colonial Institute is, by its situation and membership, to take the lead in such a movement, and already by means of this committee the British Consular service has been made available to the Overseas Dominions. In the past year the representatives of this committee have been, to a great extent, occupied with the question how to secure for Great Britain branches of trade, within the Empire, hitherto held by Germany, but it has done good work in other directions.

Again, there is the difficult subject of emigration. To a great extent indeed this question has been settling itself. Thus it is very striking how in recent years, without State action, the current of general British emigration has been diverted from the United States to the Overseas Dominions. At the same time there are many ways in which State action might be desirable. The Royal Colonial Institute has now a standing Emigration Committee representing both its own members and the leading emigration societies. This committee has recommended that an official committee shall be constituted consisting of representatives of the private emigration societies and of experts, including a chairman, nominated by the Government. This committee shall—

(a) Advise on all general questions of policy affecting emigration.
(b) Co-ordinate the emigration societies of the United Kingdom.
(c) Take over the functions of the Emigrants' Information Office.
(d) Deal with Labour Exchanges, Boards of Guardians, &c., on all matters connected with emigration.
(e) Deal with the High Commissioners, &c., in regard to questions of emigration.

Again, on the question of the emigration of women and of children the committee has made recommendations of far-reaching importance. It has tendered evidence before the Dominions' Royal Commission, and has given special attention during the year to the question of obtaining closer co-operation between the Home and Dominion Governments and of securing the interest of Boards of Guardians in the emigration of children under their control. This is not the place to discuss the details of their proposals; all that we are concerned with here is the vigour and vitality of the parent institution of which they are the testimony and proof.

Yet another new departure must be mentioned. Recognising that in these days of democracy the task of consolidating the Empire can no longer safely be left in the hands of the upper and middle classes, the Royal Colonial Institute has sought, by means of popular illustrated lectures, to bring home to the knowledge and the conscience of the people the resources of the Empire and the opportunities and responsibilities attending on its right use and development. This work has during the last year been modified in character owing to the war; but it promises, if properly supported by the leading men in the great centres of population, to yield most valuable results.

To further stimulate interest in the Empire and in Imperial problems, the Council has offered a gold medal for some work of research; and instituted an Essay Competition for the rising generation at the schools and universities of the Empire. But while the Royal Colonial Institute has been busily at work extending its activities in a practical direction, it has not forgotten its other function of being a store-house of knowledge. Some of us can speak with personal knowledge and gratitude of the benefit its admirable library has been in pursuit of our studies. Over 101,000 volumes and pamphlets, not one of which does not relate to the objects of the Institute, are a boon, the value of which it is impossible to exaggerate; especially when they can be consulted under the guidance of a courteous and helpful librarian. A special room has been set apart as a law library, which contains a most valuable collection of statutes, law reports, treaties, &c. In the law library provision is also made for the storage and display of maps relating to all parts of the Empire. To give an idea of the Institute’s resources it may be added that during the year 1914 over 79,000 numbers of newspapers and magazines were received and filed. Considering the benefits of membership it is not astonishing to learn that the Royal Colonial Institute has now over ten thousand Fellows and Associates, and that its growing importance, the widening of its scope and the increase of its membership have necessitated a great extension of its premises. The house in Northumberland Avenue has been almost entirely rebuilt on a larger area, and “as a result,” we are told, “instead of the seven inconveniently small and inappropriate rooms formerly available, there are now twenty-five well-equipped rooms.”

These things do not indeed go to the heart of the matter. It is possible for great things to proceed from mean and stuffy surroundings, and a sumptuous club-house does not always produce an active spirit; but when, as has been made manifest, the spirit is in the right place, it is surely well that the accessories of comfort and convenience shall be added.

There is one other subject, without mention of which any account of the Royal Colonial Institute would be deficient. Useful as had been the annual volume with its permanent record of the progress made during the year, it was generally recognised that so influential a corporation should possess its own monthly organ, reflecting the various sides of its work. An editor was forthcoming who had both a practical knowledge of the Empire and was a trained littérature, whose death, during the year, all lovers of the Empire will deplore. United Empire is still in its youth; but already it has attained a wide circulation, and few will question the modest claim put forward by the Council that it “has from month to month enabled those interested in the various Overseas Dominions to keep in touch with the more important aspects of Imperial development.” The outbreak of the great war in August, 1914, further brought home to the whole world the strength of the ties binding together the scattered portions of the Empire and served to justify the faith for which the Institute is working; whilst, as appears in the Report, a War Services Committee has been able, in several ways, to be of service to the Imperial Government. Such, then, being the various grounds on which the Royal Colonial Institute has more than made good the aims of its founders, there is no one who cares for the Empire and the Empire’s well-being who will not gratefully repeat “Esto perpetua.”

H. E. Egerton.

III.—HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The Royal Colonial Institute is first and foremost a non-sectarian and non-political organisation which exists for the purpose of stimulating the loyalty of all Britons towards the Empire, and for promoting its closer and permanent unity.

It was founded on June 26, 1868, when a meeting was held at Willis’s Rooms, under the presidency of Viscount Bury, to promote the formation of a society which should assume, in relation to the Colonies, a position similar to that filled by the Royal Society as regards science, and the Royal Geographical Society as regards geography. The meeting, which comprised influential representatives of Colonial interests, and members of the Imperial Legislature who had taken a prominent part in the discussion of Colonial questions, unanimously agreed that it was desirable to establish an institution, above all mere party considerations, where persons from all parts of the British Empire might exchange experiences, and where trustworthy information might be imparted to all inquirers. A provisional committee was appointed, which drew up rules—substantially the same as those now in operation—and reported to a general meeting on August 12, 1868, when the "Colonial Society" became constituted by the adoption of such rules for its government and the election of the first President and Council.

A deputation of the Council waited upon His Grace the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos, Secretary of State for the Colonies, and the Right Hon. Sir Stafford Northcote, Secretary of State for India, with the object of obtaining their official sanction and support, which were most readily conceded. Those Ministers undertook that the Governors of the several Colonies should be addressed in favour of the Institute, which undertaking was carried into effect by their successors in office, the Right Hon. Earl Granville and His Grace the Duke of Argyll. As a result of this action, a large number of valuable works illustrative of the resources and progress of the Oversea Dominions, Colonies, and India have been added to the library. Numerous contributions have also been received from the Colonial Office and the India Office, and for some years past full particulars of the constitution and objects of the Institute have been published in the Colonial Office List, "on account of the importance of the subject to Colonists generally." The Institute is now officially included in the list of Institutions named in the Colonial Regulations, so that the whole of the Statutes of various parts of the Empire are regularly received.

On March 10, 1869, the inaugural dinner was attended by the Prime Minister (the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, M.P.), the Secretary of State for the Colonies (the Right Hon. Earl Granville), and many other distinguished guests, and was regarded as a most successful demonstration in favour of the Colonies and the Unity of the Empire.

The speeches at this banquet are of singular interest to-day. Mr. Gladstone’s reminiscences of the "Colonial Department," in which he had served thirty-four years previously; Sir George Cartier’s attempt to explain Canadian Nationalism without wounding the susceptibilities of prejudiced Britons and his challenge to the United States as to the freedom of Canada under representative rather than democratic institutions; the reminder of Mr. Hugh C. E. Childers that sea-power and the Colonies are intimately connected, and that the sea is the connecting link and not a barrier between the sons of a sea-going race—all these long-forgotten speeches will repay the attention of the historical student who cares to trace the great dynamic forces of the century to their origin.

In June, 1869, the prefix of the word "Royal" was graciously sanctioned by Her Majesty Queen Victoria. Inconvenience arising from the similarity of the initial letters to those of the Royal College of Surgeons, the name of the Society was, by the vote of a general meeting on March 7, 1870, changed to the Royal Colonial Institute.

In July, 1871, His Grace the Duke of Manchester was elected President, in succession to Viscount Bury, who retired, and in June, 1878, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales was pleased to accept that office, afterwards becoming Patron as King Edward the Seventh, the Duke of Manchester maintaining his connection with the Institute as one of its Vice-Presidents and Chairman of the Council up to the time of his death in 1890, when the office of Chairman of the Council was abolished. On his accession to the throne in 1910, His Majesty the King became Patron, and he was succeeded in the office of President by Field-Marshal H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught. During the year 1909, in view of the great extension of the work of the Institute, it was decided to revive the office of Chairman of the Council, Lieut.-General Sir J. Bevan Edwards, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., being unanimously elected to that office, and Sir Godfrey Lagden, K.C.M.G., to the office of Deputy Chairman. In 1915 Sir Charles Lucas, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., was elected Chairman, and Sir J. Bevan Edwards and Sir Godfrey Lagden both became Vice-Presidents.

In the year 1912 the Right Hon. Earl Grey accepted the office of President in succession to H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, who was graciously pleased to become Vice-Patron.

In September, 1882, Her Majesty Queen Victoria granted to the Institute a Royal Charter of Incorporation, with perpetual succession and a common seal, in recognition of the fact that since its establishment it had “sedulously pursued the objects for which it was founded,” and with a desire of “encouraging a design so laudable and salutary.”

For the past forty-six years the Institute has taken a leading part in the national work of fostering and popularising the great principle of Imperial Solidarity throughout the length and breadth of the British Empire.

IV.—ROYAL CHARTER.

GRANT

HER MAJESTY’S ROYAL CHARTER OF INCORPORATION,

DATED 26TH SEPTEMBER, 1882.

Victoria, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, Empress of India, To all to whom these Presents shall come Greeting.

Whereas His Royal Highness Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, K.G., and His Grace the Duke of Manchester, K.P., have by their Petition humbly represented to Us that they are respectively the President and Chairman of the Council of a Society established in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and called by Our Royal Authority the Royal Colonial Institute, the objects of which Society are in various ways, and in particular by means of a place of Meeting, Library and Museum, and by reading papers, holding discussions, and undertaking scientific and other inquiries, as in the said Petition mentioned, to promote the increase and diffusion of knowledge respecting as well Our Colonies, Dependencies and Possessions, as Our Indian Empire, and the preservation of a permanent union between the Mother Country and the various parts of the British Empire, and that it would enable the said objects to be more effectually attained, and would be for the public advantage if We granted to His Royal Highness Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, K.G., William Drogo Montagu, Duke of Manchester, K.P., and the other Fellows of the said Society, Our Royal Charter of Incorporation:

And whereas it has been represented to Us that the said Society has, since its establishment, sedulously pursued the objects for which it was founded by collecting and diffusing information; by publishing a Journal of Transactions: by collecting a Library of Works relating to the British Colonies, Dependencies and Possessions, and to India; by forming a Museum of Colonial and Indian productions and manufactures, and by undertaking from time to time scientific, literary, statistical, and other inquiries relating to Colonial and Indian Matters, and publishing the results thereof:

Now know ye that We, being desirous of encouraging a design so laudable and salutary, of Our especial grace, certain knowledge and mere motion, have willed, granted and declared, and do by these presents for Us, Our heirs and successors, will, grant and declare in manner following, that is to say:—

1. His Royal Highness Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, and His Grace the Duke of Manchester, and such other of Our Loving Subjects as now are Fellows of the said Society, or shall from time to time be duly admitted Fellows thereof, and their successors, are hereby constituted, and shall for ever hereafter be by virtue of these presents one body politic and corporate by the name of the Royal Colonial Institute, and for the purposes aforesaid, and by the name aforesaid, shall have perpetual succession and a Common Seal, with full power and authority to alter, vary, break, and renew the same at their discretion, and by the same name to sue and be sued in every Court of Us, Our heirs and successors, and be for ever able and capable in the law to purchase, receive, possess, hold and enjoy to them and their successors, any goods and chattels whatsoever, and to act in all the concerns of the said body politic and corporate as effectually for all purposes as any other of Our liege subjects, or any other body politic or corporate in the United Kingdom, not being under any disability, might do in their respective concerns.

2. The Royal Colonial Institute (in this Charter hereinafter called the Institute) may, notwithstanding the statutes of mortmain, take, purchase, hold and enjoy to them and their successors a Hall, or House, and any such messuages or hereditaments of any tenure as may be necessary for carrying out the purposes of the Institute, but so that the yearly value thereof to be computed at the rack rent which might be gotten for the same at the time of the purchase or other acquisition, and including the site of the said Hall, or House, do not exceed in the whole the sum of Ten Thousand Pounds. And we do hereby grant Our especial Licence and authority unto all and every person and persons, bodies politic and corporate (otherwise competent), to grant, sell, alien and convey in mortmain unto and to the use of the Institute and their successors any messuages or hereditaments not exceeding the annual value aforesaid.

3. There shall be a Council of the Institute, and the said Council and General Meetings of the Fellows to be held in accordance with this Our Charter shall, subject to the provisions of this Our Charter, have the entire management and direction of the concerns of the Institute.

4. There shall be a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, and a Secretary of the Institute. The Council shall consist of the President, Vice-Presidents, and not less than twenty Councillors; and the Secretary, if honorary.

5. His Royal Highness Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, shall be the first President of the Institute, and the other persons now being Vice-Presidents and Members of the Council of the Institute shall be the first Members of the Council, and shall continue such until an election of officers is made under these presents.

6. A General Meeting of the Fellows of the Institute shall be held once in every year, or oftener, and may be adjourned from time to time, if necessary, for the following purposes, or any of them:

(a) The election of the President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and other Members of the Council.

(b) The making, repeal, or amendment of rules and bye-laws for the Government of the Institute, for the regulation of its proceedings, for the admission or expulsion of Fellows, for the fixing of the number and functions of the Officers of the Institute, and for the management of its property and business generally.

(c) The passing of any other necessary or proper resolution or regulation concerning the affairs of the Institute.

7. The General Meetings and adjourned General Meetings of the Institute shall take place (subject to the rules of the Institute and to any power of convening or demanding a Special General Meeting thereby given) at such times as may be fixed by the Council.

8. The existing rules of the Institute, so far as not inconsistent with these presents, shall continue in force until and except so far as they are altered by any General Meeting.

9. The Council shall have the sole management of the income, funds, and property of the Institute, and may manage and superintend all other affairs of the Institute, and appoint and dismiss at their pleasure all salaried and other officers, attendants and servants as they may think fit, and may, subject to these presents and the rules of the Institute, do all such things as shall appear to them necessary and expedient for giving effect to the objects of the Institute.

10. The Council shall once in every year present to a General Meeting a report of the proceedings of the Institute, together with a statement of the receipts and expenditure, and of the financial position of the Institute, and every Fellow of the Institute may, at reasonable times to be fixed by the Council, examine the accounts of the Institute.

11. The Council may, with the approval of a General Meeting, from time to time appoint fit persons to be Trustees of any part of the real or personal property of the Institute, and may make or direct any transfer of such property necessary for the purposes of the trust, or may at their discretion take in the corporate name of the Institute Conveyances or Transfers of any property capable of being held in that name. Provided that no sale, mortgage, incumbrance or other disposition of any hereditaments belonging to the Institute shall be made unless with the approval of a General Meeting.

12. No Rule, Bye-Law, Resolution, or other proceeding shall be made or had by the Institute, or any Meeting thereof, or by the Council, contrary to the General Scope or true intent and meaning of this Our Charter, or the laws or statutes of Our Realm, and anything done contrary to this present clause shall be void.

In Witness whereof We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent.

Witness Ourself at Our Palace at Westminster, the Twenty-sixth of September in the Forty-sixth year of Our reign.

By Her Majesty's Command.
RULES.
Corrected up to the Annual Meeting of Fellows,
April 20, 1915.

OBJECTS AND CONSTITUTION.

1. The Royal Colonial Institute is established to provide a place of meeting for all gentlemen connected with the Colonies and British India, and others taking an interest in Colonial and Indian affairs; to establish a Reading-room and a Library, in which recent and authentic intelligence upon Colonial and Indian subjects may be constantly available, and a Museum for the collection and exhibition of Colonial and Indian productions; to facilitate interchange of experiences amongst persons representing all the Dependencies of Great Britain; to afford opportunities for the reading of Papers, and for holding discussions upon Colonial and Indian subjects generally; and to undertake scientific, literary, and statistical investigations in connection with the British Empire. But no Paper shall be read, nor any discussion be permitted to take place, tending to give to the Institute a party character.

2. The Institute consists of Resident, Non-Resident, and Honorary Fellows and (subject as hereinafter mentioned) Associates. A Resident Fellow is a Fellow who has his permanent home in the United Kingdom. A Non-Resident Fellow is a Fellow who has his permanent home outside the United Kingdom.

3. The Institute shall not make or distribute any gift, dividend, division, or bonus, in money, unto or between any of its Fellows.

4. The government of the Institute, and the management of all its concerns, are entrusted to the Council, subject to the Rules of the Institute.

5. Every Resident Fellow shall be eligible to fill any of the offices of the Council. Non-Resident Fellows shall, subject to the provisions of the Rules, be eligible to fill the office of Vice-President.

6. The Council shall be chosen from the Fellows, and shall consist of a President, Vice-Presidents, of whom not more than one-third may be selected from Non-Resident Fellows, twenty-four Councillors, a Treasurer, and a Secretary (when honorary). The Council shall have power to fill up any vacancies occurring in the above offices during the interval between the Annual Meetings; such ad interim appointments to be subject to confirmation at the next succeeding Annual Meeting.

7. A portion of the Council shall retire periodically, viz. the President every second year, and one-fourth, or the nearest number thereto and not exceeding the same, of the Vice-Presidents, and one-eighth, or the nearest number thereto and not exceeding the same, of the Councillors every year in rotation; the names of those so retiring to be previously announced by the Council, as hereinafter provided. The President and Vice-Presidents so retiring shall be eligible for re-election, but the retiring Councillors shall not be eligible for re-election till one year shall have elapsed.

8. The Vice-Presidents and the Councillors to retire in any year shall be those who have been longest in office. As between two and more who have been in office an equal length of time, the Vice-President or Councillor, as the case may be, to retire, shall be determined by lot. The length of time a Vice-President or Councillor has been in office shall be computed from his last election. In the case of Non-Resident Vice-Presidents, the Council may, if they think it advantageous or desirable, exempt any such Non-Resident Vice-Presidents from such retirement by rotation, but this shall not affect the total number of retirements during any one year.

9. If any Councillor shall fail to attend the Meetings of the Council for six consecutive calendar months, except by leave of the Council, the office of such Councillor shall thereupon become vacant.

Admission, &c., of Fellows.

10. Every gentleman, being a British subject, desirous of admission into the Institute as a Fellow, must be proposed and recommended according to the Form No. 1 in the Appendix hereto; and such recommendation must be subscribed by two Fellows at least, one of whom must certify his personal knowledge and approval of such candidate.

11. The certificate thus filled up shall be delivered to the Secretary, and shall be exhibited in a conspicuous place in the Rooms of the Institute for at least one week previous to election, in order that any Fellow objecting to the Candidate may communicate with the Council thereon.

12. The election of Fellows is entrusted to the Council, and the names of those so elected shall be regularly announced from the chair at each Ordinary Meeting.

13. Notice of Election shall be sent within three days to every newly elected Fellow, together with a copy of the Rules of the Institute and a List of the Fellows and Associates. But no election of a Fellow shall be complete, neither shall the name of any person so elected be printed in any list of the Institute, nor shall he be entitled to exercise any of the privileges of a Fellow until he shall have paid his first year’s subscription, and his admission fee, or shall have compounded for the same as hereinafter provided for; and unless these payments be made within three calendar months from the date of election, such election shall be void; this time may, however, be extended at the discretion of the Council.

14. Gentlemen resident in the Colonies or India, or elsewhere out of the United Kingdom, being British subjects, may be elected as Non-Resident Fellows in the same manner as Resident Fellows. Should any such Non-Resident Fellow come to the United Kingdom permanently to reside, he shall be required to pay an admission fee of Three Pounds (less the sum, if any, paid by him as an admission fee on election as a Non-Resident Fellow), and become a Resident Fellow of the Institute; but the last mentioned additional fee shall not be payable by any such Non-Resident Fellow of fifteen years standing or upwards.

15. The Council shall have the power of appointing as Honorary Fellows, Foreigners or Colonists of distinction, or other persons, whose association with the Institute may be considered advantageous; but such Honorary Fellows shall not be entitled to vote nor fill any office in the Institute.

16. Any Fellow may withdraw from the Institute by signifying his wish to do so by letter, addressed to the Secretary at the rooms of the Institute; provided always that such Fellow shall continue to be liable for his annual subscription for the year in which he signifies his wish to withdraw. He shall further continue liable for such annual subscription until he shall have discharged all sums, if any, due by him to the Institute, and shall have returned all books or other property borrowed by him of the Institute; or shall have made full compensation for the same, if lost or not forthcoming.

17. The name of the Institute shall not be used as an address on any circular letter, Fees and Subscriptions.

18. Whenev-er there shall appear to the Council to be cause for the removal of the name of any Fellow of the Institute from the List of Fellows, or on receipt of a requisition to that effect with the reasons stated and signed by not less than twenty Fellows of the Institute, the subject shall be taken into consideration by the Council; and if the Members of the Council present in each case and being not less than twelve in number shall by a majority of not less than three-fourths determine to remove such Fellow, his name shall be cancelled in the Register of Fellows, provided that no such resolution shall be acted upon in the case of a Life Fellow unless the resolution of the Council to remove such Fellow shall be confirmed by an ordinary majority at a subsequent Meeting of the Council at which not less than twelve Councillors are present.

19. Every Resident Fellow shall, on his election, be required to pay Three Pounds as his admission fee, and Two Pounds as his annual subscription for the year ending on the 31st December then next ensuing; or he may compound for his annual subscription, either at his entrance by the payment of Twenty Pounds, or after the payment of five or more annual subscriptions by the payment of Fifteen Pounds.

20. Every Non-Resident Fellow shall, on his election, be required to pay one Guinea as his admission fee, and One Guinea as his annual subscription for the year ending the 31st December then next ensuing; or he may compound for such subscription by the payment of Ten Pounds; or after the payment of twenty or more annual subscriptions by the payment of Five Pounds. Any Non-Resident Fellow who shall have become a Resident Fellow and wishes to compound, may do so by the payment of Twenty Pounds, or, if he shall have compounded as a Non-Resident Fellow, by the payment of the same sum as would have been required from a Resident Fellow, deducting the amount already paid on his compounding as a Non-Resident Fellow.

21. Any Resident Fellow absent from the United Kingdom for the whole of any calendar year shall be liable to pay the Non-Resident Fellow’s subscription of One Guinea only, if he shall have given notice in writing to the Secretary of his intended absence.

22. Any Non-Resident Fellow arriving in the United Kingdom, and remaining in the United Kingdom for a period of twelve months, shall pay the Resident Fellow’s subscription of Two Pounds per annum (less the amount already paid as a Non-Resident Fellow for that year), and shall continue to pay the same during his temporary stay in the United Kingdom.

23. The Council shall have the power of electing as a Resident Fellow or as a Non-Resident Fellow any person who, being a British subject, has been previously appointed as an Honorary Fellow and that without his becoming liable to any entrance fee, but he shall upon his election become liable to the appropriate annual subscription and to observe the Rules of the Institute.

24. All subscriptions shall be due and payable on the 1st of January in each year.

25. No Fellow shall be entitled to vote, and no Fellow shall be entitled to enjoy any other privilege of the Institute, so long as he shall continue in arrear. Honorary Fellows are not required to make any payments. The amount of annual subscription to be paid by Fellows absent from England, or joining late in the year, or for a limited time, may be varied by the Council.
26. A List of the Fellows who shall be in arrear at the time of the Annual Balance of the Accounts of the Institute shall be laid by the Treasurer before the Auditors to be certified by them.

27. Once in every year the name of every Resident Fellow in arrear for three months, or, in the case of a Non-Resident Fellow, for twelve months, together with a statement of the arrear, shall be reported to the Council by the Finance Committee, and immediate notice of the same, with an account of such arrear, shall be forwarded to each such Fellow, whose name shall have been so reported, at his last known address. If the arrear be not paid within one calendar month, or, in the case of a Non-Resident Fellow, within twelve calendar months from the date of such notice, or within such further time as the Council may grant upon special cause to them shown, the name of the Fellow so reported, together with a statement of the arrear, shall be suspended in the Rooms of the Institute. If the arrear shall not be discharged within three months after such suspension, the Council may remove the name of such Fellow from the List of Fellows.

COUNCIL.

28. The President, two Vice-Presidents, or any four Councillors, may at any time call a Special Meeting of the Council, and when such Meeting is to be held every Member of the Council residing in the United Kingdom shall be summoned by notice specifying the object thereof.

29. In all Meetings of the Council five shall be a quorum; and all questions shall be decided by open vote, unless a ballot be demanded by any three Fellows present.

30. Minutes of the proceedings of every Meeting of the Council shall be taken during their progress, in a rough book, by the Secretary, or, in case of his absence, by a Fellow present, whom the President or Chairman shall appoint for the occasion; they shall be afterwards copied into a fair Minute-book to be kept for that purpose, read at the next Meeting of the Council, and, when confirmed, signed by the President or Chairman.

31. The Accounts of the Institute shall be from time to time examined by the Council, who shall present and cause to be read to the Annual Meeting a complete statement thereof, together with a report on the general affairs of the Institute during the preceding year.

32. The Council shall, from time to time, publish the proceedings and transactions of the Institute, and accompany them with maps, papers, and other matter, as occasion may require.

33. Each Fellow shall be entitled to a copy of the publications of the Institute; but the mode of distribution shall be decided by the Council.

34. The Council shall, so soon as convenient, establish a Library, Reading-room, and Museum, to which all Fellows, and strangers provided with an order from a Fellow, shall be admitted, under such restrictions as may appear to the Council necessary.

35. The Council may appoint persons, not being Members of the Council, to be salaried Officers, Clerks, or Servants, for carrying on the necessary concerns of the Institute, and may define the duties to be performed by them respectively; and may allow to them respectively such salaries, gratuities, and privileges as to the Council may seem proper; and may suspend or discharge any Officer, Clerk, or Servant from office, whenever there shall seem to them occasion for so doing.

36. The Council may appoint in any Colony or Dependency of the British Empire, or elsewhere when it may seem expedient, one or more Fellows as Corresponding Secretary or Secretaries.
Committees.

37. There shall be six permanent working Committees of Council, namely: 1, Finance and General Purposes; 2, Organisation; 3, Library; 4, House and Social; 5, Emigration; 6, Trade and Industry.

38. Twice at least in each year a Committee of the Council shall examine, in detail, the state of the Household, the Secretary’s department, and the degree of care displayed in keeping the Official Books, the Library, the Museum, &c.

39. The Council may refer particular subjects to Committees, and such Committees shall report to the Council the result of their proceedings.

40. All Committees shall be appointed by the Council. The President, Chairman of the Council, and Secretary (when honorary) shall, ex officio, be Members of all Committees.

41. No act, order, or resolution of any Committee shall bind the Institute unless it be done or made by the direction and authority of the Council, or be ratified by them.

42. It shall be competent for the Council to invite the co-operation of persons, not Fellows of the Institute, but who have special knowledge of any particular subject and to place such persons on any Committee which may be appointed.

President.

43. The President, when present, presides at all Meetings of the Council and of the Fellows. The Council shall annually elect a Chairman of the Council, who shall hold office for one year, and shall be eligible for re-election, and shall preside in the absence of the President. In the absence of the President, and of the Chairman of the Council, one of the Vice-Presidents, or one of the Members of the Council, shall supply the place of the President or Chairman of the Council.

44. It is the duty of the Chairman of the Council to carry out the Rules of the Institute, to see that all the Officers of the Institute, and Members of the Council and of Committees perform the duties assigned to or undertaken by them respectively; to call for Reports and Accounts from Committees and persons; to cause of his own authority, and, when necessary, Special Meetings of the Council and of the Committees to be summoned; and to propose, from time to time, to the Council such measures as shall appear to him conducive to the welfare of the Institute.

45. It is the duty of the Chairman of the Council, conjointly with the Council, to consider and reserve on the names of Fellows who are to be recommended at the Annual Meeting to fill up all vacant offices.

46. When prevented from being present at the Meetings of the Fellows or Council, or from otherwise attending to the current business of the Institute, the Chairman of the Council will be expected to give timely notice thereof to one of the Vice-Presidents, or, in their absence, to some other Member of the Council, or to the Secretary, in order that his place may be properly supplied.

47. The President, or, in his absence, the Chairman for the time being, shall have power to rule and regulate the discussions arising at any Meeting of the Institute.

48. In all Meetings of the Institute and Council, except in the cases otherwise provided for, the decision of a majority of the Fellows voting shall be considered as a decision of the Meeting, the President or Chairman having a casting vote, in addition to his own vote.

Treasurer.

49. The Treasurer has special charge of all Accounts, and shall see to the collection of all sums of money due to the Institute, which, when received, shall be immediately paid to the Bankers of the Institute.
50. In concert with the Secretary, the Treasurer shall keep a List of the Fellows of the Institute, with the name and address of each accurately set forth, which List, with all Books of Account, shall be laid on the table at every Ordinary Meeting of the Council.

51. He shall pay all Accounts due by the Institute, as soon as they have been examined and approved by the Council. But no drafts on its Bankers shall be payable unless signed by two of the Council and countersigned by the Secretary. The Accounts of the Treasurer shall be annually audited by a firm of Chartered Accountants appointed by the Fellows at the Annual General Meeting.

Ordinary Meetings.

52. The Ordinary Meetings shall be held on such evenings, and at such hour, as may from time to time be fixed by the Council.

53. Visitors, if introduced by Fellows, may be present at the Ordinary Meetings, such privilege of introducing Visitors being limited to one only for each Fellow; but should a Fellow desire to introduce a second visitor he can obtain from the Secretary a special card of admission.

54. At the Ordinary Meetings the order of proceedings shall be as follows:—

A. The Minutes of the last Meeting to be read, and, if their accuracy be not questioned by the Meeting, to be signed by the President or Chairman.

B. Election of Candidates to be announced.

C. Papers and Communications to be read and discussed.

55. At the Ordinary Meetings of the Institute nothing relating to its Rules or Management, except as regards the election of Fellows, shall be brought forward unless the same shall have been announced in the notice calling the Meeting, or be otherwise provided for in these Rules. But the Minute-book of the Council shall be on the table at each Meeting, and extracts therefrom may be read to the Meeting on the requisition of any Fellow.

56. No paper shall be read at any Ordinary Meeting of the Institute unless it shall have been approved of by the Council or by the Committee on Papers and Publications; but this approval shall not be taken as expressing an opinion upon the statements made or the arguments used in such Paper.

Special Meetings.

57. The Council may at any time call a Special General Meeting of the Institute, and it shall be imperative on the Council to summon such Meeting, whenever required in writing so to do by at least twenty-five Fellows of the Institute.

58. A week's notice at least of the time when, and the object for which, every Special Meeting is to be held, shall be sent to every Resident Fellow and to every Non-Resident Fellow of the Institute who has registered an address for service in the United Kingdom; and no other business than that of which notice has been thus given shall be entered upon or discussed at such Meeting.

59. A Special General Meeting, convened as herein provided, may be held on any one of the days appointed for the Ordinary General Meetings, in which case the special business shall be entered upon immediately after the ordinary business of the day is closed.

60. Thirty Fellows must be present to constitute a Special General Meeting.
ANNUAL MEETING.

61. The Annual Meeting shall be held not later than the month of May.

62. Every Non-Resident Fellow shall be at liberty to register at the Institute an address for service of notices in the United Kingdom.

63. Notice of this Meeting shall be sent to every Resident Fellow and to every Non-Resident Fellow of the Institute who has registered an address for service in the United Kingdom, together with the Voting List referred to in Rule 65, and such notice and Voting List shall be sent as soon after the Ordinary Meeting referred to in Rule 65 as possible, and at least fourteen days before the day of the Annual Meeting. Notice of the Annual Meeting shall also be inserted in two or more English newspapers at least one week before the day of the Meeting.

64. The business of this Meeting shall be to receive and discuss the Annual Report of the Council, to hear the President’s Address, to announce the result of the voting for the election of Fellows to fill the vacancies on the Council, and to consider such business as shall be brought forward by the Council or with the sanction of the Council, and which shall have been stated in the notice convening such Meeting.

65. For the purpose of filling the vacancies annually occurring under the provisions of Rule 7 in the Council, the Council shall prepare a List of Fellows, to be nominated by them as suitable to fill the vacancies to occur at the end of the year in the offices of President, Vice-President, Treasurer, and Councillors. The Council shall nominate a sufficient number of Fellows to fill the vacancies for that year, and then there shall be added to such List the name of any Fellow nominated since the last Annual General Meeting in writing by not less than twenty Resident Fellows for the office of Councillor, the consent in writing of such Candidate having been first obtained and forwarded with the nomination to the Secretary at least twenty-eight days previous to the date of the Annual Meeting. Provided always, that no Resident Fellow (who is not a member of the Council) may nominate more than one Fellow for the office of Councillor in any one year. Such List shall be the Voting List for the Annual Election. If no Fellow shall be nominated for the office of Councillor aforesaid in addition to the nominations by the Council, the Fellows nominated by the Council to fill the vacancies in the various offices for that year shall be deemed respectively elected without any ballot being necessary, and the Voting List need not be printed and circulated. If there shall be additional nominations for the office of Councillor the Voting List shall be printed, and a copy thereof sent by post, with all requisite instructions for voting and an official envelope, with the notice convening the Annual Meeting, to every Resident Fellow and every Non-Resident Fellow of the Institute who has registered an address for service in the United Kingdom, and shall be returned in the official envelope to the Secretary, duly filled up and signed by such Fellow, at least three clear days before the Annual Meeting. At the Ordinary Meeting next before each Annual Meeting two Fellows shall be chosen to act as Scrutineers for the purpose of the voting for the ensuing year, one of whom shall be nominated and appointed by and on behalf of the Council, and the other by and on behalf of the Fellows. The Scrutineers so appointed whenever a ballot takes place shall, prior to the Annual Meeting, open the official envelopes received by the Secretary containing the Voting Lists and count the votes and report in writing to the Council the names of those duly elected, together with the names of those, if any, for whom an equality of votes may have been cast. In the event of an equality of votes, the result shall be determined by vote of the Council.
on the day of the Annual Meeting. Any Voting List on which a Fellow has voted for a number, either more or less, than the necessary number of persons to fill up the vacancies in the offices of President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Councillors respectively, shall be rejected by the Scrutineers. The notice of Meeting and the Voting List shall be in the form set forth in the Schedule to these Rules, or as near thereto as may be.

66. The chair shall be taken at the hour appointed in the Notice of the Meeting, or as soon thereafter as twenty Fellows shall be present.

ASSOCIATES.

67. Ladies being British subjects wherever resident, and gentlemen being British subjects resident in the United Kingdom, may be admitted to the enjoyment of the following privileges connected with the Institute, but shall not be corporate Members or Fellows. They shall be called Associates and shall be entitled to receive a copy of the Monthly Journal of the Institute; to attend any meeting held for the reading of papers, any Provincial Conferences of the Institute, and the Annual Conversazione, but they shall not be entitled to attend any Annual or Special General Meeting.

68. The election of Associates is intrusted to the Council, and every candidate desiring to become an Associate must be proposed by a Fellow or Associate from personal knowledge according to form No. 2 in the Appendix hereto.

69. Every Associate shall on election and on every succeeding 1st day of January pay £1 as his or her annual subscription for the current year ending on the 31st December next ensuing or may compound for such subscription by the payment of Ten Pounds.

70. The provisions contained in the under-mentioned Rules shall apply to Associates, but nothing in this or any other Rule shall confer upon Associates any privileges beyond those conferred by Rule 67. The Rules specially last above referred to are Nos. 13, 16, 17, 18, 25, 26, and 27.

ALTERATION OF RULES.

71. Any alteration in these Rules, recommended by the Council, may be proposed at the Annual Meeting, or may be submitted at any Ordinary or Special Meeting, notice thereof having been given under the provisions of Rule 55, provided that such proposed alteration shall have been exhibited in a conspicuous place in the Rooms of the Institute, for at least one calendar month previous to the Meeting at which it shall be submitted.

72. Any twenty-five Fellows may propose to the Council any new Rule, or the alteration or repeal of any existing Rule, by letter addressed to the Secretary; and, if dissatisfied with the answer of the Council, they may require that their proposition be referred to a Special General Meeting, which the Council shall convene for that purpose within one calendar month after receiving such requisition.

73. No repeal or alteration of any of these Rules, nor addition thereto, shall be considered valid unless concurred in by three-fourths of the Fellows present and voting in each case.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING.

ROYAL COLONIAL INSTITUTE,
NORTHUMBERLAND AVENUE,
LONDON, W.C.

Dear Sir,—

I am instructed to inform you that the Annual General Meeting of the Fellows will be held on the May, 19, at o'clock, to receive and discuss the Annual Report of the Council, to hear the President's Address, to announce the result of the Voting for the Election of Fellows to fill the vacancies on the Council, and to consider the following business:

The Council have, in accordance with the Rules, prepared a List of Fellows nominated suitable to fill the vacancies to occur at the end of the year in the offices of President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Councillors.

The President retires, pursuant to Rule 7, at the end of the present year, but is eligible and is nominated for re-election.

The following Vice-Presidents retire, pursuant to the same rule, and are also eligible and nominated for re-election:

The following Councillors also retire pursuant to Rule 7:

and are not eligible for re-election this year.

Annexed is a copy of the total List of Fellows nominated to fill the above vacancies which, pursuant to Rule 65, is to be the Voting List for the Annual Election. It is to be signed and returned in the official envelope enclosed herewith to the Secretary at least three clear days before the Annual Meeting.

Your attention is particularly requested to the instructions at the foot of the Voting List.

I am, dear Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Secretary.

Directions to Fellows Using Voting List

1. The voter is to put a X against the names of those for whom he wishes to vote. Nothing else may be written on any Voting List, and the Voting List must be signed by the Voter.

2. Any Voting List on which a Fellow has voted for a number, either more or less, than the number of persons necessary to fill up the vacancies in the respective offices will be rejected by the Scrutineers.

3. The Voter may not in forwarding the Voting List use any envelope other than the one enclosed for his particular use, which must be fastened down and the postage prepaid.

4. By Rule 25 no Fellow shall be entitled to vote if his subscription is in arrear.

   *If the foregoing directions be not complied with by any voter his list will be rejected and his votes will be lost.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I bequeath the sum of £_________ to the Royal Colonial Institute, Incorporated by Royal Charter 1882, and I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Corporation shall be an effectual discharge for the said Bequest which I direct to be paid within _______ calendar months after my decease without any reduction whatsoever, whether on account of Legacy Duty thereon or otherwise, out of such part of my estate as may be lawfully applied for that purpose.

Those persons who feel disposed to benefit the Royal Colonial Institute by Legacies are recommended to adopt the above Form of Bequest.
V.—THE INSTITUTE BUILDING.

In the year 1869 the Institute occupied two rooms in the Westminster Palace Hotel, temporary office-room having been previously given in Victoria Chambers by Sir George Verdon, a Member of the Council. In the following year, rooms were acquired at 26, Suffolk Street, Pall Mall East. In 1871 the subject of house accommodation was again considered, and on November 20 of that year three rooms, constituting the first floor of 15, Strand, were engaged at an annual rental of £150. This accommodation was extended by taking in the upper floor of that house on January 7, 1873.

In the year 1883 it was decided to acquire a permanent home for the Institute in lieu of the very inadequate premises hitherto occupied. The lease of a site in Northumberland Avenue—the freehold of which has since been purchased—was secured, and, after a total expenditure of £50,000, part of the present substantial and commodious building was occupied in 1885.

The growing importance of the Institute, the widening of its scope, and increase of its membership rendered extension of the premises in occupation a matter of pressing urgency, and in June 1910 the opportunity was afforded to absorb and consolidate the whole property for the use and benefit of the Fellows.

Under a reconstruction scheme the premises in Northumberland Avenue were almost entirely rebuilt, with the idea of providing more suitable and adequate accommodation. As a result, instead of the seven inconveniently small and inappropriate rooms formerly available, there are twenty-five well-equipped rooms, and the building as it now stands consists of five stories apportioned as follows: In the basement is the parliamentary library, library store-rooms, and the Advertisement Department for the Journal, together with lavatories, &c. On the ground floor is the entrance-hall, on the left of which is a general-room in which smoking is allowed and the daily papers, writing materials, &c., are available. On the right is a reception-room in which ladies, as well as the Fellows, can obtain tea and coffee, and meet their friends. On the right again are the hall porter's lodge where Fellows obtain their correspondence, and the general office, in which is the chief clerk's room. On the mezzanine floor is the Secretary's department. The general library occupies the whole of the first floor. On the half-landing between the first and second floors is the law library and map-room. On the second floor, occupying the whole of the frontage to Northumberland Avenue and the portion of the Craven Street premises, is the newspaper-room, a spacious apartment in which the newspapers, official gazettes, &c., from all parts of the Empire are regularly filed. On the third floor are the council-room and smoking-room, and on the fourth floor the editorial department, the Empire lectures department, the Trade and Industry Committee, the Organisation Committee, the Information Bureau, a typewriting room for the use of the Fellows where letters can be dictated and typed, and the housekeeper's quarters.
VI. PRIVILEGES OF FELLOWS AND ASSOCIATES.

The Institute consists of Resident and Non-Resident Fellows, and Associates (who must be British Subjects).

(a) FELLOWS.

A Resident Fellow (who has a permanent home in the United Kingdom) pays an entrance fee of £3 and an annual subscription of £2; a Non-Resident Fellow (who has his permanent home outside the United Kingdom) pays an entrance fee of £1 1s. (which is increased to £3 when taking up permanent residence in the United Kingdom) unless he has been a Fellow for a period of 15 years, and an annual subscription of £1 1s. (which is increased to £2 when in the United Kingdom for more than twelve months). Resident Fellows can compound for the annual subscription by the payment of £20, or after five years' annual subscriptions of £2 on payment of £15; and Non-Resident Fellows can compound for the non-resident annual subscriptions on payment of £10, or after the payment of twenty or more annual subscriptions on the payment of £5.

Privileges of Fellows.—The privileges of Fellows, whose subscriptions are not in arrear, include the use of the Institute building, which comprises reading, writing, reception and smoking rooms; a library containing over 101,000 volumes and pamphlets relating to the history, government, trade, resources and development of the British Dominions. The newspaper-room contains files of over 800 of the leading journals, magazines, and reviews of all parts of the Empire, which are regularly received and filed. Books may be borrowed—subject to the library regulations—and the correspondence of Fellows may be addressed to the care of the Institute. Fellows have the advantage of a standing postal and registered telegraphic and cable address in the United Kingdom. Fellows are entitled to be present at the ordinary meetings, and to introduce one visitor; to be present at any annual provincial conference; to be present at the annual conversazione, and to introduce a lady. The Institute is open on week-days from 9.30 a.m. to 8 p.m. The monthly journal, entitled United Empire, is forwarded to all Fellows whose addresses are known, free of charge.

(b) ASSOCIATES.

Ladies who are British subjects, wherever resident, and Gentlemen who are British subjects resident in the United Kingdom, may become Associates of the Royal Colonial Institute on payment of an annual subscription of £1 or may compound for such subscription by the payment of £10.

Associates, although not corporate members of the Institute, will be able:

1. To join with the Fellows in carrying out the great aims and objects of the Institute.
2. They will receive a copy of the monthly Journal.
3. May become members of local centres.
4. Attend all meetings held for the reading of Papers, Empire Lectures, and Provincial Conferences.
5. And also the Annual Conversazione in London.

The election of Associates is made by the Council, and Candidates must be proposed by a Fellow or Associate from personal knowledge.
VII.—PUBLICATIONS.

Annual Volume of "Proceedings."

In the year 1869 the first volume of the "Proceedings of the Royal Colonial Institute" was issued. It contained a complete report of the meeting called by public advertisement for the purpose of adopting measures for forming an Association to be called the Colonial Society, at which speeches were made by Viscount Bury (afterwards the Earl of Albemarle), the Right Hon. Chichester Fortescue, M.P., Mr. Leonard Wray, Mr. A. H. Louis, the Marquis of Normanby, Mr. Baillie Cochrane, M.P., Sir H. Drummond Wolff, Mr. Edward Wilson, Mr. W. B. Hume, Sir Charles Nicholson, Mr. Henry Blaine, Mr. Marsh, M.P., and Mr. Selim Jackson. A full account of the proceedings at the inaugural dinner, at which Viscount Bury presided, also appeared in the volume. It was a memorable occasion in view of the fact that a large number of the leading politicians of the time representing the Motherland and the Overseas Dominions, Colonies and India were present, including Mr. Gladstone, Earl Granville, the Duke of Manchester, Sir Bartle Frere, Sir Charles Nicholson, Sir George E. Cartier, Sir Charles Clifford, Sir George Verdon, Sir George Macleay, Captain Charles Sturt, Sir James A. Youl, Mr. W. C. Wentworth, and many other distinguished men. In the report of the inaugural meeting, which was held in the Theatre of the Institution of Civil Engineers on March 15, 1869, Viscount Bury referred at some length to the great increase in the number of scientific and literary institutions which was observable at that time, and emphasised the fact that in his opinion an unnecessary number of institutions differing only slightly from each other in the objects which they professed to aim at, frittered away in the expenses of management funds which, under a system of cordial cooperation, would have been available for more extended and practical usefulness. He claimed that there was no society or body of men in existence in England dealing with the one great object of the Society—the diffusion of accurate information upon Colonial subjects among our countrymen. The first Paper read before the Institute dealt with "The Relations of the Colonies to the Mother Country," which was written by Mr. W. Westgarth, and is a subject that has always occupied a prominent place in the annual programme of the Institute. The Institute, through its publications, has done a vast amount of valuable work, more especially in diffusing accurate information to those in this country desiring to gain a knowledge of the various Overseas Possessions, as well as in shaping public opinion by quiet and steady educational work. The first volume of the "Proceedings" contained 216 pages, and the second 166. In succeeding years the size of the volume of "Proceedings" varied between 400 and 500 pages. The "Proceedings" continued to be issued until the year 1909, when they were replaced by a monthly journal entitled United Empire. Forty volumes in all were issued.

The "Journal."

In the year 1890 it was decided to issue an additional publication to be known as the "Journal of the Royal Colonial Institute," to be published in advance of and in addition to the annual volume of "Proceedings." The first number appeared in December, 1890, and it was issued during eight months of each year, viz., from December to July inclusive, until December, 1909. The number of volumes issued was nineteen.
"United Empire."

During the year 1909, it having been decided that a review, or magazine, would be one of the most effective means for widening the sphere of influence of the Institute and increasing its popularity and usefulness, a new monthly journal, entitled "United Empire," was issued on January 1, 1910, which superseded both the annual volume of "Proceedings" and the "Journal." This review is designed to cover as far as possible the whole field of Imperial activities, and cannot fail to prove of advantage to the trader, manufacturer, and farmer, as well as to officials, politicians and others in all parts of the Empire. The yearly volume averages about one thousand pages, and contains numerous maps, illustrations and diagrams. Its contents comprise the Papers read at the meetings of the Institute, articles contributed by recognised authorities on Imperial questions, editorial notes, &c. Special sections are devoted to reviews and notices of books, pamphlets, &c., relating to all parts of the Overseas Empire; to information regarding Empire trade and industry; and to "Round the Empire Notes." The journal, which is not only sent to every Fellow and Associate of the Institute, but to Societies, Institutions and Clubs wherever British Committees exist, is edited jointly by Sir Harry Wilson, K.C.M.G., and Mrs. Archibald Colquhoun.

VIII.—MEETINGS.

The ordinary general meetings of the Institute at which Papers are read or addresses delivered are held on the second Tuesdays during the months of November to June at 8.30 P.M. Afternoon meetings for the same purpose are also held during the above-mentioned months at 4 P.M. The Papers are often illustrated by lantern slides, and the subjects are so selected as to embrace all parts of the Overseas Empire. A discussion takes place upon all occasions. The evening meetings are preceded by a dinner, which takes place at 7 o'clock, and is attended by Fellows and their friends, both ladies and gentlemen, and so assists in promoting acquaintanceship amongst them. The following Papers were read and discussed during the Session 1914-15:—

"Newfoundland, the Oldest Part of the Empire." By the Right Hon. Sir Edward Morris, K.C.M.G., K.C., L.L.D. (Premier of Newfoundland).

"Northern Rhodesia." By the Ven. Archdeacon A. G. De la Pryme.

"The Gold Coast and its Dependencies—the Legend and the Reality." By Sir Hugh Clifford, K.C.M.G. (Governor of the Colony).

"The War: British and German Trade in Nigeria." By R. E. Dennett.

"The Expansion of Britain's Imperial Relations with the Overseas Dominions Resulting from the War." By Henry A. Ellis, M.B.

"The Training of the New Armies." By the Right Hon. the Earl of Meath, K.P.

"The Empire and the War." By Professor Spenser Wilkinson.

"The Romance and Rally of the Empire." By Edward Salmon.

Christmas Lectures for Young People.

"Wild Beasts and Birds of the British Empire." By Richard Kearton F.Z.S., F.R.P.S.

"Sarawak and its People." By H.H. the Ranee of Sarawak.
IX.—THE LIBRARY.

The library of the Royal Colonial Institute contains one hundred thousand volumes and pamphlets relating to the British Dominions, Colonies, and India, or discussing problems of administration and colonisation. One of the objects for which the Institute was founded was the formation of such a library, but owing to lack of funds little progress was made until the Council were in a position to vote a small annual grant. In 1881, thirteen years after the foundation of the Institute, the library only contained 2,500 volumes, but from about the year 1886 substantial progress was made, so that at the present time it can claim to possess the most complete collection of Colonial literature brought together under one roof. Although many valuable and necessary books were annually purchased, the substantial increase of recent years is largely attributable to donations from the various Overseas Governments and India, the Secretaries of State, the different learned societies, Chambers of Commerce, and other public bodies, and from publishers and authors in all parts of the Empire. Co-operation from these quarters has enabled the Institute to gather together a unique collection which is of great value to students of Empire topics and to all those who are seeking information with regard to the administration, resources, trade, history, law, ethnology, and general conditions of the wide domains under the British flag. The library, the main portion of which is situated on the first floor of the Institute building, is divided into as many sections as there are separate administrative units within the Empire. These sections are further subdivided according to subjects, so that all the books on a given topic are found together on the shelves. To take a specific example: under Canada will be found the books dealing with the history, agriculture, fauna, education, &c., of the Dominion, each contained in separate divisions. The parliamentary library, which contains the Blue-books, parliamentary reports, debates, sessional papers, government gazettes, and general official literature issued by the Overseas Governments, is contained in the basement. In these official publications is hidden away an immense amount of information of value to students of sociology, history, ethnology, &c. Of specially important publications may be mentioned the various geological, archaeological, ethnological, and other surveys, the gazetteers issued by the Indian Government, and the different departmental reports. This room has been fitted with rolling book-stacks which contain long sets of periodicals, agricultural journals, and publications of a similar nature, including a collection of colonial municipal reports, regulations, and mayors' minutes. On the ground floor are some of the proceedings of the learned and literary societies, many of which are of great importance. It is only necessary to name a few, such as the Royal Society of Canada, the Royal Societies of Victoria and other Australian States, the Royal Geographical Societies of the different portions of the Empire, as well as the British and Foreign Geographical Societies, such as those of London, Liverpool, Paris, Lisbon, Vienna, Madrid, and Antwerp. Next to the general library, on the first floor, is situated the law library and map room. This portion of the library is one of its most valuable sections, for it not only contains almost complete sets of the statutes of the Dominions, Colonies, and India, but also long sets of the various law reports and law journals and many treatises on special aspects of Colonial Law.

The practical importance of the law library has been demonstrated by the frequent reference to its contents by lawyers engaged upon Privy Council and other legal work connected with the Dominions and Crown Colonies. In the law library is also kept an extensive collection of several thousand maps and charts, presented mainly by the Admiralty, the War Office, and the Overseas Governments.

A section of the library of value to historical students is that which contains the proceedings of the various American historical societies, of which there are several long sets in the library, notably those of the American Historical Association, the New York Historical Society, the Ohio, Michigan, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, and Iowa Societies. Another important section is the Cobham collection of books relating to Cyprus, presented by C. Delaval Cobham, Esq., C.M.G. This contains practically every printed book describing the island and its history and antiquities, and includes many rare and valuable volumes.

The additions to the library are catalogued upon cards, and every item which deals in any way with the British Empire, be it book, pamphlet, or magazine article, is carefully noted for future reference. The first printed catalogue was published in 1881, and the last in 1901, since which date no catalogue has been issued for distribution. The printed catalogues form a fairly complete bibliography of the literary activities of the Empire, and the manuscript catalogues reveal the immense range of literature published during recent years. Amongst the treasures of the library are many books of great value and rarity, both bibliographically and historically. The collection of drawings made by William Westall, A.R.A., who accompanied Flinders on his expedition to the shores of Australia in 1801-2, is unique, as are those of scenes in the Transvaal and in Rhodesia made by A. A. Anderson. The collection of books relating to Australia is extensive, and contains the chief collections of voyages to the South Seas, a valuable set of Gould’s Birds, and many scarce pamphlets. The Dominion of Canada is also well represented, and amongst the rarer books may be noted Colden’s “History of the Five Nations” (1747); Jeffrey’s “Natural and Civil History of the French Dominions in North and South America” (1761); Rogers’ “Account of North America” (1765); Sagard’s “Le Grand Voyage du Pays des Hurons” (1632); Dampierre’s “Histoire de l’Americque Septentrionale”; Charlevoix’s “Histoire de La Nouvelle France” (1744), and the celebrated series of the Jesuit Relations. The literature relating to the West Indies is extensive, and contains Davies’s “History of the Caribby Islands” (1666); Burton’s “English Empire in America” (1685); Blome’s “Jamaica” (1672), and Hickeingill’s “Jamaica Viewed,” an extremely rare publication issued in 1661. The African section, Eastern, Western, and Southern, is of great interest. Here are the sumptuous volumes issued by Ogilby in 1670, containing some of the earliest illustrations of the Cape, the quaint literary hoax written by Dampierre in 1801, Kolbe’s “Present State of the Cape” (1718), and the works of the principal African voyagers and discoverers, such as Sparrmann, Paterson, Barrow, Lichtenstein, Le Vaillant, Latrobe, Burchell, and many others. A splendid edition of Daniell’s “African Scenery and Animals” and other rare illustrated works add distinction to this section of the library. The Indian section also contains many of the more important works relating to India, and a special section is devoted to Egypt and the Sudan. Nor are the smaller dependencies neglected. There is quite a collection of literature relating to the Falkland Islands, and even such small islands as the Cocos-Keeling group and Fanning Island have their section in the catalogue as well as on the shelves. Of general works of travel attention may be directed to those known as Hakluyt (1598-1600); Purchas (1625-6); Churchill (1732); Harleian (1745); Harris (1705); Callander (1788); Burney (1803-17); Pinkerton (1808); Astley (1745-7); Kerr (1811-24); Ramusio (1554-83), and Prevost (1746-70), and the publications of the Hakluyt, Navy Records, Linschoten, and similar societies. Among special sections may be mentioned one containing the prose and poetic writings of Colonial littérateurs. The importance of the growing national literatures of Canada, Australia, and even South Africa is attested by the size of the special sections. There is also a botanical section in which the chief works on the floras of the Colonies are kept, and a language section containing publications on and in native languages is being formed. A journey round the bookshelves reveals the greatness of the British Empire, and brings home in a better way than can perhaps be done elsewhere the vast amount of literature that has been written about the British possessions. The library is becoming more and more known to literary workers, and many well-known works on subjects of colonial and imperial interest have been written within its walls.

X.—THE NEWSPAPER ROOM.

Over nine hundred newspapers, journals, and magazines are received and filed at the Institute. Most of the monthly and quarterly magazines are kept in the library or on tables in the law-room, but the newspapers and weekly journals are displayed on stands in the newspaper-room. They include periodical publications from every portion of the British Empire, arranged in different sections, and can be easily and quickly found. It may be stated that almost every newspaper of any importance is received, many of them being presented by their publishers. Fellows from overseas and Resident Fellows who have returned to the Mother Country find the newspaper-room one of the most useful features of the Institute, for by means of the files of current papers they are enabled to keep in close touch with events in the portion of the Empire with which they are connected. No other institution has so good a display of Colonial periodical publications. It would be invidious to point out any special paper or journal, but attention may be directed to the various classes of papers that are filed in this room. First are the daily newspapers published in the capitals and chief cities of the Empire, and reflecting the political and social life of their respective spheres. The majority of these, after the expiration of one year, are handed over to the British Museum for permanent storage, and Fellows of the Institute may always consult back files on presentation of their card to the Museum officials. Then there are the official gazettes from every State in the Empire. These are kept permanently in the Institute so that they may be available for reference at any time. Many important trade journals, both of a technical and commercial character, are also received, and by their aid the business man is able to follow the different commercial movements in the Empire. There are in addition a number of papers and magazines of a special character, relating to medicine and tropical hygiene, mining, engineering, and tropical products; whilst the magazines include the chief British and overseas monthlies, and reflect every phase of thought. The magazines also include the agricultural journals of the different States, the periodical journals of the chief British, Colonial, and foreign learned societies, the journals of the principal geographical societies, a number of reviews dealing with anthropological and linguistic topics, and the various law reports and legal journals published in the Overseas Dominions.
XI.—LIST OF NEWSPAPERS AND MAGAZINES.

This list does not include the large number of Transactions of Societies received in bound volumes, nor official publications appearing at irregular intervals.

The asterisk denotes periodicals that are kept in the Library for permanent reference; the others, after being kept on file, are sent to the British Museum, where they are available for the use of Fellows.

XII.—GOLD MEDAL FOR SCIENTIFIC INQUIRY.

The Gold Medal of the Royal Colonial Institute is offered annually for the best research monograph on some subject, which the Council will determine, bearing directly upon the practical problem of the closer and permanent union of the Empire. In addition to the medal a grant of one hundred guineas is made to the successful competitor, together with Honorary Fellowship of the Institute for life. Apart from the successful monograph, the Council may award pecuniary acknowledgment for monographs of special merit. The aim of the Council is to encourage scientific inquiry into such particular questions directly affecting the Imperial problem as may seem susceptible of that mode of treatment. The first Gold Medallist was Mr. F. A. KirKPATRICK. The competition for the year 1911–15 is at present being judged, the adjudicators being Lord Nydenham, G.C.S.I., G.C.M.G., Colonel Duncan Ritchie and Mr. J. W. D. Johnstone, C.I.E.

Owing to the War the Council have decided to suspend this competition for the year 1915–16.

XIII.—PRIZES FOR ESSAYS.

The Council of the Royal Colonial Institute, desiring to encourage the rising generation to acquire a better and more extended knowledge and appreciation of His Majesty’s Empire, offer prizes to young men and women undergoing education, for essays on subjects of Imperial concern. It is felt that the preparation of such essays would tend to stimulate interest in the history, institutions, and resources of the various countries which constitute the Empire.

The subject selected for the present year’s competition is “The Probable Influence of the War upon the relations between the Mother Country and the Dominions.”

The University Prizes will not be awarded this year owing to a large number of undergraduates having volunteered for military service.

CONDITIONS FOR 1915.

1. The Council offer one prize of £10 and one of £5 to pupils of any school in the British Empire, who do not exceed the age of nineteen years at the time fixed for sending in the essays.

2. The competition is open to both sexes.

3. Certificates will be awarded to the prize winners, and to such other competitors as may appear deserving.

4. The length of the papers not to exceed 5,000 words, to be written on one side only of foolscap paper, with an inch and a half margin on the left-hand side.

5. The papers to be delivered at the Institute not later than 5 p.m. on October 11, 1915.

6. Not more than three papers to be sent in from any one school.

7. Each envelope to be marked on the left-hand upper corner “Essay Competition,” “School,” and addressed to “The Secretary, Royal Colonial Institute, Northumberland Avenue, London.”

8. Each essay to be marked with a motto or other distinguishing sign—not being the name of the writer—and accompanied by a sealed envelope, bearing a similar motto or sign, and containing the full name and address of the writer of the essay.

9. Each essay to be accompanied by a certificate from some person holding a public position, e.g., a minister of religion, professor, &c., declaring that such person has satisfied himself or herself that the essay marked (quoting the mark or sign) is the genuine work of the writer named in the accompanying sealed envelope; that such writer is a member of the university or school—as the case may be—and, as to a university, has not been a member of such university for more than three years; and in the case of a school, does not exceed the age of nineteen years on the latest date fixed for the delivery of the essay at the Institute.

10. Successful competitors to furnish any further proofs of compliance with the terms of the competition that may be required by the Council.

11. Papers illegibly written or not complying with the regulations will be rejected.

12. The prizes to be awarded by the Council, after consideration of the report of the Examiner, who will be appointed by the Council. The decision will be announced on January 1, 1916.

13. The Council reserve the right of withholding any prize and of making such supplementary regulations in respect to the competition as may from time to time appear to them to be necessary.

14. Essays sent in for competition will not be returned.

15. The copyright of all essays sent in to be deemed to be vested in the Council.

XIV.—LOCAL COMMITTEES AND LOCAL BRANCHES.*

The following are the regulations at present in force with regard to Local Committees and Local Branches, but the Council may from time to time at its discretion vary any such Regulations. In the Regulations the word Council means the Council of the Royal Colonial Institute.

A local Committee of the Institute may be constituted in any town or district of the United Kingdom or Oversea, in accordance with Regulations to be from time to time framed by the Council of the Institute.

The function of a Local Committee is to further the objects and aims for which the Institute was founded by diffusing information concerning the Empire, by organising lectures for all classes throughout the district, by distributing literature or by other means, by arranging public meetings whenever the Council desire to focus public attention on any matter, by watching the emigration movement in the district with a view to keeping the Emigration Committee of the Institute in touch with every development, by promoting Empire trade, and generally by such other means as the Council may direct.

Subject to the decision of the Council that the local conditions are such as to justify the enterprise, and to the Regulations for the time being in force, a Local Committee may find a Local Branch of the Institute with similar functions, and which should have as its headquarters a suitable building or place of meeting designed to afford facilities similar to those of the Institute Building in London.

* These regulations have not been finally approved by the Council, but are at present the subject of correspondence with the Honorary Corresponding Secretaries Overseas.
I.—Local Committees.

1. Upon receipt of a request in writing from ten local subscribers (Fellows or Associates) residing in any town or district the Council may, at their discretion, by resolution (a certified copy of which will be issued as a Certificate), establish a Local Committee and define its district. The Council may at any time, by subsequent resolution, vary the district so defined.

2. The ten who have signed the request shall, on the receipt of the Certificate, become the Provisional Committee, with power to add to their number, and shall appoint honorary officers. The Provisional Committee shall, as soon as may be convenient, summon a General Meeting of all Fellows and Associates within the district. The meeting shall proceed to the election of a Committee, which shall thereafter be recognised as the Local Committee for the next twelve months, and the appointment of honorary officers. Such election and appointment shall be subject to the approval of the Council.

3. Once a year the Local Committee shall summon a General Meeting of the Fellows and Associates within the district for the election of a Committee and the appointment of officers for the ensuing year, and the names of such Committee and officers shall forthwith be submitted to the Council for confirmation.

4. The Secretary of the Local Committee shall forward to the Secretary of the Institute, so that it shall reach the latter not later than February 1 in the case of Local Committees in the United Kingdom, or March 1 in the case of Local Committees Oversea, a report on the work of the Local Committee for the past year together with a statement of the income and expenditure of such Committee during such period, certified by the Chairman and Secretary.

5. In the case of Local Committees Oversea, a donation towards initial expenses of reasonable amount, proportionate to the probable membership of the Committee, may be made by the Council.

6. In the case of every Local Committee established in the United Kingdom the Honorary Secretary shall, not later than February 1 in each year, submit to the Council a tentative programme of work to be undertaken in the current year and an estimate of expenditure. A financial allowance may be made by the Council towards such expenditure, having regard to the nature of the work to be undertaken by the Local Committee and approved by the Council in each case. The allowance shall normally not exceed the sum of Five Shillings per head of Fellows and Associates resident within the district.

7. The Local Committee shall at all times and in all things comply with the terms of the Charter and Rules of the Institute and obey the instructions of the Council, and shall effectually indemnify the funds of the Institute against any damages, expenses, claims and demands by reason of any default of the Local Committee or its officers or any act by such Committee or its officers which may not be in conformity with the Charter and Rules of the Institute.

8. The Council may at its discretion, and on giving not less than six months’ notice in writing, revoke the Certificate, which shall then be returned to the Secretary of the Institute, together with all books, documents, and papers relating to the Local Committee.

II.—Local Branches.

1. The application of any Local Committee for authority to found a Local Branch shall set forth:—

(a) The area proposed to be included;
(b) the population within that area;
(c) the number of Fellows and Associates (which should not be less than 100) residing within that area, and the estimated probable increase within the next twelve months;
(d) the scheme, if any, for the acquisition and maintenance of Institute premises, including any special offers for this purpose by local residents or others, and
(e) any other circumstances in support of the application.

The Council, if they grant the application, will, by Resolution, of which a certified copy will be issued as a Certificate, authorise the formation of the Local Branch. The resolution will define, subject to any subsequent variations from time to time by the Council, the area of the Branch and the financial relations between the Institute and the Branch.

2. A Local Branch may be organised with such officers, honorary or otherwise, as the Council may in each case approve. The Secretary of the Local Branch will generally undertake the duties of Honorary Corresponding Secretary of the Institute.

3. A Local Branch may make regulations for the conduct and support of the Branch, such regulations to be passed at a General Meeting and to be subject to the approval of the Council. The regulations may provide for the collection of an additional subscription towards the maintenance of the Local Branch or its activities. But refusal to pay such additional subscription shall not impair the general status or privileges of a Fellow or Associate of the Institute, as defined in the Charter and Rules of the Institute.

4. In every matter not otherwise provided for by the approved Regulations of any Local Branch, the Council shall have control of the Local Branch, subject to the Charter and Rules of the Institute. The Council shall have power at all times to inspect the books of any Local Branch and to call for returns and any other information.

5. A Local Branch shall be deemed to include all Fellows and Associates resident within the area, excepting those (if any) who decline to pay the additional subscription (if any) on account of local privileges or activities.

6. Once a year a general meeting of the Local Branch shall be held for the election of a Local Council or committee and the appointment of officers for the ensuing year, and the names of such Local Council or committee and of such officers shall forthwith be submitted to the Council for confirmation.

7. The Secretary of the Local Branch shall forward to the Secretary of the Institute, so that it shall reach the latter not later than February 1 in the case of LocalBranches in the United Kingdom, or March 1 in the case of Local Branches Oversea, a report on the work of the Local Branch for the past year together with a statement of the income and expenditure of such Local Branch during such period, certified by the Chairman and Secretary.

8. In the case of Branches Oversea, a donation towards initial expenses of reasonable amount, proportionate to the probable membership of the Branch, may be made by the Council.

9. In the case of every Local Branch formed in the United Kingdom the Secretary of the Branch shall, not later than February 1 in each year, submit to the Council a tentative programme of work to be performed in the current year and an estimate of expenditure. A financial allowance may be made by the Council towards such expenditure, having regard to the nature of the work to be undertaken by the Branch and approved by the Council in each case, and the amount of the subscriptions collected within that area.

10. Any subscriptions of Fellows and Associates within the area, collected by the Secretary of the Local Branch shall be forwarded as soon as possible to the Secretary of the Institute in London who will notify the Local Secretary of any subscriptions received direct from within the said area.

11. The Local Branch shall at all times and in all things duly comply with the terms of the Charter and Rules of the Institute and obey the instructions of the Council, and shall effectually indemnify the funds of the Institute against any damages, expenses, claims and demands by reason of any default of the Local Branch or its officers, or any act by such Local Branch or its officers which may not be in conformity with the Charter and Rules of the Institute.

12. The Council may, at its discretion, on giving not less than six months’ notice in writing, revoke the Certificate of any Local Branch, which shall then be returned to the Secretary of the Institute together with all books, documents and papers relating to such Branch.

XV.—ILLUSTRATED EMPIRE LECTURES.

During the year 1910 the Council started a movement for the purpose of inculcating the principles governing the Institute and spreading throughout the United Kingdom detailed knowledge as to the present resources and future development and consolidation of the Empire by means of illustrated lectures dealing with all parts of the Overseas Dominions. The diffusion of knowledge concerning the Empire is one of the principal objects for which the Institute was originally founded, and has been steadily and regularly carried out at the sessional meetings held in London by the Papers which are then read and the discussions which take place thereon. But the opportunities for attending these meetings to those who live outside London and its immediate neighbourhood are naturally restricted, and it is for that reason that steps have been taken to further this particular branch of the Institute’s work throughout the country.

To maintain a regular scheme of lectures on a large scale necessarily involves considerable expense, and the extent therefore to which it may be found possible to develop the movement must be largely dependent upon the amount of funds which are from time to time available for the purpose. With this object in view, a special fund, known as the "Empire Lectures Fund," has been established, and subscriptions thereto may be addressed to the Secretary of the Institute.

Mr. Herbert Garrison, F.R.G.S., Official Lecturer of the Institute, has devoted most of his life to studying the British Empire, travelling over it and lecturing upon it. He has lectured with marked success throughout the United Kingdom to large audiences of the general public as well as to leading societies, educational institutions, and colleges. The lectures have been actively supported by influential committees in the various centres, and the Council have received many letters of thanks and appreciation. Mr. Garrison has now given some 450 lectures for the Institute.

Members of the Council and several other Fellows of the Institute have assisted in promoting this important work, and it is hoped that others will follow their example by arranging for the delivery of lectures in their own particular districts.
Mr. Garrison’s lectures comprise the following subjects:—

1. “Our World-Wide Empire.”
2. “Outposts of the British Empire.”
5. “The Union of South Africa; and Rhodesia.”
8. “Ceylon—Eden of the Eastern Wave.”
11. “Newfoundland—Our oldest Colony.”
13. “The Straits Settlements, the Malay States, and North Borneo.”
14. “British West Indies.”
15. “British Columbia.”
16. “Round the World on the King’s Highway—the All-Red Route.”
17. “The British Empire in relation to the present War.”

All these lectures are illustrated by lantern slides from Mr. Garrison’s own unique collection. Some of the subjects are also illustrated by kinematograph films. The Institute also possesses a collection of lantern slides illustrating the physical features, industries, and public buildings in various parts of the Empire, which are used to illustrate lectures delivered under its auspices.

XVI.—IMPERIAL STUDIES LECTURES.

Over and above the lectures referred to in the previous section, which come under the category of Popular Lectures, the attention of the Council has been directed to the work being done by the Imperial Studies Committee appointed over two years ago by the University of London, of which Lord Milner is chairman. This committee was formed with the view of co-ordinating and focussing such parts of the teaching of the University as bear directly or indirectly upon the study of the Empire and cognate problems. But this Imperial Studies movement is designed to be carried much further afield into the various University centres of the United Kingdom, and the Council of the Institute recognising the importance of the effort, and the promise of fruitful results in the future, has decided to associate the Institute with it by formulating a scheme of academic lectures, the organiser of which will be Dr. A. P. Newton, the Secretary of the Imperial Studies Committee. Active steps have been taken to form a panel of lecturers of high repute, and to arrange for the delivery by them this Autumn of courses of lectures dealing with imperial subjects in a scientific spirit at various university centres.

XVII.—EMPIRE TRADE AND INDUSTRY COMMITTEE.

The objects of the Committee are:—

(1) To facilitate, encourage and arrange industrial conferences or meetings to be attended by men of affairs from any or all parts of the Empire in order to discuss questions of interest with a view to regulating and co-ordinating the conditions of Empire trade and industry.
(2) To encourage and facilitate the trade and industry of the Empire in every practicable way; for example, by arranging for the reading of papers and delivery of addresses on financial, industrial and trade subjects by competent authorities, before the Institute itself and before the Chambers of Commerce and trade associations, and like bodies in the leading industrial centres, as well as by answering inquiries from British men of business in all parts of the Empire in regard to the actual or potential manufacture or supply of goods by British firms and from British sources (see also XVIII.—The Information Bureau).

By far the greater proportion of work of the Committee in the period since the beginning of the war has been concerned with a practical attempt to aid in the consolidation of the trade of the Empire within itself by all sound methods, and especially by the absorption of that portion of the trade formerly enjoyed by Germany and Austria which could equally well be supplied from British sources. For this purpose an office of the Committee has been established as a regular working department of the Institute, which deals specifically with an increasing number of inquiries from all parts of the world. In addition to the actual satisfaction of inquirers, the office of the Committee has accumulated a large amount of information in respect to the trade and commerce of the British Empire. The Honorary Corresponding Secretaries have supplied by their splendid efforts a large mass of facts bearing directly upon the practical aspect of the capture of enemy trade, and where any manufacturer is desirous of doing for a British Colony, or for the Empire as a whole, what has been done by German and Austrian firms in the past, he can obtain from the Committee just that type of practical information which will put him on the right lines for the commence ment of his oversea campaign. In connection with the classified information before referred to, extracts from the Press, both of the home country and the Dominions themselves are preserved in the Committee’s records, and a bibliography prepared by Mr. Evans Lewin, Librarian of the Institute, forms the basis of a continuous index of all printed matter dealing with industrial and commercial questions within the Empire. In this bibliography, which is kept up-to-date by the office of the Committee, are included all technical periodicals, text-books and Government publications touching matters which come under the heading of trade or industry. It will therefore be seen that this comprehensive system of special reports and press cuttings, together with the bibliography, form a valuable and an unique index for the use of the business man who is seeking an oversea trade.

Information for Oversea Business Men.—The following are some of the services undertaken by the Committee which are especially aimed at as being of service to persons Overseas, and are, so far, amply justifying their inception by the Committee:—

(1) To bring before the notice of persons in the United Kingdom likely to be interested, any British product which is characteristic of or peculiar to any one of the British Possessions.

(2) To introduce the raw materials of the Empire to manufacturers.

(3) To find for buyers Overseas, British manufacturers to make goods formerly obtained from Germany and Austria. In some cases the Committee has induced British firms to take up the manufacture of goods formerly not made at all within the Empire.
(4) To bring the names of persons abroad desiring agencies before British manufacturers.

(5) Generally to take an active part in any movement which has for its object the improvement of commercial relations between the constituent parts of the British Empire.

Government and Public Body Contracts.—The Committee have received a considerable number of complaints by manufacturers who were hesitating to establish new industries owing to the absence of any guarantee that they would not be destroyed by dumping or other injurious forms of foreign competition at the close of the war. The question was very thoroughly examined, and a comparison made of the methods in force under the various Governments of the great European States, and the Committee based upon these methods the following resolution:—

"That, with a view to encouraging the establishment of new industries in the British Empire, and giving a measure of confidence and security to capital to be embarked therein, as well as assisting the expansion of existing industries, the Governments of the Empire be urged to make it obligatory on all Government departments, municipalities, railway, dock and harbour boards, gas, water and electric light corporations, and all such bodies spending public moneys or enjoying charters from Government, or other public authorities, to purchase Empire-made goods, and to place all contracts with British firms; exceptions to be made by special permission of proper authority only in cases where such a course is considered to be at variance with public interest."

A detailed note of some of the further activities of the Committee will be found upon p. 345, in the section of the Annual Report dealing with the Committee's work.

XVIII.—THE INFORMATION BUREAU.

The Bureau is under the control of the Trade and Industry Committee, and fulfils in its one aspect that function of the Committee's work above described (XVII.—Empire Trade and Industry Committee) which deals with trade, commercial and industrial inquiries of what kind soever. Replies to these, in addition to the great volume of trade queries due to the war are drawn from the information at the disposal of the Institut concerning: (a) The resources and opportunities for trade, enterprise and employment in the Overseas Dominions of the Empire. For this work there is a distribution to applicants of official pamphlets of the Governments of the Dominions and Colonies as well as of Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and similar bodies. (b) Empire transportation and intercommunication. For this work circulars, timetables and pamphlets will be available for reference or distribution.

The Bureau in its other aspect undertakes to deal with inquiries of a general nature emanating from Fellows and Associates of the Institute, especially, for example, such as relate to the facilities and amenities of life in the Mother Country. This branch of the work, is, of course, of most value to non-resident Fellows and Associates visiting the Mother Country; it includes the issue of practical information (not advice) concerning educational facilities, medical treatment, hotels and such like accommo dation, amusements, places of interest, and the like.
XIX.—CITY LUNCHEONS.

In connection with the work of the Empire Trade and Industry Committee, the mid-day luncheons in the City, when leading authorities from Overseas contribute interesting addresses on trade and other subjects, continue to prove most successful. They have been largely attended, and the subjects dealt with have proved of considerable interest. The following is a list of guests and the subjects dealt with in 1914–15:

"The Duty of Britishers at Home and Abroad." By the Right Hon. Sir George Reid, G.C.M.G. (High Commissioner for the Commonwealth of Australia).

"South Africa." By Sir J. Percy Fitzpatrick, K.C.M.G.

"South Australia." By F. W. Young (Agent-General for South Australia).

XX.—ANNUAL DINNER AND CONVERSAZIONE.

The annual dinner is held, as a rule, on May 24 (Empire Day), and is presided over by either the President or one of the Vice-Presidents of the Institute. The Chairmen of the last few years include H.R.H. the Prince of Wales (afterwards H.M. King Edward VII.), H.R.H. the Prince of Wales (now H.M. King George V.); Field-Marshal H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, H.R.H. the Duke of Cambridge, H.R.H. Prince Arthur of Connaught, K.G., the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the Earl of Rosebery, the Duke of Argyll, Lord Northcote, the Earl of Onslow, the Right Hon. Alfred Lyttelton, the Earl of Crewe, Lord Avebury, the Earl of Aberdeen, the Earl of Dunraven, the Earl of Jersey, Earl Grey, Lord Stratheona, and the Earl of Elgin. At these gatherings distinguished men of affairs gather together from all parts of the Empire, and the speeches delivered are valuable additions to the archives of the Institute. Dinners are also held simultaneously in various parts of the world and greetings exchanged. The latter gatherings are organised by the Honorary Corresponding Secretaries.

The annual Conversazione mostly takes place in the month of June, and for the past few years has been held in the Natural History Museum, which has been lent by the Trustees of the British Museum. The guests usually number between two and three thousand. In the present year, owing to the war, the Council has decided to hold neither of these functions.

XXI.—HOUSE AND SOCIAL COMMITTEE.

This Committee has been recently constituted (at first under the name of the Social Committee) to deal with matters of internal economy on the lines of a Club House Committee, and to facilitate social intercourse among the Fellows. Some of its members attend every Thursday in the smoking-room from 4.30 to 6.30 p.m., wearing the Institute's badge with a red ribbon, to welcome visitors from Overseas, and to introduce them, when desired, to Fellows of the Institute, and others who may be present.

On the first Thursday of each month tea is served from 4.30 to 6.30 p.m., and all guests are made welcome, whether they be Fellows or not. On certain occasions advantage is taken of these gatherings to hold an informal discussion on matters of general interest.
XXII.—STANDING EMIGRATION COMMITTEE.

The formation of this Committee was the result of a Conference organised by the Royal Colonial Institute and held at the Whitehall Rooms, London, on May 30 and 31, 1910. Delegates from forty-nine emigration societies in the United Kingdom attended the Conference, and the discussions included such subjects as: (1) Diverting, as far as possible, the stream of emigration now directed to foreign countries, to our own Dominions; (2) Emigration generally, from the United Kingdom to the Dominions.

At a subsequent meeting, the representatives of these societies elected ten of their members to serve on the standing committee, and these, with a chairman and five members, were constituted a committee to deal with questions of emigration, and to which other members were afterwards added by the Council of the Institute.

Executive sub-committees were formed to deal with (1) women, (2) single men and families, (3) children, and their reports formed the subject of a letter by the Chairman to the Prime Minister, which was forwarded with the concurrence of the Council. The request was made therein that the subject of emigration should form one of those discussed by the Imperial Conference in 1911, and if this were found impracticable, that it might be referred to a subsidiary conference or to a committee of the Conference. Eventually, in 1912, the Prime Minister appointed the Dominions Royal Commission, and made the subject of migration within the Empire one of its terms of reference, and a deputation from the Standing Emigration Committee appeared before the Commission and gave evidence. It was urged by the deputation that there should be Government control of all emigration agencies and co-operation between the Mother-Country and the Dominions. The large number of orphan, deserted, and neglected children of both sexes, eligible for emigration, now under the control of the guardians, made it most desirable that some settled policy of emigration should be adopted by the Government in order to ensure a better future for the children.

A deputation of the Standing Emigration Committee had also been received by a committee of the Local Government Board, which was inquiring into the employment of children in various industries. The difficulties which the guardians met with in emigrating any of the children under their control, especially in the matter of expense, were put before them, and the Local Government Board was urged to explain the position of the guardians under the several Acts, so that they might know what amount could be paid in and about emigration. In consequence, the Council of the Royal Colonial Institute received a letter from the Local Government Board with permission to make its contents public, and in which it was stated that there was no definite limit to the amount which might be expended in and about the emigration of Poor-Law children, but that nothing might be spent upon their maintenance overseas. A number of Boards of Guardians appear, from returns made by the Committee, to be in favour of child emigration, and the Committee will in future endeavour to influence and assist the guardians in this direction.

In July, the Committee interviewed Mr. C. L. Anderson, recently Under-Secretary for Agriculture, New South Wales, and discussed suggestions in reference to the Dreadnought Fund, now in the hands of trustees at Sydney, for the purpose of encouraging British immigration. A Sub-committee considered this scheme, and drew up a report for Mr. Anderson embodying the views to be laid before the trustees.

The Committee was also consulted by Mr. W. H. Hayward, member of the British Columbia Parliament, on the subject of child emigration to that Province, and the ground was laid for closer co-operation between it and the Mother-Country. The question of the emigration of ex-service men was discussed with Mr. Scammell, and the Committee undertook to help on his movement.

The following is a list of some of the subjects recently discussed by the Committee:—

(a) The statutory limitations as to the expenditure per head on the emigration of children.
(b) The emigration of ex-service men to Australia.
(c) Emigration of children to Australia and British Columbia.
(d) The action of Boards of Guardians as to the success attending the emigration of Poor-Law children.
(e) The charges on emigrants, and steamship accommodation.
(f) The contributions made under the National Insurance Act, 1911, by emigrants to Approved Societies in this country, and the transfer value to Colonial Societies.
(g) The drafting of a scheme for the establishment of a Royal Colonial Institute Bureau of Migration.

The Standing Emigration Committee is consultative and not executive. It aims at co-ordinating the work of all Emigration Societies and is prepared to act in an advisory capacity when matters are referred to it. It looks to some form of co-operation being secured between the Home Government and the Dominions, and it is in a position to approach the different departments of the former in all matters relating to emigration.

XXIII.—“AFTER THE WAR” EMPIRE SETTLEMENT AND RURAL EMPLOYMENT COMMITTEE.

The above Committee has been formed, as the result of an informal meeting of Fellows of the Institute, held on March 4, 1915 (Earl Grey in the chair), when a resolution was passed requesting the Council to appoint a Committee “to give its earnest and immediate attention to the subject of employment of ex-service men, on the land and otherwise, at home and Overseas, after the war; also to form a Committee for the purpose of taking the necessary steps to approach the Home Government and the Governments of the Dominions thereon.”

This Committee has held several meetings for discussion of the policy to be advocated, and a request has been sent by the Chairman to the Prime Minister that he would receive a deputation from the members for the consideration of the subject.

XXIV.—WAR SERVICES COMMITTEE.

Within a few days of the outbreak of the war this Committee was constituted as a result of a meeting of Fellows convened, under authority of the Council, by Mr. Coleman P. Hyman, for the purpose of considering what steps should be taken to place at the disposal of the authorities the services of Fellows of the Institute wishing to serve in various capacities during the war. Sir Godfrey Lagden, K.C.M.G., who then took the chair, was for some time Chairman of the Committee, but the Chairman is now Sir John Page Middleton. The Hon. Secretary throughout has been Mr. Coleman P. Hyman.

More than 500 Fellows and persons introduced by them have been interviewed by the Honorary Secretary, about 150 commissions in His Majesty's forces have been obtained through the efforts of the Committee, and a number of persons (including a few ladies) have also secured civil employment in Government departments through the Committee's recommendations. The Honorary Secretary has received requests for information and advice from Fellows in all parts of the world.

An example to those unable for various reasons to join the Forces has been shown by Mr. A. O'Gorman-Munkhouse, of Los Gatos, California, who, having been advised that being somewhat beyond the military age it was not advisable for him to leave for England, has sent to the Honorary Secretary the sum of £25 as a donation towards War Funds in need of help. The Committee has also been instrumental in the provision of a motor ambulance for use in London only, which conveys wounded men from the railway stations to Hospitals and Convalescent Homes.

XXV.—LODGE OF FREEMASONS.

The Royal Colonial Institute Lodge No. 3556—membership of which is restricted to Fellows of the Institute—was consecrated by Lord Ampthill at Freemasons' Hall on January 10, 1912, in the presence of some two hundred Founders and their friends, The President of the Institute, Field-Marshal H.R.H. The Duke of Connaught, K.G., G.C.M.G., is the Permanent Master of the Lodge. The Hon. Sir John A. Cockburn, M.D., K.C.M.G., acted in the capacity of Deputy Master for the first year, Col. the Hon. Sir Newton J. Moore, K.C.M.G., for the second year, and F. Faithfull Begg Esq., for the third year.

The Lodge, which has now a membership of 140, held seven meetings in 1914. At the Installation Meeting, held on January 13, 1915, the Hon. J. G. Jenkins was appointed by His Royal Highness to the chair as Deputy Master in succession to Mr. F. Faithfull Begg. He appointed as his Officers:—

F. Faithfull Begg, I.P.M.; Right Hon. Lord Lilford, Senior Warden; Colonel G. M. Weekley, V.D., Junior Warden; Rev. Basil G. Bourchier, M.A., Chaplain; Colonel the Hon. Sir Newton J. Moore, K.C.M.G., Treasurer; T. Boevey Barrett, Secretary; Ralph S. Bond, Senior Deacon; Major A. J. N. Tremearne, M.A., LL.M., Junior Deacon; Mark H. Wade, Director of Ceremonies; Arthur Ross, Assistant Director of Ceremonies; D. F. Tuffill, Organist; Major James R. Boose, V.D., Assistant Secretary; Gilbert Taylor, Inner Guard; A. H. Mooreing, J. B. Lee-Roberts, and Dr. H. Lyster-Jameson, M.A., D.Sc., Ph.D., Stewards; Joseph Taylor, Tyler.

The Royal Colonial Institute Chapter was consecrated on December 18, 1913, by the Grand Secretary, Sir Edward Letchworth, F.S.A., the first Principals being the Hon. Sir John A. Cockburn, M.D., K.C.M.G., Major George S. Beeching, V.D., and Col. the Hon. Sir Newton J. Moore, K.C.M.G. The Scribe E is Major T. A. Glenny.

The Lodge and Chapter Meetings are both held at Freemasons' Hall. The Lodge on the second Wednesdays in the months of January, March, June, August and October. The Chapter on the first Tuesdays in November, February and May. Correspondence should be addressed to the respective Secretaries at the Institute.
XXVI.—LIST OF FELLOWS.

XXVII.—REPORT OF THE FORTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

The forty-seventh Annual General Meeting of Fellows was held at the Whitehall Rooms, Hotel Metropole, on Tuesday, April 20, 1915. The Right Hon. Earl Grey, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O. (President of the Institute), presided. Amongst those present were the following:—

The notice convening the meeting was read by the Honorary Secretary.

The Minutes of the last Annual Meeting were read and confirmed.

The Annual Report and Statement of Accounts were taken as read.

ANNUAL REPORT.

1. The Council, in presenting their Forty-sixth Annual Report, beg to congratulate the Fellows that the Membership has reached 10,000 for the first time in the history of the Institute. (See the Diagram on p. 328.)

The Council deplore the events that led to war with Germany, despite the efforts of diplomacy to prevent it. They note with the greatest satisfaction, but without surprise, the prompt and enthusiastic co-operation of the Dominions and Dependencies, as well as of British-born subjects from all parts of the world, with the Mother Country in this great crisis. Representative Contingents are on active service with the British Forces from all parts of the Empire, except South Africa, where the whole resources of the Union have necessarily been engaged in suppressing a rebellion incited by Germany, and in attacking the German possessions in South Africa. The loyal and determined action of the Native Princes, Chiefs and people of India has been as gratifying to the Empire as it has been surprising to our enemies.

Fellows and Associates.

2. During the year, 141 Resident Fellows, 1,197 Non-Resident Fellows, 180 Associates, and 2 Honorary Fellows have been elected, together with 255 Associates who have joined the Bristol Branch, making a total of 1,775, compared with 264 Resident, 1,540 Non-Resident, 314 Associates, and 232 Associates of the Bristol Branch, or a total of 2,350 in 1913. On December 31, 1914, there were 2,126 Resident Fellows, 6,907 Non-Resident Fellows, 1,080 Associates (including 478 in the Bristol Branch) and 13 Honorary Fellows—or 10,126 in all, of whom 1,832 have compounded for the Annual Subscription and qualified as Life Fellows.

Honorary Membership.

3. Nineteen Rhodes Scholars from the Overseas Dominions and Colonies have been made Honorary Fellows during their term of three years at Oxford, in place of a similar number whose privileges have expired on completion of their studies at the University.

Arrangements have been made which will enable any Rhodes Scholar, being a British subject, who may desire to take advantage of permanent Fellowship, to do so without the payment of an entrance fee.

Honorary Fellowship has also been granted to the Officers of the Contingents of Overseas Troops during the period of the War.

Accounts.

4. The annexed Statement of Receipts and Payments, duly certified by the Auditors, Messrs. Price, Waterhouse, and Co., shows the state of the finances. The total receipts for the year amounted to £12,738 13s. 0d., of which £11,454 16s. 4d. consisted of Entrance Fees and Subscriptions of Fellows and Associates, showing a net decrease under this heading of £237 16s. 8d.

Comparative Statement of Elections and Revenue.

5. The following Tables show the increase of Fellows and Associates, and the Annual Income in each year since the foundation of the Institute:

OBIITUARY.

The Council also regret to record the loss of the following Honorary Corresponding Secretary—the Hon. Colin H. Campbell, K.C., of Winnipeg, Canada, and of the following Fellows and Associates:—

Diagram of Progress since Date of Foundation to December 31, 1914.

ASSOCIATES.—Sir H. Ashman, Bart., Judge Austin, Mrs. Chapell Hodge.

The above list includes the name of Sir J. Henniker Heaton, Bart., whose great services in connection with postal facilities throughout the Empire are so well known; Major George S. Beeching, V.D., who rendered valuable services as Honorary Secretary of the Royal Colonial Institute Masonic Lodge; and Mr. A. R. Colquhoun, who was the Editor of "United Empire," and whose brilliant career was fully dealt with in the February issue of the Journal.

ELECTION OF VICE-PRESIDENTS AND COUNCILLORS.

7. Vacancies on the Council occasioned by the retirement of Mr. Philip H. Kerr, the Hon. Sir Arthur Lawley, G.C.S.I., G.C.I.E., K.C.M.G., and Sir Godfrey Lagden, K.C.M.G., have been filled up, under the provisions of Rule 6, by the ad interim appointment, subject to confirmation by the Fellows, of Colonel Duncan G. Pitcher, Mr. Ellis T. Powell, LL.B., B.Sc., and the Hon. J. G. Jenkins.

The following Vice-Presidents have been appointed during the year, under the provisions of Rule 6, subject to confirmation by the Fellows:—Admiral the Hon. Sir
Edmund B. Fremantle, G.C.B., C.M.G., Right Hon. Viscount Gladstone, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., Viscount Hythe, Sir Godfrey Lagden, K.C.M.G., Mr. T. J. Lennard, J.P., the Right Hon. William F. Massey (Prime Minister of New Zealand), the Right Hon. Sir
Samuel J. Way, Bart. (Chief Justice of South Australia).

The Council, in accordance with Rule 65, submit the names of gentlemen nominated to fill the vacancies in the offices of President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Councillors.

President.—The Right Hon. Earl Grey, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O.

Vice-Presidents.—The following retire pursuant to Rule 7, and are eligible to be nominated for re-election:—The Right Hon. the Marquis of Aberdeen and Temair, K.T., G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O., Admiral Sir Nathaniel Bowden-Smith, K.C.B., the Right Hon.
Earl Brassey, G.C.B., His Grace the Duke of Devonshire, G.C.V.O., the Right Hon.
Lewis Harcourt, M.P., the Right Hon. Sir Albert H. Hime, K.C.M.G., the Right Hon.
Earl of Jersey, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., His Grace the Duke of Marlborough, K.G., the Right
Hon. Viscount Milner, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., the Right Hon. Earl of Rosebery, K.G., K.T., the Right Hon. Earl of Selborne, K.G., G.C.M.G.

Honorary Treasurer.—Mr. Robert Littlejohn.

Councillors.—The following retire pursuant to Rule 7, and are not eligible for re-election this year:—Mr. Frederick Dutton, Lieutenant-General Sir J. Bevan Edwards, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., Mr. George R. Parkin, C.M.G., M.A., LL.D.

The Council nominates the following gentlemen to fill the above vacancies:—

The Right Hon. Earl Stanhope, Mr. Arthur S. Bull, and Mr. J. Saxon Mills, M.A., the two last named having been nominated in writing by Fellows under the provisions of Rule 65, and accepted by the Council.

Entertainments.

8. The Annual Dinner was held at the Savoy Hotel on May 25, 1914, and a large and representative company assembled from all parts of the Dominions, Colonies and India, as well as British residents in foreign countries. H.R.H. Prince Arthur of Connaught presided, and the function was a most successful demonstration of the unity of the Empire. Cables conveying greetings were sent and received from similar gatherings held simultaneously in Alexandria, Bahamas, Bechuanaland, Buenos Aires, Bulawayo, Chicago, Falkland Islands, Fiji, Gold Coast Colony. Guatemala, Johannesburg, Kimberley, Lusakas (Northern Rhodesia), Livingstone, Melbourne, Newfoundland, Pietermaritzburg, Pretoria, Carnarvon (Cape Province), Seychelles, Sydney, Hobart, Wank-kies (Rhodesia). The Council are desirous that these overseas gatherings of Fellows and their friends on Empire Day may take place not only in the British Dominions, Colonies and India, but wherever British communities exist in foreign countries.
They feel that they tend to strengthen the sense of Fellowship amongst British subjects throughout the world.

The Annual Conversazione was held in the Natural History Museum, by permission of the Trustees of the British Museum, on June 24, 1914, and was attended by over 2,000 guests. The President of the Institute and Countess Grey received the Company.

A party of Canadian school teachers, known as members of the "Hands Across the Seas" Association, were entertained by the Institute at an "At Home" in the Whitehall Rooms on July 28. The President of the Institute gave them a most cordial welcome, and speeches were made by Mrs. A. R. Colquhoun, the Rev. E. Crummy, D.D., B.Sc., Mr. F. J. Ney, and Dr. George R. Parkin, C.M.G.
Meetings.

9. In consequence of the attention of the public to urgent matters connected with the War and the personal services of so many being employed in recruiting and other patriotic movements, it was decided not to resume as usual in November the Sessional arrangements for meetings. Efforts were made to get special Papers upon subjects relating to the new position being created in the Empire from the points of view of Politics, Defence and Trade. The following Papers were read and discussed:

"British Interests in Argentina." By Herbert Gibson.
"Nigeria and Its Development." By J. Astley Cooper.
"Impressions of an Empire Tour." By the Right Hon. Lord Emmott, G.C.M.G.
"Imperial Naturalisation." By J. Saxon Mills.
"The Empire and the Birth-rate." By C. V. Drysdale, D.Sc.
"The Economic Effect of the Panama Canal on Western Canada." By F. B. Vrooman, B.Sc., Ph.D.
"Newfoundland, the Oldest Part of the Empire." By the Right Hon. Sir Edward Morris, K.C.M.G., K.C., LL.D. (Premier of Newfoundland).
"Northern Rhodesia." By the Ven. Archdeacon A. G. De la Pryme.
"The Gold Coast and Its Dependencies—the Legend and the Reality." By Sir Hugh Clifford, K.C.M.G. (Governor of the Colony).
"The War: British and German Trade in Nigeria." By R. E. Dennett.
"The Expansion of Britain's Imperial Relations with the Overseas Dominions Resulting from the War." By Henry A. Ellis, M.B.
"The Training of the New Armies." By the Right Hon. the Earl of Meath, K.P.
"The Empire and the War." By Professor Spenser Wilkinson.
"The Romance and Rally of the Empire." By Edward Salmon.
Christmas Lectures for Young People.
"Wild Beasts and Birds of the British Empire." By Richard Kearton, F.Z.S., F.R.P.S.
"Sarawak and Its People." By H.H. the Ranee of Sarawak.

The Library.

10. During the year 5,143 books, pamphlets and maps were added to the Library; 3,619 by donation, and 1,534 by purchase. This represents a decrease of 1,423 as compared with the year 1913. The Library now contains 101,077 books and pamphlets, being an increase of 26,217 during the last five years. The newspapers received and filed number 901, or 79,154 separate parts during the year. With the outbreak of War, special demands arose for books dealing with the German and French Colonies, and with the larger problems of the War. These were satisfied as far as possible. The number of Fellows making use of the Library shows a steady increase, and the average daily number is 58, or a total of 17,806 during the year.

The Library is becoming widely recognised as a Research Library, and the Council have placed it at the disposal of certain Students of special subjects relating to the British Empire. Permission was given for Students of the University of London to use the Library, and, in view of the formation of a School of Imperial Studies in London, the Library of the Royal Colonial Institute cannot fail to prove of service to the organisers of that movement. The collection, recently formed, of publications issued by the American Historical Societies will be of the greatest use to Students of Colonial History. A complete set of the publications issued by the Maine Historical Society, presented through the President, the Hon. J. P. Baxter, and the State Historian, Dr. Burragge, was received during the year. The latter, after inspecting the Library, expressed his great satisfaction at the organisation of this new section. Considerable progress has been made with the card catalogue, over 70,000 cards having been typed or written since this catalogue was started four years ago.

The Council thank the numerous donors of books, including the various Governments within the Empire, the different Learned Societies, Universities, and other public bodies; as well as numerous private individuals; and desire to express their appreciation of the action of proprietors of newspapers and magazines in continuing to send so many valuable periodical publications. They are also greatly indebted to publishers for sending books for review in "United Empire."

"United Empire."

11. The Journal, "United Empire," although comparatively speaking still in its youth, has already attained a wide circulation; and few, if any, will question the claim put forth that it has, from month to month, enabled those interested in the various Dominions and Colonies to keep in touch with the more important aspects of Imperial development. The great loss which the Institute has sustained by the death of the Editor, Mr. A. R. Colquhoun, has caused certain temporary changes to be made, and the Council are especially indebted to Sir Harry Wilson, K.C.M.G., for placing his services at the disposal of the Institute pending any permanent arrangements. He has been ably assisted by Mrs. Colquhoun. Certain changes have been made in the outward appearance of the Journal as well as in the use of larger type. These alterations had been contemplated for some time past, and had received the approval of the late Editor, though, unfortunately, he did not live to see them carried out. The usual features, such as the Papers read at the Meetings of the Institute, special articles on Imperial questions, Editorial Notes, Reviews and Book Notices, etc., have been maintained, and, since the outbreak of hostilities, a series of special "War Numbers" has been issued, with the idea of placing before Fellows and their friends in all parts a full account of the events which led up to the War, and the course of it both in Europe and the Empire. These special numbers have not only proved to be attractive and popular, but they are admittedly of great and permanent value. The Journal is sent to Fellows and Associates in all parts of the world, as well as to Societies, Institutions and Clubs wherever British communities exist. The thanks of the Council are due to those who have given their assistance by gratuitous contributions, many of them being distinguished students of Imperial questions.

Bristol Branch.

12. It was intended that the building for the Branch of the Institute in Bristol, which (with its site) was presented by Mr. T. J. Lennard, should have been opened in November last. Unforeseen circumstances, however, have caused a postponement of the ceremony. Building operations are still in progress, and the local Membership already numbers 478.

In recognition of Mr. Lennard's generous and patriotic action, the Council have elected him a Vice-President of the Institute.

RELATIONS WITH OTHER SOCIETIES.

13. Co-operation between the Royal Colonial Institute and the Victoria League has been continued during the year, and matters of mutual interest discussed. The Institute undertook to circulate copies of the Victoria League War publications amongst its Honorary Corresponding Secretaries, and a considerable amount of work has been done in this direction. There has also been an intimate association with the Overseas Club, the Chairman and Honorary Organiser of which are both members of the Council of the Institute. During his mission in Australia and New Zealand, the Secretary took every opportunity of meeting the chief officials of the Victoria League and the Overseas Club, and discussing with them the question of closer unity of interests between these Societies and the Institute.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURES.

14. Owing to the exigencies of the War, some of the ordinary work of the Institute was temporarily suspended, including that of the Illustrated Empire Lectures which have been given by Mr. Herbert Garrison, Official Lecturer, during the past few years. Mr. Garrison has, however, aided by a Committee of Fellows and Associates of the Institute, privately delivered some seventy lectures on the War and its relation to the British Empire, with the object of spreading information concerning the causes and progress of the War, and he has been the means of securing a considerable number of recruits, and raising large sums of money for the various War Funds. These lectures have been attended by great audiences in many parts of the country, as well as in London. At the Royal Albert Hall, in particular, in December last he lectured to a very large gathering, the Hon. Sir Arthur Lawley presiding.

Mr. Garrison lectured on the War to the troops quartered in various parts of the country, including the Royal Engineers, the Royal Artillery, and three sections of the 21st Division under the command of Lieut.-General Sir Edward T. H. Hutton, a Member of Council. He also lectured at Hastings to an audience specially invited by Earl Bransse.

Mr. Garrison lectured for the Institute in his official capacity during the Spring Session of last year to large audiences both in London and in many of the chief provincial centres, Fellows and Associates of the Institute helping in the organisation as before; prominent among these helpers being the Marquess of Normanby, who promoted and presided at a successful gathering at Whitby, and subsequently invited Mr. Garrison to repeat his lecture at Mulgrave Castle. Lord Plunket also presided at an important meeting in the City of London. At Sheffield the Ex-Mayor presided over a gathering of some 2,500 people.

THE INSTITUTE AND THE WAR.

15. At the outbreak of hostilities the Council resolved to offer the Government the use of some of the rooms of the Institute for the accommodation of special departments created on account of the War. The War Office being approached gladly accepted this offer, and after temporary use of the two ground floor rooms for various services, eventually installed there the Voluntary Assistance Department. It is the duty of this Department to arrange for Volunteer Recruiters to attend the various Recruiting Meetings in London and district. The number of recruits thus enrolled for Lord Kitchener's Army through the efforts of this Department amount to some twenty thousand men. From November onwards the work of obtaining recruits for special trades in Lord Kitchener's Army almost entirely devolved upon this Department, and it has been carried on with great success, some three hundred recruits per week being obtained through its agency. The Department has undertaken certain work unofficially. Amongst other duties under this category it has collected over one thousand parcels of partly worn clothing for the use of British wounded crossing from France. It has collected funds privately for various entertainments in the Camps, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, which included a most successful series of concerts given during the Christmas season for the Canadian troops encamped on Salisbury Plain. A scheme is on foot to enlarge the sphere of good work in this direction.

It was found that many men on leave from the front arrive late at night to catch trains from London early in the morning. With the help of the Young Men’s Christian Association the Department is arranging for the hiring of empty houses to provide accommodation for such men as cannot be housed in the various Soldiers’ Clubs and Institutions.

The Council of the Institute have been informed that, were it not for the accommodation afforded by the Institute in such close proximity to the London Recruiting Headquarters in Scotland Yard, it would be impossible for the Department to carry out its work with the present satisfactory results.

The Army Council has expressed its warm thanks for the help the Institute has afforded.

The following members of the Staff of the Institute have joined the colours:—Mr. C. Parry Jackson (Library Assistant) has entered the Inns of Court Officers' Training Corps, and Mr. C. R. Woods (Clerk) is a private in the R.A.M.C.

War Services Committee.

16. A War Services Committee was formed mainly for the purpose of dealing with offers of service made by Fellows at home and abroad. A large number of Fellows and their friends, especially from Overseas, have sought advice from this Committee; and its Honorary Secretary, Mr. Coleman P. Hyman, has been instrumental in placing in the various Branches of Military Service over one hundred officers and men, while a certain number have found civil employment. The Committee has also assisted in the provision of a motor ambulance for use in London, which is working under the auspices of the Institute.

Supplies of games and magazines were collected from Fellows and their friends by Captain F. Southwell Piper, and forwarded to the Fleet; a movement for sending papers and periodicals was also inaugurated by him, and these have since been supplied at the rate of over 80,000 per week through the instrumentality of the London Chamber of Commerce. At the same time, copies of the current War Numbers of the Institute Journal, “UNITED EMPIRE,” were sent to the ward room of every battleship in the North Sea. Letters of thanks have been received from Admiral Sir J. Jellicoe, the Commander-in-Chief, and from the Captains of the ships comprising the North Sea Fleet.
OVERSEAS COMMITTEE.

17. The Overseas Committee, with Mr. Harry E. Brittain as Chairman, was formed to deal with various matters arising out of the War, and to give assistance and advice to the many visitors from Overseas whose plans had been materially affected.

The Gordon Hotels, Ltd., kindly placed at the disposal of the Committee the entire suite of the Whitehall Rooms at the Hotel Metropole, free of charge. Many hundreds of visitors made use of these rooms, and the Committee was able to accomplish a great deal of work, particularly of an emergency nature, which earned the grateful appreciation of those who benefited by it. The rooms were also used as a central rendezvous where a large supply of Overseas newspapers could be seen, and where letters could be written and received.

Successful Nursing Classes were established, some three hundred ladies being present at the inauguration: certificates for proficiency were granted, after passing the necessary examination, and Viscountess St. Cyres made the presentations to the first fifty at the close of the Autumn Session.

Ambulance Classes for men were also organised to train private citizens as stretcher bearers and other services on Red Cross trains. A number of men have now qualified as Ambulance Assistants, and, until recently, both the above sets of classes continued to meet.

In addition to these classes, Sewing Parties met twice weekly, and made a large number of garments which were divided between the Canadian War Contingent Association and the Australian Voluntary Hospital.

The entire expenses incurred by the Overseas Committee, and its Sub-Committees, were generously defrayed by those interested, none of the cost falling upon the Institute.

WAR HANDBOOK.

18. The Institute Handbook, “Our Just Cause,” was prepared by Professor W. L. Grant and the late Mr. A. R. Colquhoun and Mrs. Colquhoun. It gave one of the clearest and earliest statements of why we are at War. Through the kindness of the Rhodes Trustees and others, as well as by the usual channels of circulation of the Institute itself, the Handbook was widely distributed in all parts of the world. The book was also translated into Braille type for the blind.

EMPIRE TRADE AND INDUSTRY COMMITTEE.

19. Since the outbreak of War, the Committee has been very largely occupied with a practical endeavour to secure for British firms a portion of the trade formerly enjoyed by Germany and Austria in the Empire. The Committee, which was the first public body to undertake such a campaign, has endeavoured at all points to give specific and practical information. It has obtained many special reports, and, largely due to the splendid efforts of the Honorary Corresponding Secretaries, it has collected a mass of valuable facts and names of probable buyers from disinterested sources overseas. Agents have also been found for many manufacturers, and the records show numerous extensions of manufacturers’ business overseas. Enquiries at the rate of about 250 per month have been dealt with from buyers and manufacturers to whom names and addresses and fullest available information have been sent. The records of the Office show that business has resulted in a considerable number of cases.
The Committee made arrangements for a paper to be read before the Institute by Mr. R. F. Dennett, of the Nigerian Forest Department, upon the Palm Kernel Industry. As a result of this paper, and the further activities of Mr. Dennett, Sir Owen Philips and the London and Liverpool Chambers of Commerce, it is expected that mills will be established in this country sufficient to deal with the entire West African output, which had only been partially handled previously.

Special efforts are being made to promote the concentration in British hands of the control of the Empire’s supplies of raw materials. Arrangements are also being made whereby manufacturers on the Committee’s List may be informed, at the earliest possible date, of all Dominion and Colonial Government contracts and tenders issued by the larger municipalities overseas. A bibliography of great value to all interested in the economic and commercial questions of the Empire has been prepared for the Committee by the Librarian of the Institute, Mr. P. Evans Lewin. This includes all periodicals, text books and Government publications available in the Institute dealing with Empire trade or industry published either in England or in the Dominions. In addition to this bibliography, special reports on overseas markets have been received from authoritative sources in the following parts of the Empire:—Africa (South and West); America (South); Australia (all parts); New Zealand; Canada; Falkland Islands; Gibraltar; India; Sarawak; Seychelles; and Straits Settlements.

Government and Public Body Contracts.—It having been reported to the Committee by several large manufacturers that they were hesitating to establish new industries owing to the absence of any guarantee that they would not be destroyed by dumping, or other injurious forms of foreign competition, at the close of the War, the question was very thoroughly examined, and the attitude of all great foreign Governments compared, and the opinion of the Committee, based upon these enquiries, was crystallised in the following resolution:—

“That, with a view to encouraging the establishment of new industries in the British Empire, and giving a measure of confidence and security to capital to be embarked therein, as well as assisting the expansion of existing industries, the Governments of the Empire be urged to make it obligatory on all Government departments, municipalities, railways, dock and harbour boards, gas, water, and electric light corporations, and all such bodies spending public monies or enjoying charters from Government or other public authorities, to purchase Empire-made goods, and to place all contracts with British firms; exceptions to be made by special permission of proper authority only in cases where such a course is considered to be at variance with public interest.”

In spite of the large amount of labour necessitated by the work in connection with the campaign against German and Austrian Trade, the Committee has kept before it the various Imperial commercial and industrial questions in which they have been largely active and interested in the past.

Imperial Development Board and Fund.—Following up the evidence given before the Dominions Royal Commission on the natural resources, trade, and legislation of certain portions of His Majesty’s Dominions, the Committee was engaged upon an extensive enquiry into Canadian freight conditions at the request of the Commission, an enquiry the progress of which was arrested by the dislocation of ordinary maritime conditions at the outset of War.

Through Transportation by Sea and Land, Uniformity in Empire Statistics, and the British Consular Service.—These three important points, which have engaged much of the Committee's attention in the past, have been brought prominently before the public mind in the enquiries into foreign trade methods which have been aroused by the War. Although constructive legislation is not at the moment possible, there is no doubt that the experience of those persons who have been induced to study these problems by the stress of War conditions will convince them of the justification of the continued and urgent representations of the Trade and Industry Committee for a simple and direct system of booking in transportation, and entirely reorganised Consular Service on commercial lines, and a Conference of Statisticians of the Empire.

British Trade with India and the Crown Colonies.—The Committee continues to urge the appointment of Trade Commissioners to India and the Crown Colonies. In many cases the issue of handbooks, a course which has been so long recommended to the Government by the Committee, has actually been begun; an excellent example of the type of handbook mentioned is that issued by the Crown Agents for the Colonies on Uganda.

Appointment of Secretary of the Committee.—In July last, the Council of the Institute, on the recommendation of the Committee, appointed Mr. Harold T. Pooley, Barrister-at-Law, to be Secretary of the Committee.

Speaking generally, it may be stated that the Committee has exercised in the period under report a great part of its functions with increasing activity. The immense range of the Institute's oversea sources of information, together with the representative knowledge of the Members of the Committee, and the access to the very large collection of commercial works and reports in the Institute Library, have enabled the Committee to carry on a practical and widely extended campaign. A pleasant feature of the work of the Committee is the fact that it has been able to pursue its propaganda in excellent and friendly relationship with other organisations concerned in the securing of enemy trade, or in the development of inter-Imperial commercial and economic relationships.

City Luncheons.

20. In connection with the work of the Empire Trade and Industry Committee, mid-day luncheons in the City were held up to the period of the outbreak of war. The following guests were entertained:—

E. H. Cunningham Craig, B.A., F.G.S.
The Hon. Digby F. Denham (Premier of Queensland).
The Right Hon. Sir George Reid, G.C.M.G. (High Commissioner for the Commonwealth of Australia).
Sir J. Percy Fitzpatrick, K.C.M.G.

Visit of the Secretary to Australia and New Zealand.

21. In accordance with the hope expressed in the last Report, the Council made arrangements for the Secretary to visit Australasia during the latter half of the year. He left England in July, and, after touching at Cape Town and visiting in turn all the more important cities of Australia and New Zealand, he returned in January. Despite the preoccupations of the war, his mission was everywhere successful, not only in bringing the aims and objects of the Institute before the public of those Dominions at a time when their patriotic feelings were deeply stirred, but in materially increasing its membership. The formation of local Committees and Branches and the spirit of good fellowship displayed by the Victoria League and the Overseas Club were prominent features of the tour, which has in all respects fulfilled the expectations of the Council.

During the absence of the Secretary, Sir Godfrey Lagden, at the request of the Council, kindly consented to act as Honorary Secretary, and rendered very valuable services to the Institute, both in regard to the ordinary routine work and in connection with the many activities undertaken by the Institute on account of the war.

Emigration Committee.

22. The Members of this Committee represent the leading Emigration Societies of the country. The following questions have been dealt with:—

1. The High Commissioners and Agents-General in London have been requested to approach their respective Governments as to the necessary steps for enforcing upon married emigrants the necessity for maintaining their families, left behind in England.

2. The question of emigrating widows and orphans has been considered, and the High Commissioners and Agents-General have been invited to co-operate with the Board of Trade in the matter.

3. The Dominions Royal Commission has been asked:
   (a) To report on the subject of the emigration of ex-service men, women and orphans.
   (b) To recommend that greater facilities should be granted for teachers moving from one part of the Empire to another; that certificates granted in one part should qualify for service in others; also that, in connection with Pension Funds, transfer values should be granted, so that teachers may change from the Pension Fund of one Dominion to that of another without loss of benefit.

As a result of the Committee's efforts, the National Health Insurance Commissioners have issued a Table of Transfer Values, and it is hoped that similar steps will be taken in the case of the various Teachers' Pension Funds.

4. The Chairmen of County Councils and the National Union of Teachers have been asked to emphasize the importance of teaching the geography of the British Empire in schools, and to secure a fuller observance by young people of Empire Day.

Social Committee.

23. A Social Committee has been formed for the purpose of promoting general good fellowship and of welcoming Fellows from overseas. Members of the Committee attend every Thursday afternoon in the Smoking Room to receive visitors; while, on the first Thursday of each month, tea is provided, and notices are sent beforehand to new arrivals. Many friendships are made on these occasions.

Gold Medal for Scientific Enquiry.

24. With the object of encouraging scientific enquiry into Imperial problems, the Council offer annually the Gold Medal of the Institute for the best Research Monograph on some subject bearing directly upon the practical problem of the Closer and Permanent Union of the Empire. A prize of one hundred guineas accompanies the medal, together with Honorary Life Fellowship of the Institute. The competition is open to British subjects in all parts of the world. The subject for the Monograph for 1914 was "The interaction, if any, between the economic interests of a State and its foreign relations, with special reference to the question whether or how far the self-governing States of the British Empire (with or without a more centralised system of Government than it now has) could co-operate permanently for the purpose of defence without co-operating for the purpose also of trade." The winner was Mr. F. A. Kirkpatrick, of Celbridge, Ireland, and Mr. F. W. Eggleston, of Melbourne, Australia, was second. The prize monograph has been published in book form, and can be purchased at 2s. per copy. The subject for 1915 is "The applicability of the dictum that a democracy cannot manage an Empire (Thucydides, Bk. III., ch. 37, Jowett's translation), to the present conditions and future problems of the British Empire, particularly the question of the future of India." The monographs must be received at the Institute not later than April 29.

Essay Competition.

25. The Essay Competition for the year 1914 for prizes offered by the Council to young men and women undergoing education in the Universities and Schools of the United Kingdom, resulted as follows:—

University Section.—Prize of £20 awarded to Mr. N. A. Turner Smith, of Edinburgh University.

Schools Section.—First prize of £20 awarded to Miss R. J. H. Rowe, of Bournemouth High School for Girls; Second prize of £10 awarded to Mr. H. Beighton, of King's College School, Wimbledon; Certificate of Merit awarded to Miss Kathleen Gibberd, of the County School, Enfield, Middlesex.

The subject of the essay was: "In what sense can an Empire prove itself to be great?"

The thanks of the Council are due to Professor Egerton for having adjudged these competitions and for a valuable report upon them.

Imperial Studies.

26. The Council have observed with much satisfaction the formation of a School of Imperial Studies in connection with the University of London, and note with pleasure that two of their colleagues, viz., Sir Charles P. Lucas, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., and Dr. George R. Parkin, C.M.G., are Members of the Committee. The Council have informed the authorities of the school that the Institute will gladly co-operate in furthering the success of the movement, and have also drawn the attention of the Honorary Corresponding Secretaries to the excellent opportunities thus offered for education in all matters affecting the history and sociological development of the British Empire.

Naturalisation Act.

27. The Council, acting in co-operation with the Victoria League and Overseas Club, have for some time past taken considerable interest in the reform of the laws of Naturalisation governing the admission of aliens to the status of British subjects, and are glad to note that the Naturalisation Act came into force early this year. According to the terms of the Act, the cost of becoming a British citizen is much reduced, and the tests made much more efficient.

The Honorary Corresponding Secretaries have been requested to endeavour to induce their respective Governments to adopt the provisions of the Act.

Halifax (Nova Scotia) Memorial Tower.

28. The pair of Bronze Lions to be placed at the entrance of the Halifax Memorial Tower, which were subscribed for by Fellows of the Institute, were shipped to Halifax in May last and were duly acknowledged by the Mayor of the city on behalf of his Council. The Right Hon. Sir Robert L. Borden, G.C.M.G., Prime Minister of the Dominion of Canada, who is also a Vice-President of the Royal Colonial Institute, undertook to present the gift to the city of Halifax on behalf of the Council. The date fixed for the ceremony was July 29 last, but Sir Robert Borden was unfortunately unable to fulfil his engagement. The ceremony was therefore postponed until the coming summer, when it is expected that the occasion will be made one of great interest. In the meantime the position of the lions has been definitely settled, and they have been placed on specially erected pedestals in readiness for the formal ceremony of unveiling.

Honorary Corresponding Secretaries.

29. The Council tender to the Honorary Corresponding Secretaries their most cordial thanks for the valuable work they have gratuitously rendered during the past year. This co-operation is much appreciated by the Council who are kept in close touch with current events in all parts of the Empire. The number of Honorary Corresponding Secretaries has been greatly increased, with the result that better representation has been secured, not only throughout the British Empire, but amongst British communities in foreign countries.

Council Room.

30. The use of the Council Room was granted for the following purposes:—

To the High Commissioner for the Union of South Africa to establish a Fund for the dependants of those serving with the Forces under the Union. Over £40,000 was raised for this Fund.

To the Australian Voluntary Hospital Association for their Committee meetings.

To the London Sub-Committee of the Child Emigration Society.

To the Overseas Club for their Committee meetings.

Freemasonry.

31. The death of Major G. S. Beeching is deeply deplored by every Member of the Royal Colonial Institute Lodge. No man probably had a wider circle of friends in the Masonic world than the late Secretary. His name was known throughout the British Empire, and the cordiality of his welcome to Brethren from Overseas was one of the outstanding characteristics of his charming personality. The Lodge has now a membership of over 100. The Hon. J. Greeley Jenkins is the Deputy Master for the current year, and Mr. T. Boevey Barrett has become Secretary in succession to the late Major Beeching. A Chapter of Royal Arch Masons has also been formed in connection with the Institute.

CONCLUSION.

32. In conclusion, the Council congratulate the Fellows on the successful results which were attained during the past year, in spite of the outbreak of the most terrible War in the history of the World, which nevertheless may have the effect of promoting the cause of Closer Union more thoroughly and effectively than any event that has yet occurred in the history of the British Empire.

J. BEVAN EDWARDS, Chairman of Council.

JAMES R. BOOSÉ, Secretary.

16th March, 1915.

We have examined the foregoing accounts with the books, vouchers, and other records of the Institute, and find the same to agree therewith.

3, Frederick's Place, E.C., March 5th, 1915.

ROBERT LITTLEJOHN, Hon. Treasurer.

PRICE, WATERHOUSE & CO., Chartered Accountants.
The President (Earl Grey) : The Annual Meeting to-day takes place at a time when our country is plunged up to the very neck in the gravest crisis that has ever assailed our national existence. Whether we shall emerge from the crisis alive or dead, as freemen or as slaves, depends on the courage, the tenacity, and the resolution of our own people and of the nations with whom we are allied. We have good reason to rejoice at the spirit with which this life-and-death struggle has been met in every portion of the Empire. The universal desire to help that has been shown in every part of the United Kingdom, and over the rest of the Empire—the abundant contributions of food, men and material which have been lavishly poured into the lap of the Motherland from every part of the world—these have been staggering blows to poor, misled, bewildered Germany, but, on the other hand, they have been regarded as birthday gifts by the rest of the world. And why is the whole world of neutral nations watching with heartfelt hope for the complete and conclusive triumph of our arms? It is not because we are fighting in any selfish battle, but because we are fighting for ideals which are as precious to them as to ourselves. It is too soon to discuss the conditions of peace. I, for one, agree with Dr. Eliot, ex-President of Harvard University, that it would be a sin to pray for peace until the barbarous and world-enslaving pretensions of the Germans are killed. But two prominent landmarks stand out so as to be visible to all. The first is that no peace is acceptable to us which is not also acceptable to the oversea Dominions and to India, who have rallied so gallantly to the flag; and, secondly, that no peace will be satisfactory or contain the germs of permanence unless based on principles leading not to our own isolated and exclusive aggrandisement, but to the general benefit of humanity at large. At the conclusion of the war, if we are true to ourselves, we shall be more powerful than ever before. Let us so act as to give the whole wide world reason for its confidence that our powerful Army and Navy will never be used for the purpose of pressing down foreign peoples, but, on the contrary, will be used for the purpose of lifting them up by securing to them the same blessings of fair and equal opportunity we may endeavour to obtain for ourselves.

I have made these few remarks because they lead up to what I desire to say about the Royal Colonial Institute. What is its primary aim and object? It is to help by its efforts all round the world to keep the Empire as a solid integral unit for the efficient and disinterested service of mankind, so that the smallest and weakest community shall learn to look with hope, confidence and affection to our rule. On what does the continuance of the Empire depend? Undoubtedly two things—first the greatness of its ideals, and, second, the adequacy of its organised strength to protect every portion against the greed and vindictiveness of the aggressor. And that in turn depends on the existence and on the strengthening and development of a sense of Imperial consciousness in every portion of the Empire. How to foster and promote that sense of Imperial consciousness on which the maintenance of our Empire and the hope of its organic union depend has for some time been the constant problem of the Council of the Institute, and, I believe, of the members themselves. It is hardly necessary to point out the close intimacy between the general pervading sense of Imperial consciousness and Imperial defence. It is sufficient to say that in those British communities beyond the seas where the ratio of Fellows of the Institute to the white population is highest there also is to be found the highest percentage of enlisted soldiers. It would be invidious where all have done so well to make comparison, but without offence I may point out that Rhodesia, where the Institute has a larger percentage of Fellows to the white population than in any other portion of the Empire, has contributed to the Army the largest percentage of soldiers. Take again the British community in the independent republic of Guatemala. Before the war there were eighty-two British male subjects of the age of manhood. Thanks to the energy and enthusiasm of our Corresponding Secretary, Captain Jenkins, eighty out of those eighty-two are Fellows of the Institute to-day, and no fewer than fifty-six have left their homes and crossed the Atlantic through the organisation of the Guatemala branch, at an average cost to themselves of over fifty pounds, in order that they may, if necessary, shed their blood for the cause of civilisation. It is quite obvious to all who have given the subject a moment's reflection that the unity and maintenance of the Empire depend on the existence in all its parts of a real living sense of Imperial consciousness. Our Institute exists to promote this sense of Imperial consciousness, and that being its object the Institute should be supported by everyone who has the well-being of the Empire at heart. I am going to call upon the Chairman of the Council, Sir J. Bevan Edwards, to move the adoption of the Report. The eloquent diagram on the wall supplies convincing proof of the great advance the Institute has made as an Imperial factor. It has doubled its membership during the last five years—increased its members from 5,000 to over 10,000—and before the war broke out arrangements were in contemplation, both at home and overseas, for a vigorous organised campaign which, we believe, had the times permitted, would have ultimately brought our membership nearer 100,000 than 10,000. The fear of German aggression was one of the causes which prompted the Institute to consider what organised effort could be made to increase the membership among British communities overseas. The object was, by increasing the members, to strengthen the Empire in its preparations against the day of possible conflict, and the illustrations from Rhodesia and Guatemala will convince the most sceptical that we should have been well advised in taking this action. The outbreak of war more than justified the efforts of this Institute, which with its sister organisations, the Victoria League and the Overseas Club—the founder of which, I am glad to say, as a member of the Council, is attending this meeting—are doing Imperial work of real value. I cannot refrain from referring with the greatest satisfaction to the example set by the ancient city of Bristol, where, through the generosity and Imperial enthusiasm of Mr. T. J. Lennard, a well-equipped institute has been established, which hopes, on the day of opening, May 18, to show a roll of members of over 1,000 strong. I hope the example of Bristol may be followed by other cities of the United Kingdom, and I would like to add that every man and woman who becomes a Fellow or an Associate of the Institute is helping to support not only the most influential non-official Imperial organisation which exists, but an Imperial organisation whose power and influence must to a very large degree depend upon the number of its adherents. This fact alone should be a claim to the support of every patriotic Briton. The increase in the number of our members will enable the Institute to do two things, both essential to the increase of its influence and efficiency—first, to enlarge our Institute buildings, and, second, improve our "United Empire" Journal, which serves the double purpose of advertising the Institute and inoculating the whole British race with the virus of Imperial enthusiasm. As regards our buildings, they are quite inadequate to the requirements of the members, and I am glad to be able to tell you that the Council have concluded, on what I think are satisfactory terms, negotiations for the purchase of buildings adjoining the Institute, which will, however, only be converted into club premises when the increase in our membership provides us with sufficient revenue to justify us in incurring the expenditure. As regards the Journal, I think I am expressing, not only my own personal view, but the sense of the whole Institute, when I speak of the loss we have sustained by the death of its editor, Mr. Colquhoun. His zealous and disinterested service made him a soldier of the Empire, whose service we could ill afford to lose. Practically by the single-handed efforts of himself and his wife the Journal had been lifted to a higher level than ever before. It is our duty to continue his work and to endeavour to raise the standard of the Journal still further until, by the dignity of its form, the excellence of its paper, the beauty of its illustrations, the style of writing, and the soundness of its doctrine, the Journal is regarded as the first periodical of the Empire, to which every patriotic Briton should turn.

Sir J. Bevan Edwards has been Chairman of the Council for six years. During the term of his stewardship the membership of the Institute has more than doubled and its efficiency has increased in an even greater ratio. The Imperial value of the Institute, which, when he entered office, had become, in the opinion of some, almost non-existent, is now universally acknowledged in every part of the Empire. The time has now come when, in Sir Bevan Edwards' opinion, he should pass on his official trusteeship to other hands. In parting from him as Chairman of the Council, which we do with feelings of regret and of grateful affection, I hope I may be allowed to express the hope that we may keep him in the team of the Institute as one of its Vice-Presidents. I trust I shall not be regarded as betraying an official secret when I say that the first act of the Council on the retirement of Sir J. Bevan Edwards will be, on his own suggestion, to elect Sir Charles Lucas to the honourable and responsible position of Chairman. Those who are acquainted with the value of Sir Charles Lucas's Imperial work will, I know, agree that we could not do better in parting with Sir J. Bevan Edwards, than to put in his place Sir Charles Lucas, whose high character, lovable personality and great experience will make him an ideal Chairman for an Institute which is charged with the responsible duty of keeping the highest British ideals continually before the attention of Britons in every part of the world. I now call upon Sir Bevan Edwards to move the adoption of the Report and Statement of Accounts.

Lieut.-General Sir J. Bevan Edwards, K.C.B., K.C.M.G. (Chairman of Council): The Report of the Council for the year ending December 31, 1914, is given at such length, and embraces so fully every subject of the work of the Institute, that in moving its adoption it will be unnecessary to repeat the information which it gives; and I, therefore, propose only to make a few remarks upon it. Under the circumstances that the Empire was engaged for the last five months of the year 1914 in the greatest war that it has ever undertaken, we may feel satisfied that the Report for last year shows that we have not only maintained the number of our members, which was 9,088 at the end of the year 1913, but increased them by 1,038, bringing up the total number to over 10,000 for the first time in the history of the Institute.

I will first refer to the Statement of Receipts and Payments as certified by the Auditors. Up to December 31, 1912, the accounts were rendered in a form which gives only the actual receipts and payments, without grouping the payments in a manner which shows at a glance the actual cost of the different branches of our work. In the following year—1913—the payments were divided under the following heads: (1) Office, which includes the salaries and pensions of the staff, stationery, printing, postages, etc.; (2) Library and Newspaper Room; (3) House, including all expenses connected with the Institute building; (4) Recruiting; (5) Journal; (6) Year Book; (7) Meetings; (8) Entertainments; (9) Empire Lectures; (10) Miscellaneous. The same arrangement has been carried out in the accounts for 1914. So now we can compare them with those of the previous year. The total subscriptions show a decrease on last year of £237 16s. 8d., which may be attributed to the war. There has, however, been a rearrangement of the accounts this year, by which the receipts for the annual dinner, conversazione, and the dinner to the Governors-General of Australia and South Africa, instead of being included in the total receipts for the year, have been deducted from the payments on these accounts. If it had not been for this, the receipts for this year would have shown an increase of £55 18s. 8d., instead of a total decrease of £529 19s. 4d.

As regards the payments, the Office is increased by £189 15s. 11d., as compared with 1913, which is accounted for by a rise in the total salaries and pensions of £240 11s. 4d. The increase in the Library and Newspaper Room is £171 2s. 9d.—£98 8s. 9d. in salaries, and £73 15s. for furniture. House payments are increased by £46 13s. 4d. Organisation expenses, £128 7s. 7d. Journal, £122 13s. 5d.; but there is a decrease of £169 14s. 4d. in the Year Book. The Essay Competition shows an increase of £115 9s. on that of the previous year. The Balance Sheet shows that our liabilities are £1,091 0s. 4d., while on the other side our assets are lightly valued at £71,902 13s. 11d.

As this is the last opportunity I shall have of addressing you as Chairman of Council, I will ask your permission to recall, as shortly as possible, the history of the Institute, and more especially the work which has been done during the last five years. The progress as regards the number of its members since its foundation in 1868 to December 31, 1914, is shown by the diagram attached to the Report. It appears that 796 Fellows were recruited in the first ten years of the life of the Institute; that the increase in the next decade was 2,425; 918 in the third, and only 299 in the fourth decade from 1898 to 1908. In fact, between the years 1905—1908 the number of Fellows actually decreased from 4,487 to 4,438. The increase of 2,425 in the decade 1878—1888 was in a great measure due to the work of the Duke of Manchester, who was Chairman of Council, backed up by the late Sir Frederick Young, at that time Honorary Secretary of the Institute. After the death of the Duke of Manchester in 1890, the post of Chairman of Council was abolished, and the routine work of the Institute was left to the Secretary, who prepared the agenda for the meetings of the Council. The members of Council took it in turn alphabetically to preside at its meetings, and consequently no one was responsible for preparing and carrying out any systematic scheme for advancing the work of the Institute. This state of affairs continued for nineteen years, till 1909, and it resulted in a general stagnation of interest in the Institute, and an actual decrease in its membership.

Early in 1909 the discontent of the Fellows came to a head, and, on the requisition of twenty-five of their number, a Special General Meeting was called "to consider the revision of the Constitution of the Institute, with special reference to making the Council more representative." The meeting was attended by nearly 200 Fellows; a very interesting discussion followed, and finally a resolution was unanimously agreed to: "That the Constitution of the Royal Colonial Institute be revised, with special reference to making the Council more representative." A joint committee, consisting of three members of the general body of the Fellows and three members of the Council, was appointed "to consider the present rules and working of the Institute, and report to the Council." The Committee consisted of Professor W. L. Grant, the late Mr. Archibald Colquhoun and Mr. R. S. Bond, on behalf of the Fellows; and of the late Sir Nevile Lubbock, Dr. G. R. Parkin and myself, as representing the Council.

Here I will take the opportunity of recording the great services rendered to the Institute by the late Mr. Colquhoun, as it was entirely due to his initiative that this Committee was appointed, which has resulted in the recent satisfactory progress of the Institute. Mr. Colquhoun afterwards became Editor of the Journal, and raised it from a simple record of the doings of the Institute to the deservedly high position it now holds. The loss we have sustained by his death is a very severe one; and it is a great satisfaction to the Council that Mrs. Colquhoun has been for some months past so closely associated with the production of "United Empire," which was her late husband's creation.

The Committee made many recommendations, and those immediately bearing on the general efficiency of the Institute were as follows:

1. Restoration of the office of Chairman of Council.
2. The formation of local branches throughout the Empire.
3. Annual provincial conferences.
4. Lectures illustrated by slides or cinematograph.
5. The Journal to be issued monthly instead of only eight months in the year.
6. City luncheons.
7. Closer connection between the Institute and commercial and industrial interests in the city of London, and other commercial centres.
8. Co-ordinating its work with other societies whose objects were connected with the unity of the Empire, with a view to common action.

Here was a complete programme for what may well be called the "Revival of the Institute." These recommendations were approved by the Council, and confirmed by the Fellows at a General Meeting in the autumn of 1909. Some of these proposals have been carried out—the office of Chairman of Council was restored; the Journal has been greatly improved, and issued monthly instead of only eight months in the year; city luncheons were instituted and found a great success; and the object to be effected by a closer connection between the Institute and commercial and industrial interests is being attained by the Trade and Industry Committee. So far, however, the very important proposals to form local branches throughout the Empire and co-ordinate the Institute's propaganda with other societies working with the same object have made little progress. Though much has been done by our Official Lecturer, Mr. Garrison, it has not been possible to establish a fully organised Lecturing Department, but the Council have recently appointed a sub-committee to deal with this particular subject. The question of holding provincial councils, which is largely dependent on the formation of local branches, has up to the present remained in abeyance. The effect of the above recommendations, and the increased energy of the Council and staff in regard to recruiting, is that the number of Fellows has been more than doubled during the last five years, chiefly owing to the following causes:

1. The exertions of the Honorary Corresponding Secretaries.
2. The visits of the Secretary of the Institute to Canada in 1912, and South Africa in 1913, and of the Editor of "United Empire" to South America in the latter year.
3. Empire lectures and recruiting carried out by the Official Lecturer.
4. Individual recruiting by Councillors and Fellows.
5. City luncheons.

It would be difficult to state the exact number of new members obtained by these different agencies respectively, but the appeals made to the Corresponding Secretaries to exert themselves in obtaining recruits, and the Secretary's visits to Canada and South Africa, Australia and New Zealand account in a great measure for the increase of members in the last five years. Indeed, after the Secretary's visit to Canada in 1912, the number of Fellows in the Dominion increased from 342 to 1,109; and after his visit to South Africa there was an increase of 700 Fellows in the Union and in Rhodesia.
At the suggestion of the President, the late Mr. Colquhoun developed a new sphere of influence in South America, which had been opened up among British subjects in Chile, Argentina and Brazil. At least 1,000 Fellows and Associates were obtained by Mr. W. H. Garrison, the Official Lecturer, and a further increase of Fellows was due to the individual exertions of the President, members of Council and other Fellows of the Institute. While the Resident Fellows have only increased by 714 in the last five years, the Non-resident Fellows have increased by 3,810. This great disparity between the increase of Resident \textit{and} Non-resident Fellows is accounted for partly by the higher rate of subscription and entrance fee paid by the former, and also because we have not yet been able to establish \textit{a complete system of recruiting} Fellows resident in the Mother Country. It will, however, be difficult to increase the number of Resident Fellows until local branches are established throughout the United Kingdom to assist in recruiting them. The result of our efforts during the last five years shows that there is no reason why the Non-resident Fellows in the Dominions, India, the Colonies, Dependencies, and especially in foreign countries, should not be increased to an indefinite extent.

The admission of Associates was approved by the Council in 1909, to assist in the formation of local branches in the United Kingdom, because it was found that the Resident Fellows would never be in sufficient numbers to form satisfactory branches. Associates are non-corporate members, who have no voice in the administration of the Institute, and cannot make use of its building, but they are given certain privileges, and, when local branches are established, will be able to join in the propaganda of the Institute as its members. This has been already shown in the case of the Bristol Branch, which has been formed and endowed with a splendid building by the energy and generosity of our esteemed Vice-President, Mr. T. J. Leonard. The number of Associates at present is 1,215, but this may be increased to an unlimited extent.

Recruiting from British subjects resident in foreign countries was commenced in 1911, and has so far resulted in an increase of over 1,000 Fellows. There is undoubtedly a great opening for the recruitment of Fellows and the formation of branches among the British residents in foreign States. Such branches would tend, as has been amply proved in the little Republic of Guatemala, to bring British residents together, and keep them in touch with the Mother Country, at the same time giving the members a place of meeting in London. Recruiting of Fellows overseas and in foreign States entails a certain amount of expenditure—not necessarily large. The results of the expenditure which has already been made have been very satisfactory. This will be seen by the large increase made in the Fellowship in 1912 and 1913, the actual increase during these two years from all sources being 2,390 Fellows and 620 Associates. The greater part of this large increase of Fellows was made by the expenditure of only £997—the cost of the Secretary’s visits to Canada and South Africa, Mr. Colquhoun’s visit to South America, and Mr. Garrison’s expenses for recruiting. The immediate increase of income derived from these 3,019 Fellows and Associates amounted to over £7,000, which shows the advantage derived from the moderate expenditure in these two years of only £997.

Let us see how we stand as regards the distribution of our members in the United Kingdom. Residing in London and its immediate neighbourhood, say, within fifty miles, there are just over 2,000 Fellows and Associates; but outside this area, including Scotland, Ireland and Wales, there are only some 1,200 Fellows and Associates— included with the latter 600 Associates of the Bristol Branch. In Scotland there are 77 Fellows and Associates; in Ireland 23, and Wales 14. Taking the counties of England, Gloucestershire is the only one that has over 100 Fellows and Associates—due to the formation of the Bristol Branch. Kent is the next highest with 96 members, most of whom are in the London area; Sussex with 68 comes next, which is partly in the London area; and Surrey with 60, entirely in the London area. In Lancashire, with a population of nearly two millions, we have 11 Fellows and 4 Associates; Manchester having only 3 Fellows and 1 Associate, and Liverpool 4 Fellows and 1 Associate.
In Yorkshire, with its population of over three millions, there are only 20 Fellows and 8 Associates, of which Leeds provides 3 Fellows and 1 Associate, and Hull 2 Fellows;
but in neither Sheffield nor Bradford is there a single representative of the Royal Colonial Institute. In Warwickshire we have 12 Fellows and 6 Associates, of which the great Imperial city of Birmingham contributes 5 Fellows and 2 Associates. The facts as regards Scotland, Ireland and Wales have been already stated—the whole membership of these parts of the United Kingdom making up a beggarly total of 114!
From this statement of the distribution of our members in the United Kingdom it is apparent that the Institute derives its support from London and the country for fifty miles around, and that from the great cities and towns of Lancashire and Yorkshire, and cities like Birmingham, Edinburgh and Glasgow, the Institute derives practically no support. Overseas nearly everywhere we have made good progress. Five years ago the Non-resident Fellows were just over 3,000; to-day they are well over 7,000.

Besides the recommendations of the Committee of 1909, the Council have taken other steps for the advancement of the work of the Institute. In 1910 it constituted a Standing Committee on Emigration at the request of all the societies engaged in emigration, which was presided over by the Duke of Marlborough as Chairman. It has founded an Empire Trade and Industry Committee, with Mr. Ben H. Morgan as Chairman, which is doing excellent work, capable of great extension. It has also enlarged the Council and added to it as Vice-Presidents members from the various Dominions. In 1912 another important step taken by the Council was when the Duke of Connaught was appointed Governor-General of Canada, and became Vice-Patron of the Institute instead of President, the Council took the opportunity of inviting Earl Grey to become its President—a position which he accepted with so much advantage to the Institute.

I have already stated that one of the most important suggestions of the Committee of 1909 was the formation of local branches throughout the Empire. It is desirable that we should clearly understand the object for which we want these branches.

Comparisons have been made between the Institute and other societies, such as the Royal Geographical Society and the Royal United Service Institution. The former of these is a scientific society for the encouragement and diffusion of the science of geography; the latter society confines its members solely to officers in the Army and Navy, who meet from time to time to discuss and hear papers read on naval and military subjects. I have been a member of both of these societies for many years, and I have not yet discovered that either of them had any political object, or that they were anything more than scientific societies formed for a definite object. On the other hand, the Royal Colonial Institute has a great political object, the "preservation of a permanent union between the Mother Country and the various parts of the Empire"; it is also a great patriotic society with an inspiring ideal, expressed by its motto "United Empire." Its political object can only be gained by pushing our propaganda, not only in the Mother Country, but among British subjects overseas and in foreign countries; and this can only be done effectively by decentralising our efforts by means of local branches wherever there are a sufficient number of members to form them. There is another and most important reason why there should be no further delay in forming local branches in the United Kingdom. It has already been shown that the influence of the Institute does not extend outside London and a small area of the Home Counties; and yet it is essential that we should largely increase our Resident Fellows and Associates, as it is only through them we derive our chief financial resources. In a population of forty-six millions in the Mother Country we are only supported by 3,000 Fellows and Associates; on the other hand, we have 7,000 Non-resident Fellows and Associates from sixteen millions of British residents overseas. The subscription paid by these Non-resident Fellows barely suffices to meet their share in the cost of the office, house, library and newspaper room, Journal and Year Book, so that the main support of the Institute must come from its members in the United Kingdom.

Recently the Council appointed an Organisation Committee to deal with this most important subject, and I feel certain that with due diligence and energy it will be able, within a reasonable time, to increase the number of Resident Fellows and Associates, while at the same time it will lose no opportunity of adding to the number of our Fellows overseas. No serious steps have yet been taken to co-ordinate the work of the Institute with that of other societies engaged in similar work, as was recommended by the Committee of 1909. What has been the cause of the multiplication of societies whose objects are the same? Can it have arisen from the possibility that this Institute has not fulfilled its mission, and that it has left openings for the formation of other societies to carry out work it should itself have undertaken? However this may be, sixteen years after the birth of the Institute the Imperial Federation League was formed “to secure by federation the permanent unity of the Empire.” Its founders were Mr. W. E. Forster, Sir Frederick Young and Sir John Colomb, all of whom were on the Council of this Institute, and, to quote the words of our first President—the late Earl of Albermarle—“the League was invented in the Colonial Institute.” In 1894 the British Empire League was founded and supported by Sir Robert Herbert, Sir Frederick Young, and other members of the Council; and its object was “to maintain and strengthen the connection between the United Kingdom and the outlying parts of the Empire.” It is difficult to understand why it was necessary for these two Leagues to be created—by members of the Council of the Institute—to do work which might well have been initiated and carried out by the Royal Colonial Institute.

In 1901—thirty-three years after the Institute was founded—the Victoria League came into existence, with the object of promoting “the closer union between British subjects living in different parts of the world,” and this was followed nine years later—in 1910—by the Overseas Club, founded to “promote the unity of the Empire”; so now there are four different societies formed to promote the same object, with practically the same motto as that of the Institute, “United Empire.” It cannot be denied that, while they may have each their special function to perform, the more these societies work together the more capable they will be of fulfilling the object which they have undertaken. If you look at the list of members on the Governing Body of these three societies, you will see many of the same names appearing in all, and it surely should not be difficult to come to an understanding, and work together for our common object. Now that Imperial feeling has been so deeply stirred by the common effort which the war has called forth from all parts of the Empire, the time seems propitious for the question to be taken up again, with a view to a closer co-operation between the different societies doing similar work.

I would specially wish to express to you how much we are indebted to some of the members of Council, and to the whole of the staff, for the work done during the last year. To Sir Godfrey Lagden for his valuable services as Deputy Chairman and while acting as Honorary Secretary in the absence of the Secretary in Australia and New Zealand. Also to Colonel H. E. Rawson, the Acting Chairman of the Emigration Committee, and Mr. Ben H. Morgan, Chairman of the Trade and Industry Committee; and to Sir Harry Wilson for his great services in connection with the Journal since the Editor's death, and also for the work he is doing as Honorary Secretary during the absence on account of illness of the Secretary; to Mr. Harry Brittain, Chairman of the Overseas Committee; and to Mr. Coleman P. Hyman, who has laboured as Honorary Secretary of the War Services Committee. I am sure also that the Council would not wish this opportunity to pass without expressing their thanks to our Secretary, Mr. Boosé, for the work he has recently done in Australia and New Zealand. I regret to say he was taken seriously ill soon after his return to this country, and, though making good progress towards recovery, is still absent from his work. To Mr. Evans Lewin, our Librarian, for the way he has carried out his duties, and the order and arrangement which he has brought about in our magnificent library; to our Chief Clerk, Mr. Chamberlain, who after forty years' service in the Institute continues to throw all his energies into his work; and to Mr. Farrow, his assistant. Nor must we overlook the services of our Lecturer, Mr. Garrison, who has delivered a most important series of lectures on the war in behalf of various charities. Finally, we must not forget the work of our Secretarial Staff, and especially that of Miss Hozier, who has proved herself during the last five years to be a most valuable servant of the Institute, and capable of carrying out much more important work than that of simply typewriting.

In conclusion, I will say, although the Institute has made great progress during the last few years, we must not remain satisfied with the result of our labours. We have succeeded in laying the foundations of a great structure, and I take this opportunity—on behalf of the Council—to make an appeal to the Fellows and Associates, and especially those resident in the United Kingdom, to do all in their power to increase our membership, so that eventually we may enrol in our ranks every Imperial-minded man and woman to assist us in the realisation of the great Imperial objects of the Royal Colonial Institute.

The President: I cannot help confiding to the members, what some of you might never have guessed from his speech, that Sir J. Bevan Edwards was in the Crimean War. His youthful appearance and heart suggest that he would be more likely to identify himself with the present war had he the opportunity.

Hon. Sir John Taverner, K.C.M.G.: I beg to second the motion. It must have been a matter of great satisfaction to Sir J. Bevan Edwards to speak of the very excellent work the Institute has carried on during his term of office. It is pleasing to us to know that Sir Charles Lucas will succeed him. I myself have had an official connection with Sir Charles Lucas for some years and know how thoroughly and deeply he is interested in the welfare of the Empire. Sir Bevan Edwards has drawn attention to the comparatively small measure of support which the Institute receives from the provinces in the Motherland. On that point I would venture to suggest that, if the Council could be induced to move about somewhat, if it could be induced to hold a meeting occasionally in Liverpool or in Manchester, or in one of the other large provincial cities, the result might be to interest the inhabitants in its work and procure for us a larger degree of support, for during my travels through the country I have never failed to find a sympathetic interest in every movement for the consolidation of the Empire. I am pleased to notice in the Report a reference to the action of the Oversea Dominions in connection with the present war. It was an historic day when Sir Edward Grey pressed the button of the Empire—the spark flashed throughout the Oversea Dominions and to every part of the world where there lived a Britisher. I am glad, indeed, to know that Mr. Harcourt, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has announced that the Government intend to allow the Oversea Dominions to have some voice in the terms of peace. That is a very wise decision. It is a pity that a like feeling did not actuate Governments in the old days, when we allowed so many Colonies to be taken from us without so much as the little finger of the British Government being raised to stop it. Time after time, as the records show, the Oversea Dominions claimed that the Pacific Islands belong properly to the Empire, and urged the British Government to take them till such time as the Oversea Dominions were strong enough to hold them themselves. We were tried very hard, but our respect and loyalty to the Mother Country never wavered, and we clung on to that part of the Empire which has responded so nobly to-day when the Union Jack is threatened by our foes. Herr Dernburg and the military despots of Germany got the greatest shock in their lives when they saw the response made to that touch of the button. It is now, forsooth, suggested that we should cease to give a preference to the Mother Country and allow Germany to pursue her policy in Africa and elsewhere. I feel sure that the Oversea Dominions are not going to stand quiet and see country that was taken in spite of their wishes handed back to our enemies. I am extremely pleased, as I have said, that the Government think the time has come when we should be recognised as part of the Empire. We are prepared to take our share of responsibility, but we want proper recognition from the Mother Country. I do not suppose there has been a time in the history of this Institute when its members had such opportunities as they have to-day of bringing about the advancement of our Empire, and I am in great hopes that our After-the-War Committee will bring forth some valuable recommendations in due course. There is a large field before them, and under our new Chairman I feel sure that this time next year we shall be able to hand down a still better record.

Mr. T. J. Lennard: I must first thank you for the honour you have accorded to Bristol by adding its representative to your list of Vice-Presidents. We have heard a good deal recently about the driving force of the Empire, but I think the remark to be applied to your President is that he is a leading force—certainly where he leads there are many willing to follow. Reference has been made to the diagram on the wall. The only complaint I make is that that diagram is not tall enough. It only provides for 20,000 members, and you have 10,000 already. The German Navy League have over 1,000,000. If Bristol can contribute 1,000 out of 10,000, I think London itself should be expected to add more largely to the Resident Fellowship. Bristol will never cost you a penny. It will, I hope, be a source of income and support during years to come. The only thing we ask from the parent Institute is some little help from the magnificent library. I hardly know what shape that help should take, but I am sure we may be helped in some way by such a magnificent storehouse of information. By its past history and present energy Bristol may be expected to do its share in Empire work. Your President has kindly promised to come down to receive the gift of the Institute on May 18, and the Lord Mayor has promised to preside, and I hope that, following that meeting, we may be able to achieve some useful work for the Empire. I thank you on behalf of Bristol.
Mr. Edward Wakefield referred to the paragraph in the Report announcing that Sir J. Bevan Edwards, among others, was retiring, pursuant to rule 7, and was not eligible for re-election as a Councillor. In his view, he said, this was a most unfortunate time to make a change in the Chairmanship of the Institute, which had entered upon perhaps the most momentous year in the whole of its history. He yielded to none in his respect for the name of Sir Charles Lucas, but he would point out that Sir J. Bevan Edwards had had great experience and that they would shortly have before them problems which not even the ablest man in the Empire would be able to help them to solve so well as Sir J. Bevan Edwards. There was no man in the Empire who had more to do with a federation of Australia. It was Sir J. Bevan Edwards who gave that immense advance in Imperial affairs its practical shape. For ten years, Mr. Wakefield said, he himself took an active part in the preliminary proceedings leading up to federation, but none of them could see their way to give the idea practical effect. Sir J. Bevan Edwards, without putting himself forward at all, showed them how to do it. Moreover he had had more to do with the question of Imperial defence than any other man. If they allowed him to leave the chair at this moment, they would be making a great mistake. The Institute ought to be prepared to extend the field of its operations to an almost illimitable extent and to face duties they had never been called upon to face before. Among the problems with which they would have to deal were the larger federation of the Empire, the extraordinary extension of the Empire which must inevitably follow the war, and the question of the hundreds of thousands of young men, soldiers and sailors, who would have to be placed on the land in the Colonies under some kind of organisation. There were many similar duties and responsibilities arising out of the war which would afford a new field for their exertions, and he should be grieved if the Institute were to abnegate its proper functions in regard to them. In the circumstances he felt that a change in Chairmanship would be a grave calamity, and he moved as an amendment: “This meeting desires to convey to the Council its high appreciation of the valuable services rendered to the Institute by Sir J. Bevan Edwards and expresses its great regret at his retirement and its hope that the Council will request him to retain office at least until the end of the war.”

Sir J. Bevan Edwards: First let me take the opportunity of thanking Mr. Wakefield for all the kind things he has said about me. The amendment he has moved is, of course, a surprise to me, but let me explain why I am leaving the Council. It does not follow I am going to leave the Institute, or to cease to help forward its work. You know the rules provide that a certain number of members of the Council shall retire every year. It is my turn, with two others, to retire this year. Quite independently of that, consider what the Chairman has said. I joined the service two or three years before the Crimean War. It was my bad luck, by the way, not to be there all the time. But that explains the reason why, even if I had wished, I could not have gone on with this work. I have had six years of very severe work indeed. It has occupied my thoughts, more or less, both night and day. Moreover, as you know, I have had a serious illness and I am only just recovering. There is a time for all things, and perhaps I can serve the Institute quite as well in some other way. I will ask Mr. Wakefield not to press his amendment, while I thank him exceedingly for his kindness.

Mr. Wakefield: It would, of course, be grossly improper for me to proceed with the amendment after what Sir J. Bevan Edwards has said, but I do not think the meeting will regret that I made the remarks I did.
Admiral Sir N. Bowden-Smith, K.C.B., was glad to hear that the Council at their next meeting proposed to elect Sir J. Bevan Edwards a Vice-President. It would be a still greater compliment, he thought, if the present meeting were to elect him. As it was at his suggestion some years ago that Sir J. Bevan Edwards was elected Chairman of the Council, he thought he was a very proper man to make this proposal. He might add one other thing, viz., that while Sir J. Bevan Edwards served his country in the Crimea, he (Sir N. Bowden-Smith) saw active service even before the outbreak of that war.

Mr. J. Munford regretted to learn from the Report that the propaganda work so ably carried on by Mr. H. Garrison was to be suspended owing to the exigencies of the war. He understood that in one week Mr. Garrison had delivered seven lectures, travelling 1,600 miles for the purpose, and by this time he would have given his hundredth lecture since last spring. In addition, Mr. Garrison had been successful in collecting a large number of recruits and large sums for the war funds. He believed that Mr. Garrison had induced a large number of persons to join the Institute, and, as mentioned in the Report, Sir Edward Hutton spoke in glowing terms of the lectures Mr. Garrison had given to the troops under his command. In view of the pernicious doctrines which had been taught, not only in Germany, but even in some quarters of this country, he proposed that the Council should be requested to give this matter their earnest attention.

The President stated that the Council had appointed a Committee which would shortly present its report to go thoroughly into the subject of lectures given under the auspices of the Institute.

Captain Charles Slack suggested a further enlargement of the Journal with an increased number of illustrations and maps. The increase in the size of the Journal would no doubt, under present conditions, entail extra charges for posting, but he hoped that something might be done to persuade the Government to allow such literature to go to the Colonies at cheaper rates. He understood that the United Service Institution received a grant from the Government of £500, and the Royal Geographical Society a grant of £1,250, and he asked why they could not get some grant from the Government for the Royal Colonial Institute.

The President: Captain Slack’s very valuable suggestion with regard to the Journal will receive very careful consideration. But as to the suggestion that we should go on our knees to the Government for a grant, I would rather cut off both my hands than make such a request. I maintain that we can get all the revenue we want from the spontaneous gifts of the Empire, and that what we have to do is to increase our membership.

Mr. D. Hope Johnston reminded the meeting that he had taken a special interest in the social life of the Institute and had suggested the formation of a Social Committee. He cordially recognised the support the Council had given to that scheme. It had resulted in a considerable increase of visitors on the days they held their meetings. While they were already doing a good deal in this direction he thought this was one of the channels through which the membership could be largely increased. He had a good deal of experience in introducing visitors and showing them over the building. There ought to be no such thing in London as a lonely colonial. While the Institute was sociable once a week, they were not nearly so sociable any other day, and he did not think that ought to be at a time like the present.

Mr. John Hughes felt gratified at the increased membership, but unfortunately, he said, this increase had been accompanied by a decrease of receipts. Two years ago a small meeting adopted a proposal that Associates should be elected on payment of £1 a year. The effect of that proposal was now being felt. It was clearly impossible that a subscription of £1 a year could be remunerative to the Institute, considering that that subscription covered the magazine, the privilege of attending the meetings, and refreshments. The present system introduced a sort of division between the members that was most unusual. For these reasons he urged that the Council should consider the advisability of reverting to the former conditions of things.

Mr. E. H. Turnbull called attention to the fact that the Council had allowed the Secretary to leave for six months in order to go on a mission to Australia. It was, in his opinion, a great mistake to allow so important a person as the Secretary to be away for so long a period. He himself had always found the Secretary a very busy man, and he did not see how he could possibly be spared for a whole six months. It was true they had had the services of an Honorary Secretary, but they could not expect an Honorary Secretary to give the time and service given by a paid officer. The Secretary of an institution like that was a very important person. He thought the Council should take a broadminded view of this matter. If they were to give a salary of from £1,500 to £2,000 a year, they would be able to get the services of a really active, competent and progressive man.

The President: I can assure Mr. Turnbull that when he requires a good Secretary he would be lucky if he got for £2,000 the same value as Sir Harry Wilson is giving the Institute for nothing.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

Mr. Ralph S. Bond: The Council have for some considerable time been very carefully considering the question of how to increase the Institute premises, for, owing to the gratifying progress that the Institute has made in recent years, the office accommodation afforded by our existing building has already become insufficient, and it is evident that in the very near future it will become absolutely necessary to provide more accommodation for the staff if the work of the Institute is to be conducted in an efficient manner. We found that we could not extend in the direction of the Embankment, as the property on that side of the Institute is not for sale. On the other side of our premises there is a very fine building, namely, No. 21, Northumberland Avenue, but the price which we understand would be accepted for that building at the present time is excessive, and would involve the expenditure of a very considerable sum of money, which would be beyond the means of the Institute. It may be that in a few years, if the membership of the Institute continues to increase, it will be possible to consider the acquisition of this property with a view to embarking on a large rebuilding scheme for the erection of a really fine building, worthy of the Institute; but that is for the future. An opportunity has, however, occurred of acquiring the premises immediately adjoining the rear of the Institute premises and fronting Craven Street. The property consists of Nos. 16 to 20, Craven Street, and has a frontage of 121 feet, running from the rear of our premises to the corner of Craven Passage. Nos. 16 and 17 are old buildings, let on short tenancies, and are immediately behind the Turkish baths. Nos. 18 and 19, which are immediately behind No. 21, Northumberland Avenue, have been amalgamated into one building, now known as No. 19. These, with No. 20, which is immediately behind part of our own building and, therefore, abuts on our premises, are let on lease, but an arrangement has been made whereby possession could be had on giving six months' notice. Nos. 19 and 20 are larger houses than Nos. 16 and 17 and substantially built, and could easily be adapted for offices for our staff at a comparatively moderate cost, communicating doors being made from our present building into No. 20. We could in this way make use of both houses or only one as necessity required. The net income to be derived from the whole of the premises, after deducting all outgoings, is £651 per annum.

Now as to the price. When these negotiations were started in 1913 the South Eastern and Chatham Railway Company, who are the owners of the freehold, asked £16,275. The Council then consulted the eminent surveyors, Messrs. Geo. Head & Co., and throughout the negotiations the Council have been guided by their advice. The Council made an offer of £15,000, which was refused. It was then found that the tenants of Nos. 19 and 20 were also in the field as purchasers and were bidding against us. Eventually we went to £17,000, but still did not get the property which went to the other bidders. This was shortly before the war. The other bidders, however, did not proceed with their purchase, and a few weeks ago we were again approached by the railway company, who offered us the freehold at our original figure of £15,000, or a building lease at a ground rent of £650 a year. The Council obtained a short option and again went into the matter very carefully, consulting the surveyors again, particularly having regard to the altered circumstances due to the war. Shortly, what we were advised by the surveyors was that, if we wished either now or hereafter to extend our premises, this was an opportunity that should not be missed, and that, if we did let it slip and allow the premises to pass into other hands, we should find, if hereafter we wished to buy the premises, that it would be a much more difficult and costly undertaking, for there would be other interests to buy out. We endeavoured to get a further reduction from the railway company, but they were not prepared to make any further abatement in the price, and were in a position to be quite firm, as we were informed they had received offers from two other parties, who were willing to take the premises on building lease, one party having offered £675 per annum by way of ground rent, which was more than the ground rent the railway company had asked from us in the event of our taking the property on lease. The Council, therefore, decided to purchase the property, subject to the approval of the Fellows being obtained to-day to the raising of the money by way of mortgage.

The property is freehold, but there is one point I think I should mention. The property, together with all the other houses in Craven Street which are owned by the railway company—practically the entire street—is subject to a rentcharge of £11,000 per annum in perpetuity, which was created when the railway company purchased the property from the Craven Estate. The rentcharge is secured upon a large amount of property, of which the premises we are buying only forms a very small part, and it is also a first charge upon the rates and tolls of the railway. The railway company are prepared to covenant to pay the rentcharge and to give the Institute a full and complete indemnity against it. It will, however, technically remain a charge on the property, but Mr. Geo. Head has advised us that, so far as actual value is concerned, he is of opinion that the existence of the rentcharge makes little or no difference. There is, however, the point that, should we at any time wish to dispose of the property, the existence of this rentcharge might have a deterrent effect. Mr. Head is, however, of opinion that the advantages which would accrue to us from the acquisition of the property outweigh any possible disadvantages which might arise owing to the existence of the rentcharge. I have here a very full report from Mr. Head, but I will only read you the concluding paragraph. He says:

"After a careful consideration of the whole matter the conclusion I have arrived at is that the Council have been very wise in deciding to avail themselves of this opportunity, and that if they had neglected to do so, they would probably at some future time, should they then have been anxious to purchase, have had to pay a considerably larger sum in order to fulfil their wishes."

Now it may be said that this is not a time to buy property or to borrow money. In a general way I agree, but in this particular case the answer is: First, we are getting the property for £2,000 less than we were prepared to give for it prior to the war. That is a very considerable reduction. Secondly, it is a case of now or never, for if we do not buy now the property will pass into other hands and be rebuilt. Thirdly, the acquisition of this property will increase the value of the present Institute building, and in the same way the new premises, when added to our present property, will immediately become of more value than it owned separately. In other words, the conjunction of the two properties in one ownership puts up the value of both, and Mr. Head advises us that the value of the whole would exceed that of the two parts taken separately by at least 10 per cent. in his opinion. Fourthly, the property, by reason of its position, is the key to the larger properties, No. 21, Northumberland Avenue and the Turkish baths, and to a large extent controls those properties if at any time we should wish to purchase either or both and embark on a large rebuilding scheme. The Council, therefore, have no hesitation in recommending the purchase, and they hope it will meet with your approval.

With regard to the mortgage, we are asking leave to borrow up to £20,000. We do not propose to borrow the whole of this at once, but in the first place to obtain an advance of £16,000 to enable us to complete the purchase and pay the expenses incidental thereto, but we propose to arrange for the right to draw a further £4,000, if and when required, to meet contingencies either in connection with this new property or for the general purposes of the Institute. The mortgage will be secured on the present Institute building only. The security is ample, as we have, of course, a very valuable property. We have negotiations on foot in two or three quarters for the loan and the money has been offered us at 5 per cent., or at 4½ per cent. if coupled with a capital redemption policy, and we hope that it may be possible to arrange for it at 4½ per cent. if a capital redemption policy be taken out providing for the repayment of the loan in thirty years. This, however, is a matter which I think you may safely leave in the hands of the Council. You may rest assured that the Council will arrange the loan on the best terms possible.

I, therefore, now beg to move:—

"That the approval of the Fellows be granted, in accordance with Clause XI. of the Charter, to the raising of a loan, not exceeding £20,000, by a mortgage upon the Institute building on such terms as the Council may approve, for the purchase of Nos. 16 to 20, Craven Street, W.C., and expenses incidental thereto, including necessary alterations and repairs, and for the general purposes of the Institute."
Mr. A. Moor Radford seconded the resolution and said that he had not the slightest doubt that when the purchase was completed the value of the property as a whole would be greatly enhanced.

The President said the resolution was the outcome of deliberate consideration by the Council.

The resolution was agreed to.

Sir Harry Wilson moved a resolution deleting rule 37 and substituting the following:—

“There shall be six permanent working Committees of Council, namely:—

(1) Finance and General Purposes.
(2) Organisation.
(3) Library.
(4) House and Social.
(5) Emigration.
(6) Trade and Industry.”

He explained that the alteration was due to some extent to the increased activities of the Institute. The new House and Social Committee would undertake the supervision of the Institute’s domestic economy and social activities. With regard to the social work of the Institute, he said they were greatly indebted to the efforts of Mr. Hope Johnston, who suggested at the last Annual Meeting the formation of the Social Committee. If this feature of the Institute’s work could be extended nobody would be better pleased than himself. Mr. Coleman P. Hyman had also proved an efficient Honorary Secretary of the Social Committee.

The resolution was seconded by Captain Slack and agreed to.

The meeting confirmed the appointments of Vice-Presidents and Councillors made during the past year in accordance with rule 6, and re-elected the President, Vice-Presidents, Councillors and Treasurer, as recommended by the Council. Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co. were appointed Auditors.

On the motion of Admiral Sir N. Bowden-Smith, Lieut.-General Sir J. Bevan Edwards was elected a Vice-President.

Sir J. Bevan Edwards: I am extremely obliged to you. Nothing will give me greater pleasure than to devote the rest of my energies as far as possible to furthering the interests of the Institute.

On the motion of Colonel Rawson, seconded by Mr. E. L. Martin, a vote of thanks was given to the Honorary Treasurer and to the Honorary Corresponding Secretaries for their services during the past year.

A vote of thanks was also given, on the motion of Mr. F. Dutton, to Earl Grey for presiding and for his services to the Institute.

(Works, Acton, London, W.) 14. NEW BURLINGTON ST., LONDON, W.
ROYAL COLONIAL INSTITUTE.

OBJECTS AND CONSTITUTION.

The Royal Colonial Institute is established to provide a place of meeting for all gentlemen connected with the Colonies and British India, and others taking an interest in Colonial and Indian affairs; to establish a Reading-room and a Library, in which recent and authentic intelligence upon Colonial and Indian subjects may be constantly available, and a Museum for the collection and exhibition of Colonial and Indian productions; to facilitate interchange of experiences amongst persons representing all the Dependencies of Great Britain; to afford opportunities for the reading of Papers, and for holding discussions upon Colonial and Indian subjects generally; to undertake scientific, literary and statistical investigations in connection with the British Empire; and to promote permanent union between the Mother Country and the various parts of the British Empire. But no Paper shall be read, nor any discussion be permitted to take place, tending to give to the Institute a party character.

MEMBERSHIP.

The membership comprises Resident Fellows (i.e., resident in the United Kingdom); Non-resident Fellows (i.e., resident outside the United Kingdom). To these have lately been added Associates, a connection which is open to either sex, but which is restricted for the present, as regards Men Associates, to the United Kingdom. Resident Fellows pay Entrance Fee £3 and Subscription £2. Non-resident Fellows pay Entrance Fee £1 1s. (which is increased to £3 when taking up permanent residence in the United Kingdom, except for those Fellows of more than fifteen years standing or upwards), and Subscription £1 1s. (which is increased to £2 when in the United Kingdom for twelve months). Associates pay no Entrance Fee; Subscription £1. Resident Fellows may compound for life at £20, or after five years' Annual Subscriptions of £2 on payment of £15. Non-Resident Fellows may compound for life at £10, or after the payment of twenty or more Annual Subscriptions on payment of £5. Associates may compound for life at £10.

LIBRARY.

The Library, already containing 101,000 volumes, is the finest of its kind in the world, and now includes a separate Law Library and a Parliamentary Library which are extensively utilised by visitors from all parts of the Empire. Fellows may borrow books from the Library.

NEWSPAPERS.

The Newspaper Room likewise contains an unique collection, having on its stands and tables some 900 newspapers, magazines and other periodicals from all quarters of the Empire.

(Extract from "Times" review, 18th February, 1915.)

"The present Monograph has been awarded the first place in the first competition—the final decision resting with Lord Milner. It deals with the subject under the headings of 'Historical Examples,' and 'Tendencies of the Age'—with the broad general conclusion that 'commercial co-operation is an indispensable condition of defensive co-operation.' An appendix analyses 'possible methods of commercial co-operation,' and lays stress on the need of ignoring, in such an enquiry, all arguments concerning Protection and Retaliation."
